Roberta Henriquez Celebrated

Ferry Council chamber, one of the longest serving Council members (10 terms) in Bergen County, Roberta Henriquez concluded decades of public office at the Sin Die meeting on Friday, January 5, 2018. Calling her the conscience of the Council, Mayor Mauro Raguseo provided a glimpse of her life and contribution to Little Ferry.

Roberta E. Henriquez grew up in the Borough of Little Ferry with her Mom, Dad and sisters, Jessica and Kandy and attended Wilson and Ridgefield Park High Schools.

At a time when girls' sports programs were not yet estab-

Before a packed Little lished, Roberta achieved great success in inter-mural sports and was the recipient of the mbers (10 terms) in Bergen Girls' Athletic Award.

Roberta's innate intelligence, intuitive nature and magnetic personality led her to attain professional success working in New York City and later for the Borough of Little Ferry where she learned about municipal government and accounting.

In March of 1971, Roberta met Phil and they were married on February 21, 1972.

In 1982, Roberta was named Board Secretary and Assistant to the School Business Administrator for Hasbrouck Heights Board of Education. Service to her community quickly became a source of energy and pride. Roberta presided over the Junior Women's Club, Women's Club and a member of the VFW, American Legion Ladies Auxiliary and the Little Ferry Lions Club.

The desire to improve educational opportunities for the children of Little Ferry, Roberta, ran and was elected to the Little Ferry Board of Education in 1982, serving 6 years as a member and Board President.

Roberta was first elected as a proud member of the Democratic Party to the Little Ferry Borough Council in November of 1987 and was sworn in to office in January 1988 and she was subsequently re-elected in 1990, 1993, 1996, 1999, 2002, 2005, 2008, 2011, and 2014.

During Roberta's 30 year distinguished tenure as an elected official, she served as Council President, Chairperson for the Departments of Finance, Personnel, Insurance, Building and Grounds, Shade Tree, DPW, Senior Citizens and Emergency Services. Roberta also served as Council representative to the Library Board, First Aid Corps, Planning Board, Board of Adjustment, and Hackensack Meadowlands Municipal Committee.

According to her peers, never did Roberta give less than 110% to her community with her considerable accomplishments and achievements; made a positive impact on not only those she served, but also set a high standard of conduct for all current and future elected officials to follow.

Roberta's guidance, wisdom and accomplishments will always be honored and remembered by her colleagues and the residents of her community. Following the Mayor's remarks, Council members expressed their admiration. Presentations were made to include Senator Paul Sarlo and Assemblywoman Marlene Caride, Bergen County officials, Fire Department Chiefs, Police Department, previous Mayors, appointed officials, etc.

The Borough of Little Ferry Mayor and Council, then dedicated the Conference Room adjacent to the Council Chambers as the Roberta E. Henriquez Conference Room.

Valentine's Day Romantic Libation

If there was ever a holiday made for drinking wine, it's Valentine's Day! Champagne is the classic choice, but the richness and depth of flavor in red wines capture the soul and spirit of true romance. What kind of couple are you and your honey? Here are some recommendations based on your romance style!

For the Romantics: Ama-

Amarone is an Italian wine made in the Veneto region of Italy from Corvina and Rondinella grapes. What makes a beautiful Amarone so rich, luscious, and powerful is that after harvest, the grapes are dried all winter, which concentrates their sugars and flavors. Amarone is vinified dry, this is not a dessert wine, but there's no mistaking the depth of flavor, velvety texture, and juicy dark fruit flavors that are purely luxurious. Look for Amarone that has a little age on it, and open it about an hour before pouring. The best ones can be expensive, but your valentine is worth a splurge!

For the Classic Couple: Bordeaux

What red wine is more classic than Bordeaux? These wines are various blends of the five "Bordeaux varietals": Cabernet Sauvignon, Cabernet Franc, Merlot, Petite Verdot and Malbec. Bordeaux is so classic that it's become a brand name driven by notoriously high prices from the top chateaux, but there are still affordable discoveries to be made. Look out for the Merlot-based wines from Fronsac, Cotes de Blaye, and Cotes de Castillon.

For the Desirous Duo: Look to Spain

Turn it up with a sexy, spicy red! There's just something about all Flamenco guitars and bullfighting that makes Spain a very sultry destination, and its wines are no exception to the rule. Look for wines made from grapes like Tempranillo, Garnacha, and Mencia. Ole!

For the Adventurous Couple: Lambrusco

Lambrusco is the best of both worlds, all the fun and festivity of a sparkling wine with the lively dark fruits of a nice red. Plus, it's inexpensive, so stock up! Served chilled, it's fabulous with a great cheese board and really amazing with all things chocolate!

Whichever one you pick simply remember to enjoy the time you spend together and enjoy the company and of course the wine.

Happy Valentine's Day from the Wine Guys. President Angel Martinez and Vice President Philip Miuccio, American Wine Society, hope to see you at the next meeting, Friday February 23, 2018, 6:45 p.m. to 9 p.m. Make Wine with Us Winery located at 21 Currie Ave Wallington, NJ (about one mile from Giants Stadium) Meadowlands please RSVP to: Angel Martinez at wineclub201@gmail.com 201-406-7912 Members pay $15! Share The Love

Would you like to remember a special someone this Valentine's Day?

The Guild of Reformed Church Women invites you to share your feelings and at the same time show your caring by signing their special Valentine and making a donation to the Friendly Neighbors.

This is a good time for sharing your love, as well as sending a message of love to others who need to feel that others care.

The card is posted in Hoffman Hall of First Reformed Church through February 12, 2018.

If you cannot make it to the Church, you may mail your message (which will be added to the card) and donation payable to Friendly Neighbors, c/o Women's Guild of the First Reformed Church, P. O. Box 66, Hasbrouck Heights, by February 10, 2018. For further information, call the Church at 201-288-1122 or Estella at 201-288-0378. ###

Approximately 145 million valentines are sent in the U.S. each year according to estimates by the U.S. Greeting Card Association. That's second only to Christmas with 1.6 billion units, and is followed by Mother's Day with 133 million units. ###

Necco Sweethearts a.k.a. conversation hearts were invented in 1866.

