Didn't we just ponder the selection of our Christmas tree, carried our treasure home, spent hours dressing it with twinkling lights and heirloom decorations? Didn't we just enjoy holiday parties, parades, concerts, classic movies, Christmas music, holiday food and sweet delights with family and friends? The real meaning of the season should not fade so quickly. Continue on the true meaning and lessons of Hanukkah and Christmas. Continue the joy of this season, and the magic it promises, into the New Year. Continue to keep the spirit of Good Will towards all throughout the year. The meaning of the season should live on!

Al Sarracino Receives Award

On November 17, 2018, parishioner, Aurelio "Al" Sarracino, was honored for his decades of years and thousands of when we are inclusive, when our doors are open to all and when everyone has the opportunity to learn, grow and thrive." Said Ron Simoncini, Chairman and Chief Volunteer Officer of the Meadowlands YMCA Board of Directors. Twenty percent of Americans between the ages of 16-64 suffer from some form of emotional or mental disability.

"Addressing the special needs population has always been an important component of what we do and our Aquatics area has been active in this area for many years. As a Y without Walls for 97-years, we were limited in our ability to serve this population. Now that we have our full-service central facility, we are able to explore many programs and services and Programs Inc is one that holds a very important role in our mission to serve our community," said, Jane A.

Egan, President and CEO of the Meadowlands YMCA.

This year, the luncheon, which was held on November 14, 2018, attracted 144 members.

The pre-Thanksgiving Dinner was prepared and served by caterers. The meal was as close as one can get to a home cooked meal.

The turkey was moist and tender; the mashed potatoes were light and fluffy; the sautéed green beans with mushrooms were outstanding and the yams were cooked to perfection.

There was also stuffing, cranberry sauce, gravy, fresh rolls and salad. Of course the meal could not have been complete without water, soda, coffee and delicious cake. There was plenty of food for all and much to take home. Photo by Marie Gallo, story by Peter Gallo Jr. ###

The menu consisted of a buffet from 12:00 p.m. to 1:00 p.m. consisting of hot and cold appetizers. This was followed by pasta with vodka sauce and a salad. The entrees were a choice of Roasted Prime Rib, Norwegian Salmon, or Chicken Francese. There was also unlimited beer, wine and soda. Of course, no meal would be complete without a great dessert chocolate mousse bomb, coffee or tea. DJ Nick Delgiodice from Shooting Star Productions provided the music for dancing and dining. The line dancers had a great time dancing to their familiar tunes. All who attended were in agreement that the affair was one of the best events they had ever attended. Photo and Story by Marie and Peter Gallo Jr. ###

Carlstadt Mixed Chorus Showcases Their Talent

The German-American Singers of Carlstadt presented "Music in the Afternoon," on Sunday, November 18, 2018, at the Carlstadt Turn Hall in Carlstadt.

All the songs performed by the mixed chorus highlighted "Love," love of life, love and nature, love of country. Linda Kuprat narrated the program. Music Director, Ms. Johanna Teubner-Prussak, accompanied the chorus at the piano. The group, which is composed of talented singers, did exactly what they were supposed to do. They provided an afternoon of wonderful entertainment.

The group was founded in 1931 when the "Carlstadt Manner Chor" (men's chorus) and the "Carlstadt Damen Chor"

(ladies' chorus) united and became known as the Carlstadt Mixed Chorus.

The group continues today to uphold its heritage and culture by performing songs with German and English lyrics; songs from the Great Masters, traditional German folk songs, as well as contemporary works and Broadway tunes.

Soloists, Perry Sussman, Adelmo Guidarelli and Gunter Grunfelder were outstanding. Trumpeter William Teubner and pianist Mark Wright, demonstrated their remarkable talent.

Once again, Music Director Ms. Johanna Teubner-Prussak must be complimented for presenting an excellent program to showcase the great talent of the Carlstadt Mixed Chorus. Photo by Marie Gallo, story by Peter Gallo Jr.

Here is a news release from the Department of Defense reporting the identification of a sailor killed in World War II.

Washington, October 29, 2018. Navy Reserve Seaman 2nd Class Ira N. Slaton, killed during the attack on the USS Colorado in World War II, was accounted for on September 24, 2018.

On July 24, 1944, Slaton was aboard the battleship USS Colorado, which was moored approximately 3,200 yards from the shore of Tinian Island. Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands.

