Diversity

Each culture is unique. Having its own distinctive style. Art. Crafts. Music. Food. Dress. Costumes. Customs. It's not about homogenizing cultures into a bland pudding, a one note song or a monochrome painting. With many elements working together creating sweetness and texture like a tasty stew, symphony or vivid tapestry. It's about celebrating diversity. It makes a much richer and fuller America to have various cultures inside our shared "big tent." See Rutherford Multicultural Festival on pages 18-19.

"Keep Wood-Ridge Beautiful" Celebrating its 18th Year!

On behalf of the Keep Wood-Ridge Beautiful Committee and the Mayor and Council, I would like to thank all the volunteers who came out on Sunday, June 4, 2017 for our 18th annual cleanup day.

Over 140 volunteers participated. The purpose of this event was to raise awareness of our environment and the impact of litter.

Hackensack Street and Valley Blvd. were cleaned while flowers were freshly planted at The Library, Civic Center, Senior Center, Veterans Park on Valley Boulevard and CE Doyle school.

A shredding event was also held on Sunday, June 4th, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., in front of the Civic Center. This event was sponsored by the Bergen County Board of Health and BCUA.

This year's tee shirt art design contest was offered in Grades 7 and 8 with the winner, Yasmin Diras, receiving a check for $50, compliments of the Mayor and Council. Her artwork design and name were prominently displayed on the front of each tee shirt.

It was gratifying to see the shared efforts of many organizations in town including the Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Knights of Columbus, WRHS students, Police Department Auxiliary, Fire/EMS Department, DPW, Transformation Life Church, Kearny Bank, Teterboro Airport representatives and individual families, all working together with enthusiasm and cooperation for the betterment of Wood-Ridge. Wood-Ridge is a special place to live and it was certainly evident that friends and neighbors take pride in our community.

I would like to encourage all residents and business owners to do their part to "Keep Wood-Ridge Beautiful" all Ezio Altamura and Councilyear round by picking up litter and recycling. Set an example to follow!

Provided by Councilman

man Ed Marino, Co-Chairman, KWRB Borough of Wood-Ridge. ###

Boulevard in Bloom

Beautiful flowering planters have adorned The Boulevard for over 10 years.

The Hasbrouck Heights Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with the Hasbrouck Heights Garden Club, invited businesses and residents to sponsor a flowering planter by making a $50 donation.

The planting was done by the Garden Club at the DPW on Saturday, May 20, 2017.

The DPW moved the flower pots to their Boulevard location. The DPW will water the plants during the season. After the summer, the DPW will collect the flower pots and store them for the winter.

The Beta Club from the Hasbrouck Heights Middle School will lend a hand overseeing and pruning the planters throughout the summer.

Shannon Dalton Forde Field Dedicated

With Mets announcer Gary Cohen as MC, over 100 MLB, and members of the New York Mets organization, media, elected officials, community, and friends joined the family on Friday, June 2, 2017, to formally dedicate the new Shannon Dalton Forde Field on Mehrhof Road, Little Ferry.

Speakers included Mets owner, Jeff Wilson, niece, Felicia and Mayor Mauro Raguseo. Also in attendance were Al Leiter and Todd Zile, John Franco, David Wright, Managers Bobby Valentine and Willie Randolph, GM's Sandy Aldeson, Omar Minaya and Jim Duquette, who remember what she meant to the Mets organization and them personally. On January 6, 2017, a resolution named the field in her honor.

Shannon Dalton Forde was a lifelong Little Ferry resident who passed away last year at the age of 44 after a battle with breast cancer. She left behind her husband, John and two children, Nicholas and Kendall.

After graduating college, Shannon took an internship with the New York Mets and stayed with her beloved team for more than 22 years. She worked her way from intern to Senior Director of Media Relations.

Major League Baseball raised $235,000 through a league-wide auction in Shannon's memory to refurbish an underutilized open field with protective fencing, benches, bleachers, backstop, scoreboard, landscaping, etc.-- just two blocks from where she and her sister, Alicia, grew up

The Little Ferry Police Activities League managed the project and will use the remaiing auction funds for softball programs at that field.