Each box has approximately 45 sayings — including "True Love," "Hug Me," and "You Rock," but you can personalize your own, too. And about 10 new sayings are added each year.

More than 8 billion conversation hearts are manufactured each year. And Necco has to start making them just days after February 14 to have enough in time for the next Valentine's

That's almost 100,000 pounds per day. But don't worry if you still have last year's box — they have a shelf life of five years. ###

Squadron 310 Valentine's Party

On February 10, 2018, American Legion Post 310, located at 100 Liberty Street, Little Ferry, will host a Valentine's Fundraiser Party starting at 7 p.m. All proceed go to Veterans and Children's programs.

Food, beer, wine and soda will be served. Tickets are $20. Advance sales only, no tickets will be sold at the door or on the day of the event. Music by DJ Jack Jam. Every lady gets a rose! Any questions, call 201-807-0470. ###

In the Middle Ages, young men and women drew names from a bowl to see who would be their Valentine. They would wear this name pinned onto their sleeves for one week for everyone to see. This was the origin of the expression "to wear your heart on your sleeve." ###

Selecting The Right Valentine Gift

Finding the right Valentine's Day gift is probably the most difficult shopping experience in any man's life.

A Valentine's Day gift is instrumental in revitalizing the bond between a duo.

The gift evokes the memories of the moments of love and affection which both have experienced. And it reminds the couple of the unconditional love which exists between them.

This year, show your Sweetheart how much she means to you by giving her a gift from the heart.

Remember that the Valentine's theme is all about love, romance and appreciation.

Teachers will receive the most Valentine's Day cards, followed by children, mothers, wives, sweethearts and pets. ###

The nature of the gift can reflect how much you care. The meaning of your gift also varies according to the seriousness and the type of relationship you're in.

If you've gone out with her a few times, the level of commitment is low, and you're simply having a lot of fun. What do you buy her?

Buying her a Valentine card, flowers or candy is acceptable for this early stage in a relationship.

On the other hand, if the relationship is strong and its future seems bright, opt for a more original present.

Think about what she appreciates the most and what she has mentioned over the past few weeks, or get her something that relates to her hobbies and interests. The key is to show that you put some thought into the gift. ###

All About Valentine's Day

The story of Valentine's Day begins in the third century with an oppressive Roman Emperor and a humble Christian martyr. The Emperor was Claudius II. The Christian was Valentinus Valentinus.

Claudius had ordered all Romans to worship twelve Gods, and he made it a crime punishable by death to associate with Christians. But, Valentinus was dedicated to the ideals of Christ, and not even the threat of death could keep him from practicing his beliefs. He was arrested and imprisoned.

During the last weeks of Valentinus' life a remarkable thing happened. Seeing that he was a man of learning, the jailer asked whether his daughter, Julia, might be brought to Valentinus for lessons. She had been blind since birth. Julia was a pretty young girl with a quick mind. Valentinus read stories of Rome's history to her.

He described the world of nature to her. He taught her arithmetic and told her about God. She saw the world through his eyes, trusted in his wisdom, and found comfort in his quiet strength.

"Valentinus, does God really hear our prayers?" Julia said one day.

"Yes, my child, He hears each one," he replied.

"Do you know what I pray for every morning and every night? I pray that I might see. I want so much to see everything you've told me about!"

"God does what is best for us if we will only believe in Him," Valentinus said.

"Oh, Valentinus, I do believe," Julia said intensely.

"I do." She knelt and grasped his hand.

They sat quietly together, each praying, Suddenly there was a brilliant light in the cell. Radient, Julia screamed, "Valentinus, I can see!" I can see!"

"Praise be to God!" Valentinus exclaimed, and he knelt in prayer.

On the eve of his death Valentinus wrote a last note to Julia, urging her to stay close to God, and he signed it "From Your Valentine." His sentence was carried out the next day, February 14, 270 A.D., near a gate that was later named Porta Valentini in his memory. He was buried at what is now the Church of Prexedes in Rome.

It is said that Julia herself planted a pink-blossomed almond tree near his grave. Today, the almond tree remains a symbol of abiding love. On each February 14, St. Valentine's Day, messages of affection and devotion are exchanged around the world. Story by Peter Gallo Jr. ###

Eight from Otterstedt Awarded MEL Accreditation

Seventy-seven Risk Managers throughout New Jersey have been awarded accreditation by the New Jersey Municipal Excess Liability Joint Insurance Fund (MEL).

Risk Managers are licensed insurance agents who are retained by towns and local authorities to advise them on insurance, claims and safety.

We are proud to announce the following individuals who completed the course and are considered MEL Accredited Risk Management Consultants:

• Ezio I. Altamura, AAI, CIC, CWCP, NJWCP (student and course instructor), Kim Cosimano, Joseph Gentile, CIC, Mathew McArow, Mathew McArow, Jr., Anna McNerney, ACSR, Anthony Sorrentino, CIC and Jacky Wienclaw

To be accredited by the MEL, a risk manager must complete four all-day sessions over a six-month period with a total of 28 hours of classroom instruction. Topics include a wide range of issues including basic risk management, governance of a local governmental entity, operation of a joint insurance fund, New Jersey Workers' Compensation and Liability law, and the Local Ocial's Ethics Act.

The purpose of the MEL's Accreditation program is to assure that risk managers serving local government meet the highest standards. Professionals who successfully complete the program may use the designation "MEL Accredited Risk Management Consultant."

The MEL is a unique program because it is owned by its members that comprise almost 65% of municipalities and local authorities in New Jersey. The risk managers continue to play an important part in the $3 billion in taxpayer savings achieved by the MEL since the program's beginning in 1987.

Filling You In

By Jeffrey E. Mason, D.M.D.

Diabetes and Your Mouth

According to the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, diabetes affects nearly 24 million people in the United States. The Academy of General Dentistry (AGD) encourages those with diabetes to pay extra attention to their oral health.