Early in the morning, the USS Colorado, along with the light cruiser Cleveland and destroyers Remey and Norman Scott, commenced firing toward the island. Within two hours, a concealed Japanese shore battery opened fire on the USS Colorado and the USS Norman Scott. The first hit on the USS Colorado resulted in a heavy explosion, and the ship sustained extensive fragmentation damage. From the attack, four crewmen were declared missing in action, and 39 personnel were killed, including Slaton. Slaton and the other casualties were subsequently interred in the 4th Marine Division Cemetery on Saipan.

DPAA is grateful to the American Battle Monuments Commission for their partnership in this mission.

Slaton's name is recorded on the Courts of the Missing at the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific, in Honolulu, along with the others missing from WWII. A rosette will be placed next to his name to indicate he has been accounted for.

Laboratory.

Why Was The 216th So Special?

In 1944, James Halloran Sr. was married, with one child (me) and had a draft-deferred job. However, all his brothers (3) had served or were serving in the US Army Air Forces.

His brother, Francis, had been at Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941. He was a bombardier in a B-17 at the Battle of Midway and later earned a Distinguished Flying Cross for sinking an enemy ship at the Battle of the Bismarck Sea.

James could not stay on the sidelines. Enlisting in the Army Air Force, he was sent to Keesler Army Air Field in Mississippi, for basic training. After basic, he was shipped to the Willow Run complex, constructed by the Ford Motor Company to build the B-24 Bomber. This was located in Ypsilanti, Michigan. Here he underwent training as an airframe and engine technician. Private Halloran graduated with a superior rating.

He was then sent to the Second Air Force Personnel Center in Lincoln, Nebraska, to await assignment. While there, he was promoted to Private First Class. PFC Halloran's orders came assigning him to the 216th Army Air Force Base Unit (Special). The 216th was stationed at Wendover Army Air Field, Utah. A typical base unit handled all the housekeeping duties such as laundry, quartermaster, engineering, postal, etc. But the 216th was "Special."

While Dad was going through training, events of great magnitude were transpiring at Wendover AAF. In late 1944, Lt. Col. Paul Tibbets chose Wendover as the location to form a new bomber group. This was to be called the 509th Composite Bombardment Group (Heavy). This unit data of what would be called Little Boy and Fat Man Atomic Bombs was done with inert bombs in the shape and weight of the real ones.

Little Boy was more or less a conventional looking type bomb and there was little need to collect very much data. It was another matter with the Fat Man bomb.

Because of its round, squat shape, it was aerodynamically unstable. It had a tendency to wobble and spin when dropped and good accuracy could not be achieved.

Mockups of this bomb were dubbed "Pumpkins," because of their shape and the color they were painted. Some Pumpkins were filled with conventual explosives to test fuses.

Typically, Los Alamos engineers would order the Special Ordnance Detachment to make a modification to the Pumpkin. This would then be loaded in to a Silverplate aircraft.

At first, either a 509th or a 216th aircrew would take off and climb to between thirty and thirty-two thousand feet. On the bomb run the pilot would give control of the aircraft to the bombardier. Who then controlled the aircraft through the Norden Bombsight. After release of the Pumpkin, the pilot would regain control of the aircraft. However, when the 509th was deployed to the Pacific area, the 216th assumed all responsibility for the drop tests.

Drops were filmed from both the air and ground. Point of impact from the target was measured. Wind speed and direction, aircraft speed, bombsight settings, etc., were sent to Los Alamos engineers and the cycle would begin anew. In all, 155 mockups were dropped. By August of 1945, drop accuracy was very acceptable for the mission over Japan.

In March of 1945, PFC Halloran arrived at Wendover and was assigned to the Flight Test Section as an aircraft mechanic. He would qualify as a Flight Engineer and fly test missions at both the Wendover and Salton Sea, California, test drop locations. PFC Halloran was awarded a letter of commendation for his efforts. After his discharge, Dad became a career firefighter in the Hoboken Fire Department and would retire as a deputy chief. A running family joke between my uncle and Dad was that Francis started the war at Pearl Harbor and Dad ended it. ###

Heights Friendly Neighbors Annual Fund Drive

The Annual Friendly Neighbors Fund Drive will continue through New Year's Day.

They have been in existence since 1939 as a local organization and consists of a group of 10 women from the Churches in Hasbrouck Heights. They donate their time and effort toward raising money, food, and supplies for needy local families. No expenses are taken and all funds go toward helping town residents.