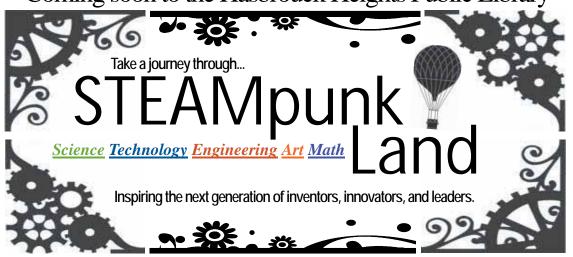

With the first pitch thrown by 9 year old Nick Forde, the once barren field was transformed into a "field of dreams" to honor the memory of a truly remarkable woman. ###

Troop 17 Went Weekend Camping to Visit Gettysburg

The weekend of April 28 to 30, 2017, Troop 17 went on a camping trip to Gettysburg,

The Scouts camped in patrol tents on Friday night after the long drive, enjoying the campfire and friends. The adults rested after the long drive. Saturday started with patrol breakfast, lots of camp coffee for the adults and then off to the Gettysburg Visitor Center to view the museum and displays. Onward to a hike of the battlefield.

The hike went across all the major battle points and past many of the stone monuments made for different army units. We learned that the fighting was intense and in some points hand to hand.

We visited re-enactors that explained what life was like in the battle and what types of supplies and weapons were

All of the different kinds of cannon shells had different uses. There were so many different types of cannons.

We hiked into the battlefield and walked the path of the soldiers up to Little Round Top. Many of the houses in the area had historical markers saying that they had been field hospitals during the battle.

We visited the national cemetery where President Lincoln gave the Gettysburg Address and saw all the graves in neat rows.

Dinner was a treat, we went to General Pickett's Buffet and kept the kitchen staff very busy as well as the gift shop staff.

After dinner we took a hike through the town for desserts and to see the houses that still had all of the bullet holes in the bricks from the battle.

Sunday morning we had patrol breakfast, broke camp, packed up the troop trailer and headed home.

We had a great time visiting Gettysburg and learning about one of the major points in our American history.

Special shout out to Assistant Scoutmaster Jim Halloran, a member of Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, for coming and adding so much more detail and knowledge to the sites that we visited.

Troop 17 is chartered by Corpus Christi Church.

Any boy, middle and high school age interested in Scouting, is invited to attend a meeting on Thursdays at 7:30 p.m. at the Corpus Christi ECLC.

Team Brody's Walk for Autism

On May 21, 2017, we participated in the Autism Speaks walk at MetLife Stadium. Our son, Brody, is 3 and a half years old and has autism. He makes progress every day and continues to surprise us in showing what he is capable of!

We had about 60 people, including friends and family, walk with our team, Brody's Sour Patch Kids. We are so thankful for all of the support of the local community.

Having a child with autism has some challenging times, but it is the support of friends, family and the local community that help get us through it. After the walk we went back to the Wood-Ridge Fire House where we had a team get together. Provided by Lauren and Bill Bergner. ###

Nash East Performs in Hasbrouck Heights

The Basking Ridge-based band, Nash East, featuring vocalist, Gloria, playing the tambourine, vocalists Tex and Jeff, each playing the guitar and drummer, John, brought the sounds of country music to life in Hasbrouck Heights. The group's performance was held on June 3, 2017 and was scheduled by The Friends of The Free Public Library of Hasbrouck Heights.

The band performed hits made famous by Hank Williams, Johnny Cash, George Strait, Dolly Parton, Patsy Cline and many other great singers.

Their play list was perfect. It included many great standards like "Jambalaya," "Your Cheatin' Heart," "Ring of Fire," "Hey Good Lookin," "On the Road Again," "Country Road," "Rock Me Mama," "All my X's Live in Texas" and many, many more.

All who attended enjoyed the talented, high-energy band's enthusiasm. The band played songs, which many could not only sing along to but also dance to. At one point, Coby Jasionek, a member of the audience, was asked to join the group to play the tambourine and later some women got up to line dance to many of the songs.

This year, The Free Public Library of Hasbrouck Heights will be celebrating its 100th Anniversary. Because of this, The Friends of The Library are scheduling a series of musical events to be held throughout the year.