Studies have shown that those with diabetes are more susceptible to the development of oral infections and periodontal (gum) disease than those who do not have diabetes.

In addition, oral infections tend to be more severe in people with diabetes than in those who do not have the condition.

Because diabetes reduces the body's resistance to infection, the gums are at risk for gingivitis, an inflammation usually caused by the presence of bacteria in plaque.

Plaque is the sticky film that accumulates on teeth both above and below the gum line. It is important to maintain regular dental examinations and preventive treatments to reduce the incidence of gingival (periodontal) infections.

The established connection between oral health and systemic health suggests that diet and exercise may be the most important changes that people with diabetes can make to improve their quality of life and oral health.

People with diabetes should be sure that their medical and dental care providers are aware of their medical history and periodontal status.

To keep teeth and gums strong, people with diabetes should be aware of their blood sugar levels and have their triglycerides and cholesterol levels checked on a regular basis, as these factors may have a direct correlation with their risk for gum disease.

It is recommended that patients with diabetes schedule their dental appointments for the morning hours, because blood glucose levels tend to be under better control at that time of day. Patients should eat and take their medications as directed prior to a dental appointment. Source: Academy of General Dentistry. ###

Health the Topic at Seniors' Meeting

Pharmacist and educator, Justin Di Pisa, was the guest at the Leisure Club meeting held on January 10, 2018. His topic was "Live better, live longer and add 5 years on your life."

The focus of his presentation was the use of Synapsin Methylcobalamin Nasal Spray, which is a purer form of vitamin B12. As we age, our body's ability to absorb B12 slows down. We need this vitamin. Memory impairment is a consequence of a decline of B12 in our bodies.

The eighty-two members who attended the program received an apple as well as a brochure discussing the nasal spray. PG. ###

THE GAZETTE NEWSPAPER

Celebrating the Community Experience

Carlstadt Senior Friendship Club

Members of the Carlstadt Senior Friendship Club had a fun, eventful year capped off at the last meeting of 2017 with a visit from the Art Teacher at Carlstadt Public School. Some 7th and 8th Grade helpers along with a few aides to "teach some old dogs, a new trick." Some had been skeptical about doing an art project, but it turned out to be a lot of fun. Members were even overheard at the supermarket talking about their snowman paintings.

Some other activities included monthly bus trips, traveling as far away as Lancaster, PA, to see a "Sight and Sound" performance and closer to home for lunch and a show at both the Stony Hill Inn and the Brownstone. Also enjoyed a summer picnic at Krucker's in Pomona, NY, and a day at the Sands in PA.

Twice a month, thanks to the Arts Access Program at BergenPac, members attended concerts in Englewood enjoying shows that ran the gauntlet from Motown to classical music to Broadway stars and from magic to the circus, all at no cost and with a bus and driver provided by the Borough of Carlstadt.

At semi-monthly meetings, besides lively Bingo games, they had demonstrations on how to make the perfect meatball, visits from entertainers, and an art appraiser, Bergen County senior services, the Canine unit and our own police officers. they also had monthly blood pressure screening.

Let's not forget the special events such as the Veterans' Day luncheon, which was open to all Carlstadt Veterans. They also had a Valentine's Day breakfast, a social hour dedicated to their 90-year-old members along with the annual Anniversary and Christmas

Thanks to Bruce Young, outgoing President, for his innovative leadership and welcome to Carole Grochowski, new President. ###

W-R Girl Scouts NNJ Share the Holiday Spirit

December brings many opportunities to help our community. On December 1, 2017, Junior Girl Scout Troop 95524 entertained our Senior neighbors at the annual Mayor's Pasta Dinner and held a raffle of prizes which they prepared, along with lovely candle decorations. Santa chocolates created by Senior Troop 582 and peppermint hearts made by Senior Troop 585, were also distributed to the guests.

Junior Girl Scout Troop 95825 sponsored this year's GS Tree Lighting. The tree commemorates Girl Scouts and Leaders past and present. Counting down from 10 the tree glowed in GS green. Carols were sung, the girls then retreated to the WR Civic Center with their pantry donations for neighbors and the Church of the Assumption of Our Blessed Lady Parish. Crafts, activities and a surprise visit from Santa! Hot Cocoa and cupcakes provided by Kearny Bank added a warm and yummy touch.

Cadette GS Troops 94037 and 94454 took on the task of collecting coats in cooperation with the Producers Guild of America East and Film Good Do Good.

Much thanks to our friends and neighbors who were very generous.

The GSNNJ Cookie Sale began on January 13, 2018. Please support this campaign which helps Girls learn life skills, such as goal setting, decision making, money management, people skills, and business ethics, while earning funds to help neighbors near and far.

Masonic Recognition Sunday at the Carlstadt First Presbyterian Church

The history between the Carlstadt First Presbyterian Church and Eclipse Lodge No. 259 dates back over 91 years to May 1, 1926, the date that Eclipse Lodge was constituted.

One of our Charter Members and our first Chaplain was Reverend Brother Ferdinand Kohler, Pastor of the Carlstadt First Presbyterian Church. Following in Rev. Br. Kohler's Masonic footsteps were Rev. Br. E. William Geitner, Rev. Br. William G. Doxey, Jr. and currently Rev. Brother Donald M. Pitches, all of whom served as Chaplains of the Lodge.

On Sunday, November 5, 2017, Worshipful Brother Christopher N. White and members of Eclipse Lodge No. 259, F. & A.M., gathered at the Carlstadt First Presbyterian Church to celebrate Masonic Recognition Sunday Service.