This year they are helping 10 families with 18 children. These families are struggling to meet their financial obligations. Understandably, it is nearly impossible for them to celebrate the holidays with food and gifts for their children. We suggest that if you want to help these families, make a small donation.

Your donations can be mailed to Mrs. Jackie Mazza, 126 Harrison Avenue, Hasbrouck Heights. ###

Artful Thinking By Artie Maglionico • Lodi Historian

Happy New Year! I'd like to start the year off by offering my congrats to Wallington readers Bill and Dot Selis. The happy couple recently celebrated 65 years of marital bliss. Bill, as a Corporal in the US Army, saw action in the Korean War and was honorably discharged in February of 1953. The lovebirds joined together in marriage the following September.

There's a story I'd like to tell you about that, over these many years, has trickled down through time and has found its way into this column. It took place on a sunny Saturday afternoon in mid-May in the year 1957 in the quaint and friendly Borough of Lodi NJ.

The spring rain that fell overnight had ended just before day break. The ominous looking clouds had, by then, given way to glorious sunshine.

The threat of a Saturday rain out, a kid's worse nightmare had vaporized until all that remained was the promise of a brand new day.

Suddenly the celebratory warbles of the robin were being muffled by the cheers of happy children as they took to the streets, fields, and playgrounds that surrounded Columbus School. Among them were John Leto and Al "Porky" Manzella. They were two kids who, like the rest of their friends from that area, called the foothills of Farnham Avenue their home.

Now folks I want to remind you, also for those who are from out of town, that most of Farnham Avenue was nothing more than a dirt road. Road? More like a rocky path carved out by time and Mother Nature. There, at best, was a mere scattering of homes.

From Hughes Street to Hillside Place there were maybe three homes; Porky's was among them and was situated at the bottom of a steep hill upon which stood a weather beaten barn. That hill was famous for sleigh riding in winter and sliding down on cardboard boxes during those sunbaked days of summer. Some of the kids who lived and played up and around there were Bill "Whitey" Paese, The Shultis Twins, Joe Davidson, Steve Dabek, Bob Laporta, Bob Satkowski, Tom Palumbo, Bob Kunz, Billy De Marco, Dominick Montalbo, Irwin 'Butch" Stolz and the Kalemba brothers who lived next to the school.

All of these kids, including John and Porky, could be found playing stick ball off of the Columbus School wall. Mothers were always looking for their missing broom handles. Hey, a kid had to be resourceful in those days even if it meant raiding your mom's broom closet. Where else could you find the perfect stick ball bat?

Anyway folks, on this particular Saturday morning John and Porky saw fit to break from the Columbus School crowd and play catch in the area of Farnham Avenue, where now stands that long row of houses stretching from Warren Street to Hillside Place. Porky was testing out his brand new Keds sneakers while John supplied the baseball which, according to John, came his way via a foul ball hit by Yogi Berra during a home game against the Detroit Tigers.

Now Leto, a lefty, is said to have tossed a rising fast ball that startled Porky by curving at the last moment toward his head causing him to duck as the ball passed him by. Porky turned to retrieve the ball only to find himself ankle deep in what was said at the time to be quick sand. By the time John got there Porky was shin deep in mud and appeared to be sinking fast. Of course John was worried about his ball and who could blame him, after all, it was delivered to him by Yogi Berra. "Where's my baseball?" shouted John as Porky tried to high step out of the "quick sand." Finally John gave up on his prize baseball which, no doubt, was lost in the murky abyss, and reached for Porky's awaiting hand. As Porky made it back to terra firma John noticed that Porky's sneakers and socks were left beneath the mud. "My brand new sneakers" said the distressed Porky. "My mother will be furious when she finds out." Leto could not keep from bursting into laughter at the sight of Porky running frantically around the mud pool looking for his sneakers and socks. "They're going to call you Shoeless Porky Manzella from now on." laughed John, "What are you laughing at?" Replied Porky as he picked up his glove. "You lost your prize Yogi Berra baseball. At least I can get new sneakers. You'll never get another ball hit, "You think so?" replied John with a devilish grin. "I've got five more at home just like it!" ###

From the Porch Performing Arts Collecting Socks for Vets and Soldiers

Holy Trinity Lutheran Church is joining efforts once again with Soldiers' Angels for its winter project, Warm Feet for Warriors, a sock collection for Soldiers and Veterans.