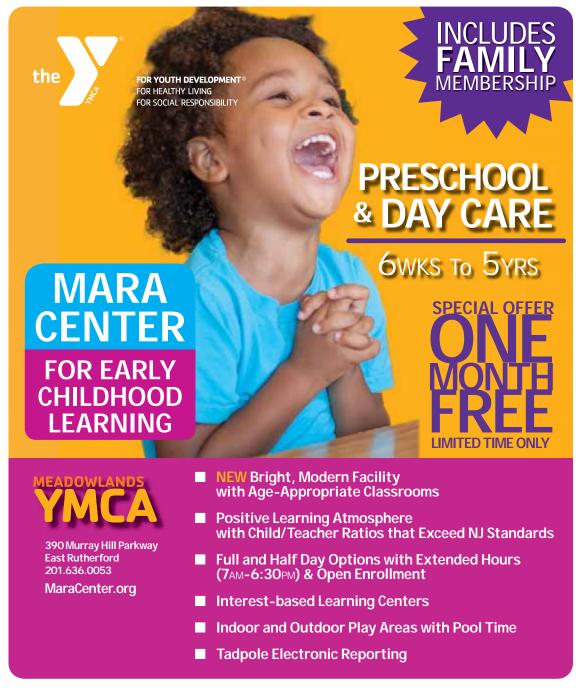

This Church service has been an annual event between the Church and Eclipse Lodge for some 20 years and wasstarted by WB Walter A. Siri, PM and Reverend Brother Donald Pitches.

What makes this Church service so special is that all parts are performed by Masons, from the Call to Worship to the serving of Holy Communion.

This year's service was even more meaningful as the members of Eclipse Lodge dedicated a monument in the Church's courtyard in honor of the Pastors of the Church who were members of Eclipse Lodge and served as Chaplains of the Lodge. Many thanks to the Monument Committee: WB Walter Siri, PM, RW Walter Siri, Jr., PGC, WB Christopher White, Sitting Master, Br. Robert Flick and Br. Andrew Donaldson, job well done!

The picture above was taken at this year's Palisades District Art Festival at the Paramus Woman's Club recently. Two members from the GFWC-Contemporary Club of Hasbrouck Heights and 2 members from the Lyndhurst Women's Club did a dance routine called: "The Palisades District Walkers" and won among eight other acts. They will now get a chance to do it at the NJSFWC convention at the Golden Nugget Casino in May.

The performers' names from left to right are Rosemary Woodruff, Rose McGuigan, Dorothy Bernice and Pat Link. Of course when doing it in May they will make a couple of changes more for the Spring! The person in charge of the event was another member of the GFWC-Contemporary Club, Marge Heeren and she and her committee did a terrific job! Congratulations, on a job well done!

It was a fabulous day and everyone had a great time! Provided by Patricia Link. ###

Cub Scout Bake-off

On Nov. 10, 2017, Cub Scout Pack 183 held their annual Bake-Off.

The rules were simple: Just as in past years, with adult supervision, the Cub Scouts baked a cake and decorated the cake at home.

The mothers of the Cub Scouts cleaned up the mess when the Scouts were finished baking.

Some fathers helped the Scouts bake. (No fathers admitted to helping clean up, but we think that was just to keep expectations low.)

This year's judges were from the VFW Post 3616 Auxiliary. They were Mary Donovan, Lois Hornig, Robin Mango, Tammy Eileen Martin, Madeline Spies, and Jan West.

The room was abuzz with Cub Scouts (and brothers and sisters) running around, excited about the contest. Each cake was numbered as it came in, and each Scout ran off after getting his cake number.

Fourteen cakes were baked, each decorated beautifully. The judges had a hard time deciding the winner in each category. And, to make it even harder for the judges, the final category was Best Tasting. ###

Each judge tasted each cake (one of the adult leaders helped taste the cakes, but he didn't get to decide which tasted the best).

And the winners were: Best Scout Spirit, Karsten Best Sport Theme, Will Best Town Spirit, Marco Best Holiday Theme, Tyler Most Patriotic, Lucien

My Sister's Choice, Karsten

Judge's Choice, Henry And the winner for best tasting, Mateo!

Cub Scouts are open for Kindergarten through Fifth Grade students.

If you have a son who would like to be a Cub Scout, please contact Barry Goldman at 201-507-1708. Provided by Cub Scout Pack 183. ###

On January 1, 2018, at the Borough of Wood-Ridge reorganization meeting, the Pledge of Allegiance was led by the attending Cub Scout Pack 183. ###

Wallington Family Science Night

Thanks to Donald Nuckel, 100 students and their families recently took part in a Family Science Night at the Frank W. Gavlak School. Funded entirely by Donald Nuckel, through the Better Education Starts Today (BEST) initiative, the program is offered at no cost to parents and the Wallington School District.

The December 12, 2017 event, entitled "Astronomical Wonders," was the first in a series of six Family Science Nights planned for the 2017-2018 school year for students in Grades K-5. Those in attendance had the opportunity to view the night sky in a blow-up Star Lab Planetarium and create a glitter galaxy and star chart to take home.

The goal of the program is to bring parents and children together to experience the wonders of science and the world around us. "This is a great opportunity for us to get more involved with our kids," added Rebecca Sanchez, a parent who attended the event with her daughter Arianna. "Children don't often show a lot of interest in science but this changes their perspective on the subject."

Barbara Sondej, Wallington's Supervisor of Curriculum, says Family Science Nights provide valuable handson experiences in an informal setting. All activities align with state and district goals for science and career awareness. "We are hoping this program will help open the student's eyes to possible careers in science," added Sondej.

The Family Science Nights are led by Angela Cristini, an Assistant Vice President at Ramapo College and Director of Educational Activities at the Meadowlands Environmental Center. "Wallington is a district in need. But, thanks to the ongoing support from Mr. Nuckel, the students here are receiving top-notch science education," said Cristini.

Nuckel also provides funding for students in Grades K-6 to visit the Meadowlands Environmental Center several times throughout the year.

"We are truly grateful to Mr. Nuckel for providing these wonderful programs," said Nancy Giambrone, principal of the Frank W. Gavlak School. "Without his generosity, these programs would not be possible for our district." Provided by Linda McCue. ###

Winter Driving Tips

- Watch weather reports prior to a long-distance drive or before driving in isolated areas. Delay trips when especially bad weather is expected. If you must leave, let others know your route, destination and estimated time of arrival.
- Always make sure your vehicle is in peak operating condition by having it inspected by an AAA Approved Auto Repair facility.
- Pack blankets, gloves, hats, food, water and any needed medication in your vehicle.
- If you become snowbound, stay with your vehicle for safety. It provides temporary shelter and makes it easier for rescuers to locate you. Don't try to walk in a severe storm. It's easy to lose sight of your vehicle in blowing snow and become lost.