One of the most requested items by service members is socks! Just think how nice a brand new pair of socks feels, and how much more so when far from home.

We will be collecting new adult socks, male or female, any color in original packaging. These socks will be included in care packages that are sent to Chaplains overseas for distribution to those deployed and also here at home to Veterans in VA hospitals.

Last year Soldiers' Angels surpassed their goal of 8,000 pairs! Let's help them over the top again this year. Leave your donations in the box on the porch during January and February. Thank you for sharing in our ministry to those who serve for us in the armed forces all year long. Thank you for helping them know they are not forgotten.

We also remind you that, as we have done each winter, we are collecting food for the local food banks. If you are walking or driving by, feel free to add non-perishable items to the box on the porch at 92 Burton Avenue, we will see that it gets to those in need. For information, call the office of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church at 201-288-6889. ###

The Rutherford Pee Wee Bulldogs

The Rutherford Pee Wee Bulldogs (8-9 year olds) finished their 2018 campaign undefeated and MFL Super Bowl Champions, winning their contest against Elmwood Park 26-6.

Rutherford took their opening drive 40 yards down field with steady doses of RB Matt Bonagura off right tackle, before countering back with RB Dmitri Paskas following FB Emmett Carney off left tackle from four yards out, giving the Bulldogs an early 6-0 lead.

Rutherford and Elmwood Park battled the first half for control of the line of scrimmage with the half ending tied 6-6. The Bulldogs gave up the first points of the season to the Bombers on an over pursued cut back off left tackle. The second half saw the Bulldog offensive line take control and the Myles Balchan quarterback rushing show began.

Balchan's first score was from 15 yards out, in which the line of E Quinn Weber, E Russ Snyder, T Andrew Ochojski, G Jayden Arlauskas, C Vin Urgola, G Chase Martini, G Kellen Caughey, T Evan Diaz and E Will Holman opened large running lanes.

OB Balchan then hit Weber in the back of the end zone for the extra point making the score 13-6 in the third quarter.

The Bulldog defense continued to stifle the EP Bombers backfield, not allowing a first down in the second half. Defensive linemen Diaz, Ochojski and Damien Gregory made several tackles in the backfield. Defensive backs Zach Snyder, Rudy Garofalo and Will Holman didn't allow a completed pass or anyone to sweep outside. After linebacker Paskas caused and recovered a fumble in the EP backfield, Balchan followed Carney off left tackle from 15 yards out for his second touchdown, making the score 19-0.

The fourth quarter then saw a Will Holman reverse go for 30 yards down the left sideline and the final score of the match. The Rutherford Junior Bulldogs (10-11 year olds) ended their season 9-2 with a Super Bowl loss to undefeated New Milford, 26-6. As Southern Division Champs, the Junior Bulldogs look forward to next season. Provided by Mike Paskas. ###

Full Wolf Moon

The January full moon will appear on Monday, January 21, 2019, at 12:17 a.m. It is called the "Full Wolf Moon." or Storm Moon. In January the stormy weather earned this moon its name.

Snow covered the earth and the howling of wolves could be heard echoing through the cold winter air. Some tribes called Experienced Licensed Real this the Snow Moon, but that name was more commonly used for the February moon.

> According to the "Farmer's Almanac," amid the cold and deep snows of mid-winter, the wolf packs howled hungrily outside Indian villages. Sometimes it was referred to as the "Old Moon," or the "Full Snow Moon," but most tribes applied that name to the next moon.

The Native American Indians of northern and eastern United States kept track of the seasons by giving a name to each recurring full Moon. European settlers followed the custom. ###

Every gun that is made, every warship launched, every rocket fired, signifies in the final sense a theft from those who hunger and are not fed, those who are cold and not clothed.--General Dwight D. Eisenhower

By Mary Ellen Courtney

Bad for Your Health! Bad for Your Wealth!

I read recently an article put out by the American Cancer Society which stated that half of all Americans who continue smoking will end up dying as a direct result of the habit.

Each year, they say, more than 480,000 people in the US die from illnesses related to tobacco use. According to stats, smoking causes 1 out of 5 deaths in the US every year. That's more deaths than are caused by alcohol, car accidents, HIV, guns and illegal drugs....all combined!

I don't smoke and I prefer not to be around those who smoke. As more and more places are smoke-free, it's clear that the pressure to stop smoking is increasing. But I understand that quitting this habit can be very difficult.