- Don't over exert yourself if you try to push or dig your vehicle out of the snow.
- Tie a brightly colored cloth to the antenna or place a cloth at the top of a rolled up window to signal distress. At night, keep the dome light on if possible. It only uses a small amount of electricity and will make it easier for rescuers to find you.
- Make sure the exhaust pipe isn't clogged with snow, ice or mud. A blocked exhaust could cause deadly carbon monoxide gas to leak into the passenger compartment with the engine running.
- Use whatever is available to insulate your body from the cold. This could include floor mats, newspapers or paper
- If possible run the engine and heater just long enough to remove the chill and to conserve gasoline.

The American Trauma Society Pennsylvania Division (ATSPA) recommends preparing an emergency kit that includes:

When preparing your emergency kit, make sure to

- Flashlight with batteries
- Battery operated radio
- Jumper cables
- Cell phone and charger
- Snow shovel
- First aid kit
- Extra warm clothing and blankets
- · Bottled water and nonperishable food
- Any medications, baby supplies, or pet supplies you would need if stranded

Through South Central

Pennsylvania Highway Safety, ATSPA is offering tips for driving in the snow:

- Slow down
- Allow for extra following
 - Avoid sudden stops
- Always wear your seat belt
- Tell someone where you are going and your expected arrival time
- Take some extra time to plan your trip by checking your route, checking weather conditions and planning stops
- If you are concerned with the driving conditions, just stay home. ###

Selected excerpts from East Rutherford Mayor James L. Cassella's Annual Address

Before I begin my address please join me in a moment of silence for Joe Morris; lifelong resident of East Rutherford; graduate of East Rutherford High School who returned there to teach and coach; vice principal at Becton Regional High School; served on the East Rutherford Council; long time member of the Becton Regional Board of Education and longtime member of the East Rutherford Planning Board, where he was still serving. He will be missed. He always cared about East Rutherford. Thank you.

Welcome and thank you for being here on this 1st day of 2018, especially the families of Councilmen Stallone and Ravettine as they, once again, begin a new term on the East Rutherford Council. We wish them well.

As 2017 fades into our memory I want to acknowledge and thank Police Chief Larry Minda for his 40 years of service; Daryl Murray, our court administrator, who served East Rutherford for 30 plus years; our long time tax collector, Linda Ramsaier and our mechanic Mike Alberta. Their service to our community will not be forgotten.

Finally, in 2017, after what seemed like a lifetime, actually 14 years, of hearing and talking about the development first known as Xanadu and now known as American Dream, an agreement was finalized; trust me I had my doubts as did pretty much everyone else.

Construction is moving along at a rapid pace and we received the long talked about up-front payment of 24 million dollars without having to issue any redevelopment bonds. Most of that payment has been used to cut our debt by 21.5 million dollars.

American Dream is slated to open in March of 2019, which is when we are to begin receiving PILOT payments that begin at 2.5 million dollars and will continue to escalate from there.

For many of us this was not our preference to have this type of development; this was a project of the New Jersey Sports and Exposition Authority, so we did not have any input into it other than financial, but from a financial prospective, it will be very beneficial.

Another financial issue that was resolved in 2017 and that we had been dealing with for some time was the Federal Reserve Bank tax appeal.

What made this so much more difficult was that it was being heard in federal court which is very unusual.

In March right before the trial was to begin, we reached a settlement for the years 2014, 15, 16 and 17. Fortunately we received an approval from the State's Local Finance Board to refund the Federal Reserve taxes through a bond so it would have less of an impact on our property owners.

Even though it was a substantial loss of ratables, we should regain a good portion of that loss through the reevaluation that will take effect in 2018.

The re-evaluation process began in 2017 and is just about complete. Once it takes effect in 2018 we will initiate what is known as a rolling assessment which will allow us to keep our assessments at or close to 100% of true value which should, hopefully, reduce the number of tax appeals.

Decisions made or in some cases not made, in Trenton and in Washington, have put added pressures on municipalities in our efforts to stabilize property taxes; however, we on the local level also have an obligation to recognize how our decisions related to spending, hiring and salary increases affect our property taxes.

We need to find a balance between providing quality services while at the same time, stabilizing our property taxes; reduce spending; increase revenue.

Going into 2018, we need to look at ways of increasing our revenue. One of those ways is to continue to look at areas that we can redevelop.

Hopefully, we move forward during the coming months with a plan. I do believe and have for some time that our location with access to bus and train service into New York would make redevelopment very attractive to developers.

Although 2017 saw the retirements of a number of long time dedicated employees, I am confident that those who have moved into these positions will continue the fine jobs of their predecessors.

We wish our new police chief Dennis Rivelli; our new court administrator; Maggie Stuiso; our new tax collector, Linda Broncano; and our new mechanic Sean Stuiso the very

On a day to day basis it is Danielle Lorenc and the staff at Borough Hall, along with Chief Rivelli and our police department; Paul DeRosa and our DPW; the staff at the building department and The Library who provide the services for our community that we as members of the East Rutherford Governing Body can be proud of. They are the ones who are always there for our residents and we thank them for that and the job they do.

Thank you to Chief Mike Falco for his service as Chief of the East Rutherford Fire Department in 2017 and congratulations to incoming Chief Junior Joseph and Assistant Chiefs; David Alberta; Kevin Felten and Rob Swiston.

I wish them well in 2018 and look forward to working with them and all the members of our fire department and EMS who volunteer their time to protect the people of East Rutherford. And thank you to their families who are so supportive of their efforts.

As with most municipalities the foundation of our community is strengthened by the work of our many volunteers; our fire fighters; EMS members; recreation volunteers; the coaches; the committee members; the parents. None of these programs would achieve the successes they have had without our volunteers. Also we cannot forget to acknowledge all of those who volunteer their time to serve on our boards and various committees. And, of course our VFW members; members of the American Legion and those who are currently serving in our military, we thank them for their service.