So why, anyway, am I talking about this on this platform? Well, it came to attention to me recently after one of our sales agents described showing homes to young, well-qualified first-time homebuyers. This agent had scheduled 4 homes for them to view and they had already seen three when they arrived at #4.

It was an otherwise handsome cape with great curb appeal and it had a lockbox on the antique and classic aircraft Dylan Sujet A&P, I.A.

Sujet Aero Restoration L.L.C. PO Box 494 Pittstown, NJ 08867 908-310-7976 sujetaero@gmail.com front railing.

Strangely, though, the door wasn't locked. On entering, it was immediately apparent to everybody that this was a smoker's home. The stench of cigarettes was so strong, agent Maria said, that her throat literally closed up, her eyes started to itch and her head began to ache.

Maria's clients had come with her parents and the young wife immediately instructed her mom to return to the car and wait for them. The mother suffered from asthma and her daughter didn't want the pervasive odor to trigger an attack.

The house was clean, wellkept and, for the most part, completely updated. But the smell of nicotine was so overpowering that, within minutes, they could stand it no longer and ran out for clean air.

Maria thinks she knows why the place was left unlocked by the last agent that showed it. In his/her haste to escape, the house was inadvertently left unlocked.

Needless to say, the clients went away totally turned off by the property. This, despite the fact that it presented a lot of good, positive points.

These potential buyers were of one mind on it: the only lingering impressions they took away were how their hair and clothes stank from the odor of old smoke, how they all felt the outset of headaches coming on, needed to wash hands and faces, etc. Now, I'm sure that another buyer, a smoker, might view the house and feel right at home. But for non-smokers I know this issue has, to some degree, to be a turn-off.

Truth be said, I remember back in the day when just about everybody smoked; smoking was almost universal and permitted just about everywhere. I was a smoker myself back then! But that was ages ago and nowadays most people are hyper-sensitive to the lingering residue of old cigarette smoke.

So, if you're a smoker, please ask yourself: are you going to continue this habit in your house in order to befoul your (likely) largest asset?

Are you going to cut off a major portion of the buying public - when the time comes to sell - by letting cigarette smoke infiltrate your home to the point where it will need to be professionally cleaned; a process that will necessitate removing the carpet, the upholstered furniture, the window treatments – in addition, moreover, to having the entire place redone with special paint to cover smoke infused walls, etc.?

Or are you going to, at the very least, take your habit outside, make your own home a smoke-free zone and limit this malign exposure on your investment?

I know which choice I would make, faced with this challenge. But then, it's easy for me. I've already given up smoking.

Day of Infamy Remembered

On Friday, December 7, Island on December 7, 1941. 2018, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 809, its Auxiliary andguests, remembered comrades who suffered and perished at Pearl Harbor 75 years ago. These victims must remain alive in our minds and hearts, for they were the first to face the enemy in open combat. All the suffering and pain in World War II, all the tremendous victories achieved later in the war, the defeat of two of the 20th Century's worst tyrants, all began for America at Pearl Harbor.

There, civilians and military personnel were subjected to an unprovoked attack by the military forces of the Japanese Empire.

Their goal was to destroy the U.S. Pacific fleet in order to give them free reign to attack their neighbors in their growing war on the people and nations of the Pacific. To do so, they chose a Sunday morning to catch our forces off guard. Their naval forces launched aircraft in two strategic air strikes aimed at Pearl Harbor and the Army airfields. Using divebombers, torpedo bombers and fighter aircraft along with submarine assaults from the sea, the Imperial Japanese Navy sank or damaged 21 ships of our Pacific fleet. Ninety-seven Navy and Marine Corps aircraft were destroyed. The Army Air Corps lost 74 planes and had 128 damaged in the attack. The Navy lost