Also, I would like to thank Councilman Stallone for stepping up and organizing our summer concert series. Other than some weather glitches, the three concerts at Sesselman Park and the one on Park Avenue went off quite well as did the Columbus Day Weekend Festivities arranged by our Civic Pride Organization.

As 2017 ends I look forward to 2018. A new year brings new hope but also much uncertainty. There is a new administration in Trenton which for some brings hope but for others an uncertainty about how a new administration will affect us especially those of us involved on the municipal level. We live in a world that at times seems very chaotic unlike what we have ever seen before which creates a great deal of uncertainty but we hope it will get better in 2018. There is always hope and prayer.

On this New Year's Day 2018 I wish all of you; members of the governing body; all our residents, our youth, our seniors and all who are associated with East Rutherford a very happy, prosperous and most of all, healthy 2018. Thank you and God bless you. ###

Groundhog Day February 2

According to folklore, if it is cloudy when a groundhog emerges from its burrow on this day, then spring will come early; if it is sunny, the groundhog will supposedly see its shadow and retreat back into its burrow, and the winter weather will continue for six more weeks.

Punxsutawney held its first Groundhog Day in the United States in the 1800s.

The first official trek to Gobbler's Knob near, Punxsutawney, Pennsylvania, was made on February 2, 1887.

Movies, advertisements, cartoons and other media have portrayed the legendary role of the groundhog in popular culture.

The term "Groundhog Day" is a phrase that is sometimes used to express if the same events or actions occur repetitively for a period of time.

Groundhog Day, already a widely recognized and popular tradition, received widespread attention as a result of the 1993 film "Groundhog Day." ###

By Thomas Marshall

How many times in life do we consider things done before they are? Like the score of a game that has gotten out of hand? A winner proclaimed before it's over. How many times has a kid gone to school and didn't bother to study and was hit with a surprise test? We get complacent when we think it is a done deal. We often get surprised and find ourselves in a bad spot because we thought the game was over. Hunters know this lesson well. Don't approach a wounded animal unless you know it's dead. If it is alive it could still be dangerous. Because it's down doesn't mean it's out.

Here is a quick lesson in complacency and the damage it can cause.

Francis Marion had won an election in the General Assembly in South Carolina in 1782. People knew him and Colonel Hezekiah Maham for their service in the Revolutionary War. It was common to elect military men to office at the time because they were trusted for their strong patriotism and they became well-known names.

It was late in the war by 1782 and victory seemed inevitable. Cornwallis and his Army had surrendered the October before so spirits were up. Colonel Peter Horry was also elevated to a new position. He took Marion's place as commander of Marion's force. The British still held Charleston, South Carolina at the moment and they too had heard about the election and the absence of Marion and Maham from their commands.

Colonel Benjamin Thomson, a British soldier, was put in charge of 500 men with the task of destroying the commands of Marion and Maham while they were absent. Horry moved his new command to the Santee River and the Wambaw Creek. The Americans didn't expect an attack but word soon reached the Legislature that the British indeed launched an attack out of Charleston.

It was February 24, 1782, and Marion and Maham wanted to be excused to fight the battle. As crazy as it might be the Legislature was reluctant to let them go because they feared the possibility of not having a quorum for their meeting. They were excused and they rushed to the scene but they only got as far as Mepkin's Plantation before the fighting started. They were too late.

Colonel Horry lived nearby and he apparently was ill. He went to his home to rest so he too was not present at the battle. Horry's men were around the same number as the British but no one was ready for an attack so things went wrong immediately. The regimental commanders under Horry were eating dinner when news came that the British were approaching Wambaw Bridge, a bridge that spanned the creek of the same name. Major John James took some Americans over the bridge to meet the attack. Many of his men were new recruits and having no experience in battle didn't last long.

The British were ready and fighting quickly broke out. The volleys from the British troops were devastating. The new recruits began to break and fell back to the bridge. Major James was said to have had to jump across a gap in the bridge because his men were tearing up the planks to slow the British down. Major James and the survivors were now on the south side of the bridge. There were 40 dead Americans left on the north side.

The next day, on the 25th of February, Thomson, and his British force drove Americans out of camp at Tidyman's Plantation. General Francis Marion now on the field, ordered Captain John Smith to attack the British troops. This didn't go well for the Americans. Smith also had inexperienced men in his command and some got lost trying to circle a pond. Others that made the attack were soon scattered by the British musketry. It was said that some tried to swim the Santee to escape and this made them easy targets for British sharpshooters.

The British claimed they took 12 prisoners and killed 20 men. They also stole a herd of cattle and took the beef back to Charleston. The battle at Wambaw Bridge was over. We didn't do too well here. Most of America knew the war was going to end so they no longer prepared. It left us open to a whooping.

No matter what you are doing in life whether school, work or sports, it makes no difference. You don't know what's around the corner. Don't get caught napping, don't get surprised. If you can't do anything, and you don't know what else to do, you can at least be ready. ###

About Ash Wednesday

Ash Wednesday, a day of fasting, is the first day of Lent in Western Christianity. It occurs 46 days (40 fasting days, if the six Sundays, which are not days of fast, are excluded) before Easter and can fall as early as February 4 or as late as March 10. Ash Wednesday is observed by many Western Christians.

According to the canonical gospels of Matthew, Mark and Luke, Jesus Christ spent 40 days fasting in the desert, where he endured temptation by Satan. Lent originated as a mirroring of this, fasting 40 days as preparation for Easter. Every Sunday was seen as a commemoration of the Sunday of Christ's resurrection and so as a feast day on which fasting was inappropriate. Accordingly, Christians fasted from Monday to Saturday (six days) during six weeks and from Wednesday to Saturday (four days) in the preceding week, thus making up the number of 40 days. Orthodox Christians do this 40 days in a row.