1999 men killed in action with 710 wounded. The Marines lost 109 killed in action with 69 wounded. The Army had 233 personnel killed and 364 wounded in action. The civilian population lost 49 people killed. The Japanese Empire had done all of this damage without a declaration of war, without provocation, making this deed one of infamy and forever remembered as an attack of an evil war aggressive nation. This attack would propel America into the largest war in history, where no citizen was left untouched by the conflict. This attack left the Pacific fleet in shambles and in ruin but never has our resolve been stronger. Through unbelievable efforts by our fellow citizens and military, The Oklahoma was raised from the bottom of Pearl Harbor, The California was raised and repaired and returned to service. The West Virginia was raised and rejoined the fleet. The Tennessee was repaired and took an active part in the war. The Nevada was raised. The Pennsylvania was repaired and joined the fleet once more. The Maryland was repaired and took to the high seas again. The Oglala was repaired and back in action. The Helena, The Honolulu, Raleigh and Shaw were all repaired and back in action to meet our Far East foes. All these ships would serve for the remainder of World War II, helping America achieve ultimate victory over an aggressive enemy. The USS Arizona would remain a total loss and today remains with the USS Utah enshrined at Pearl Harbor as a gravesite and a lasting memorial to that fateful day. Today we reflect on World War II in which towns and cities and nations would be destroyed, with some 50 million people losing their lives, to finally end with the atomic bomb detonating in an earth shattering explosion, erasing the city of Nagasaki, but bringing peace to the world once more....it all began for us on a quiet Sunday morning 75 years ago."

A symbolic shrine was

After a brief showing of a "1941 news reel," this remembrance program began with a flag salute, opening prayer, Pledge of Allegiance.

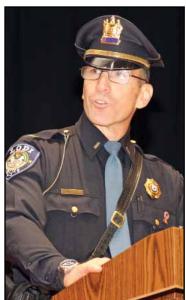

VFW Jr. Vice Commander John Churvti led the program and made these comments:

"Welcome all of you to our Pearl Harbor Day Program. Today we remember the men and women who were on Oahu prepared. "Taps" was played.

The guest speaker was Freeholder Joan Voss. The National Anthem was played.

Jr. Vice Commander John Churvti's concluding comments: "The United States Navy would survive the attack on Pearl Harbor and World War II. I can't say the same for the Japanese Imperial fleet. Of the six aircraft carriers that took part in the attack, The Zuikaku, The Shokaku, The Akagi, The Kaga, The Hiryu, and The Soryau all now lay at the bottom of the Pacific. As cold, dark, rusting reminders to what happens when good people refuse to let evil prevail." ###

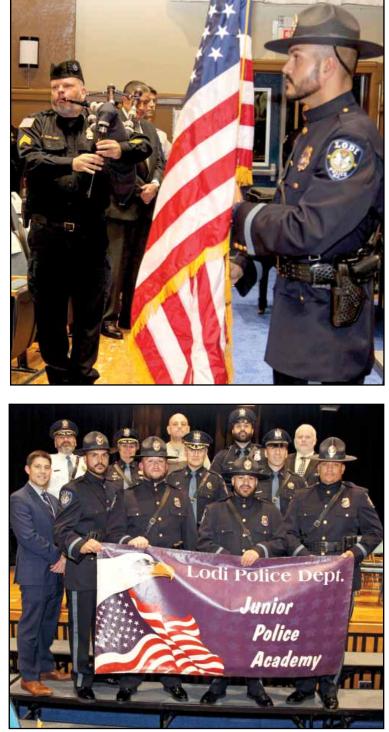

Lodi Police Department Holds Jr. Police Academy Graduation

The program began with the presentation of colors led by bag piper Sgt. J. Garland from Teaneck Police Department. Speakers included Police Chief Scorzetti, BOE Superintendent Frank Quatrone, Jefferson School Principal Jack Lipari, and Councilman Vincent Martin, retired Detective Sgt. The keynote speaker was Detective Division Commander Captain Joseph Quatrone. community in a hands-on approach to basic police work. The core function of this program is to provide an interactive learning experience that focuses on the different aspects of police work.

It provides the youth of the community an avenue to experience and appreciate the role that police officers play in our society, while building the bridge of cooperation and respect between the youth and law enforcement.

During this nine week training class, these "cadets" were required to participate in physical training, inclusive of calisthenics and relay races, similar to physical education classes. The cadets are also given hand-outs and written instruction on topics plaguing society today such as bullying, peer pressure, drinking and driving, drug abuse, and how to say no.

They experienced visits from the local fire department, ambulance corps, the Bergen County Sheriff's Department K-9 Unit and Bureau of Criminal Identification, and Sensei David Castro of Tiger Schulman's Karate of Morris Plains. They also took a tour of the Bergen County Jail where the cadets spoke with an inmate whose life went awry, from being a professional arena football player, to his life and inmate, through drug and subsance abuse. ###