Ash Wednesday derives its name from the practice of blessing ashes made from palm branches blessed on the previous year's Palm Sunday, and placing them on the heads of participants to the accompaniment of the words "Repent, and believe in the Gospel" or "Remember that you are dust, and to dust you shall return." The Synagogue honored the women of the Jewish community with lighting the torches for the nine foot Menorah, and Rabbi Lerman led the ceremony.

Guests were then welcomed to the synagogue's spacious gym, where they enjoyed soup, donuts and latkes. They were entertained with live music, and a grand show by Casey Carle of Bubblemania.

About Mardi Gras/Shrove Tuesday

This year, Shrove Tuesday and Mardi Gras is celebrated on Tuesday, February 13, 2018. Shrove Tuesday is the last day before Lent, a period for fasting. Also known as Pancake Day, Shrove Tuesday was the last opportunity to use up eggs and fats before embarking on the Lenten fast and pancakes are the perfect way of using up these ingredients.

It is also known as Fat Tuesday, or Mardi Gras, and features large festivals and celebrations across the United States. The Mardi Gras parade in New Orleans, in Louisiana, is typical of the masquerades and dancing in the streets that take place in other parts of the United States before the long Lenten fast. Ash Wednesday is Wednesday, February 14, 2018. ###

Artful Thinking

By Artie Maglionico • Lodi Historian

Artful 2018

Did you ever talk to someone who ends each sentence with an upward inflection even though it's not a question? Example... "Gee, I was in the drug store the other day looking for cough drops?" I really needed them because I was coughing my brains out? So then I figured that as long as I was coughing I might as well get a flu shot? But I got the flu anyway?" All you can do in response is shrug your shoulders which is what I do anyway when I don't know what the other person is talking about. It's a sure way to get out of a conversation that's going nowhere, don't you agree? That was a question folks, no really it was. I was actually asking you something? I mean, Darn it now they've got me doing it! Forget I ever mentioned it!

Yea folks, it's February and we all know what that means. Cupid is polishing his bow and is sharpening his arrow in preparation for the love fest called Valentine's Day. Be still my beating heart. Valentine's Day, at least for me, was always met with great anticipation followed by a devastating let down. I was always a love sick kid, forever day dreaming about the pretty girl in the third row who was casting admiring glances in my direction. Unfortunately those glances were aimed at the kid sitting behind me. I used to position my head so that when she turned around I'd be blocking her view and would have no choice but to make eye contact with me.

Meanwhile the kid behind me would lean in the opposite direction thus deflecting her gaze off of me and onto himself. All of this went on during class and by the time the lesson was over I was completely lost.

It was a long flight from dream land to reality and it was usually a crash landing.

I'd wake up to the sound of my teacher's voice asking me to read the next paragraph. She knew that I was miles away fighting some war rescuing the girl of my dreams from the dreaded hands of the enemy. "Do you know what page we're on Arthur?" she'd ask with a mean look in her eyes. Not only didn't I know what page we were on I didn't know what subject we were on as well. I spent many a lonely hours in the cloak room far removed from the pretty girl in the third row who didn't know that I was alive let alone not in my seat.

That scenario repeated itself all through grammar school. Different girl same result. The closer we got to Valentine's Day the closer my ego got to the edge of that familiar cliff. As I looked down I could see the scattered remains of my broken dreams along with an empty space set aside for the next one which was about to happen.

My problem, so it was said by the kids from Westervelt place, was that I was always falling in love with girls who were out of my league. Using baseball terminology to get their point across they said that I was at best a "Double A" player looking for major league results. I knew they were right of course since my record spoke for itself, a pile of goose eggs that cluttered the score board till it all but collapsed under the heft of failure.

Hey, I can dream can't I? There in the vastness of my imagination all things fall within the realm of possibility. The only problem with that was when I woke up I was the only one there. Everyone else was living life in the real world and I was far removed from all of that. Not only was I forever in love with the latest girl of my dreams, I was shy as well. Not exactly a winning combination if you're, as my friends put it, trying to make it in the big leagues."

When Valentine's Day arrived I used to dread looking through the make shift mailbox that the teacher made during recess. Yes, it's true, I received a card or two from a few of the girls in my class but since I never ran across them in my dreams they became unrecognizable in reality.

Ah reality! It can be your best friend or your worst enemy and as a young kid it's hard to distinguish one from the other. My mother told me that it's okay to dream but be careful that when you wake up you don't find yourself alone. I wrote a poem many years ago about my mom's advice. The last line reads: "Along a precipice, despair, I seek the girl with golden hair." So when Valentine's Day arrived I was disappointed even heartbroken. I was a dreamer who woke up to nothing.

I was grieving over a lost love that never existed in a school yard that offered the kids who played there the dreams of a lifetime. As John Lennon says in the Beatles song In My Life "In My Life I Loved Them All."

We were all one of those kids in that school yard and have Valentine's Day memories as far as the eye can see. Sooner or later true love finds you. It can happen at any time and at any age. It is always on time. I learned this much since those days at Columbus school that you have to be open for the arrival of love. You must not close the entrance to your heart for if love cannot find a way in, it will

True love arrives when the mind is left unattended and the heart thinks for itself.

Now for all of you Valentine's Day fans out there in Artful Thinking land here's an original poem written some years ago in my never to be published book of Poetry for children of all ages.

Please be My Valentine By Artie Maglionico

I saw you pass by But I'm rather shy And didn't know what to do. I know what to say But the words melt away Each time I get close to you. I'd write you a letter But it isn't much better Can't think of a single line. So I might as well say it There's no time to delay it

Please be my Valentine!

Enjoy...see you next month!

About Presidents' Day

Presidents' Day is observed on Monday, February 19, 2018. (The third Monday in February.) Originally established in 1885 in recognition of President George Washington, it is still officially called "Washington's Birthday" by the federal government. Traditionally celebrated on February 22—Washington's actual day of birth—the holiday became popularly known as Presidents' Day after it was moved as part of 1971's Uniform Monday Holiday Act, an attempt to create more three-day weekends for the nation's workers. While several states still have individual holidays honoring the birthdays of Washington, Abraham Lincoln and other figures, Presidents' Day is now popularly viewed as a day to celebrate all U.S. presidents past and present. ###

About Chinese New Year

Chinese New Year is on Friday, February 16, 2018. According to the Chinese 12year animal zodiac cycle, the Chinese year ushers out 2017 as the Year of the Rooster, and readying to welcome 2018 as the Year of the Dog. Chinese New Year usually falls anytime between late January and mid-February.

Chinese New Year, also known as the Spring Festival, lasts for 15 days. People celebrate the Lunar New Year in America with a combination of regional traditions.

Within China, regional customs and traditions vary widely. Often, the evening preceding Chinese New Year's Day is an occasion for Chinese families to gather for the annual reunion dinner. It is also traditional to thoroughly clean the house, in order to sweep away any ill-fortune and to make way for incoming good luck. Windows and doors are decorated with red color papercuts with popular themes of "good fortune" or "happiness," "wealth," and "longevity."

The Spring Lantern Festival on March 2, 2018, marks the end of the traditional Chinese New Year celebrations. ### in the United States. That September, the Harvard-trained historian, Carter G. Woodson and the prominent minister Jesse E. Moorland, founded an organization dedicated to researching and promoting achievements by black Americans and other peoples of African descent.

About Black

History Month

Black History Month, or

National African American

History Month, is an annual celebration of achievements

by black Americans and a time for recognizing the central role of African Americans in U.S.

The story of Black History

The group sponsored a national Negro History week in 1926, choosing the second week of February to coincide with the birthdays of Abraham Lincoln and Frederick Douglass. The event inspired schools and communities nationwide to organize local celebrations, establish history clubs and host performances and lectures.

In the decades that followed, mayors of cities across the country began issuing yearly proclamations recognizing Negro History Week.

By the late 1960s, thanks in part to the Civil Rights Movement and a growing awareness of black identity, Negro History Week had evolved into Black History Month on many college campuses.

President Gerald R. Ford officially recognized Black History Month in 1976, calling upon the public to "seize the opportunity to honor the too-often neglected accomplishments of black Americans in every area of endeavor throughout our history." ###

Real Estate Insight

By Mary Ellen Courtney

What Does It Takes to be a FSBO?

Before you head down the path of reading this article, you need to know that I think it's great that people try and sell their own homes when they feel that they can. I am not an anti-FSBO kind of real estate

I equate it with people who choose to do their own taxes versus hiring a CPA; some people want to do it on their own and some people want to hire it out. Bashing FSBOs is in poor taste. So if you are looking for a "pro real estate agent, you can't live without me" type of article, please know this: you won't find it in these paragraphs.

In fact, with today's fast moving market here in Bergen County where inventory is snapped up as soon as it becomes available, many sellers will consider taking on the sale of their home themselves rather than hiring a realtor. And for those taking the plunge, here are a few useful tips on the just the first step: Finding a Buyer...

Determining how much a FSBO's home is worth. Pricing a home is part intuition, part research and market timing. Price within the parameters of comparable sales and you should receive immediate of-

Not pricing correctly can, however, put you at a big disadvantage because the first two to three weeks on the market are crucial; that's when buyers' interest levels are the highest.

Preparing the FSBO's home for a sale. Examine your home from a stranger's viewpoint. Ask friends to give their objective evaluation of the property and to be frank about its deficiencies.

Consider spending money on improvements making repairs that will enhance profit. But don't spend too much! The single biggest downfall for sellers is in spending too money on repairs that will never be recouped.

Consider home staging – it could mean the difference between selling now for more money or not selling at all. At the very least, get rid of the bulk of your furniture. Most sellers can do without 50% of their stuff. And if they can do without their pets, as well, so much the better; they can present a whole other set of challenges.

Marketing the FSBO's home for sale. With all the money you'll be saving over hiring an agent, spend a big chunk on advertising. That will entail figuring out your target audience and getting the message out to them by specific media.

Today, most home buyers are looking at the Internet for homes for sale but that doesn't mean you'll be selling your house online. The idea is to get buyers inside; all marketing should be geared toward making your phone ring and increasing traffic to your home.

That means doing photographs, virtual tours and select usage of print advertising, direct mail, flyers, hosting tours, etc. Open houses and time flexibility required for showings are necessary components as well.

For most FSBOs finding buyers is typically a pretty big challenge, but - truth be told -finding a buyer is only the first step in a rather long and tricky process. There's a whole lot more to do before the FSBO can even imagine arriving at a successful closing.

And, largely, it's on these later, more technical steps that FSBOs often trip up. They sometimes don't have the skill and knowledge that goes with properly screening buyers; they frequently dispense with the demands of pre-approval and pre-qualification and lack access to third party mortgage counseling assistance.

FSBOs are generally untrained in negotiating with potential buyers regarding offers and contracts which can be loaded with clauses, timelines and contingencies such as those for deposits, mortgages and inspections. They have no relevant experience to know how to handle Home Inspection findings (the single greatest threat to real estate transactions) and, more often than not, react in ways that can kill any potential deal.

But this is not, I repeat, an effort to dissuade anyone from wanting to become a FSBO. It's just my own opinion, objective and 100% unbiased....

Moonachie Fire Department Santa Ride on Saturday, December 16, 2017.

MFD Makes a Special Delivery

On Saturday December 16, 2017, members of the Moonachie Fire Department, along with help from Santa Claus, made a special delivery to Austin, a young and energetic eight year old boy from Moonachie.

Moonachie Fire Department learned about Austin and his ongoing battle with Osteosarcoma from members of the Moonachie Police Department who were donating their "Noshave November" donations to Austin.

Osteosarcoma is a cancerous tumor that develops from bone cells, osteoblasts, which start in the ends of long bones. This tumor has caused Austin to use a wheel chair and a walker to get around.

MFD, with help from Santa, stopped by Austin's house and presented him with a $500 check to assist Austin with his ongoing medical treatments. Additionally, Santa had a few gift bags full of NY Giants memorabilia for Austin.

Austin was so moved by this gesture of kindness from MFD he stood with the help of his walker for a few pictures and shook hands with Santa and all the firefighters who greeted him.