This concert was the second. All who attended agreed that the performers were great. Light refreshments were served at the end of the program. Photo and story provided by Marie and Peter Gallo Jr. ###

The Blue Chip Chorus is a group of 25 to 30 men who are members of the Teaneck Chapter of the Barbershop Harmony Society.

The four men who entertained in Wood-Ridge demonstrated how well they could harmonize together with such familiar songs as "My Wild Irish Rose," "I've Been Working on the Railroad," "When You Were Sweet Sixteen," "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," "Sweet and Lovely," "Goodbye My Coney Island Baby," and "You're Nobody Till Somebody Loves You."

All who attended enjoyed the program and indulged at the Strawberry Festival.

Artful Thinking

By Artie Maglionico • Lodi Historian

Fresh Frosh '64

It was mid-October in the year 1964 when those carefree days of the previous summer had long since vanished into the dismal haze of autumn. At least that's how the kids at Lodi High felt about it when the bell rang to begin first period classes.

On this particular morning things weren't as "dismal" as they had come to expect. An announcement came over the homeroom intercom that first period classes were cancelled due to a student body assembly which was to be held in the school auditorium.

Of course, for the Class of 1964 at least, there were no questions asked as to the nature of the assembly. All that mattered was that they were getting a short reprieve from the humdrum of the classroom.

By the time the students found their way into the auditorium members of R.B.A (Rule Breakers Anonymous) began to create a little havoc throughout the ranks of their fellow classmates.

Before you could say "two weeks' Detention," paper airplanes were being launched in droves all aimed at random targets...that is to say wherever they landed was considered a bull's eye.

There was laughter and frolic galore and while all of this was going on members of Mr. Guyers' woodshop class were singing a song by the Platters called "When the Twilight is Gone."

The chorus was led by the master of mischief, the larger than life prankster extraordinaire, the king of comedic insults, the Don Rickles of LHS, Mr. Charles "Bomba" Juscavage.

I could write a four part series on Charley Bomba alone since he was that controversial.

Both he and a kid by the name of Ronnie Giles have become Lodi High School legends whose free spirited approach to life and the people around them are talked about 'till this day.

Bomba always had in his possession a roll of bills (of various denominations), thick enough to; as he put it, "change your name."

At the slightest urging Bomba would draw this roll of money from his pocket with the speed and accuracy of an old west gunslinger. He'd aim at anyone who challenged his audacity and folks, let me tell you, that everyone at one time or another "took water" (such was the parlance of the class of '64) from the great Charlie

"Bomba" Juscavage.

Getting singled out by Bomba actually became a status symbol among the student body since it meant that you were big enough to be cut down to size. We loved him for it!

Ask my cousin Anthony, he'll tell you more about Charles. Both Charles and Ron have since crossed the Jordan and are missed by all who knew them.

Any way...where was I? Oh yea ...suddenly standing at the top of the stage entrance way was none other than the big man himself Vice Principal Mr. August Lascari.

Amazed, but not that surprised, at the free for all that was taking place before him he cancelled the assembly and sent everyone back to their scheduled classes.

Students Linda Costa and her cousin Mary Ann headed back to Mr. Paul Speziale's 1st period English class only to find that they were the only students to have returned. The rest of the kids, taking advantage of the assembly, had left the building...you know...cut class! Mr. "Spiz" (as he was affectionately called by his students) after realizing that no one was coming back, looked at Linda and Mary Ann and said "I know where they are." They're at Ross's Diner having coffee and cheesecake."

Needless to say those same kids attended an assembly of their own...Detention!

So here we go folks ...Part three of my summer heat wave marathon about my life in Lodi High School. I'm going to try and squeeze a part four out of this series to get us all through the dog days of August. Let's get on with it then shall we?

Wow...I cannot believe it's July already. Oh by the way, as of the 1st of this month there are 178 days until Merry Christmas '17. Just thought I'd throw that in for all of you early bird shoppers. (Yes, Gladys and Marie, I'm talking to you!)

Lodi High School always had more than its share of good looking girls.

To my knowledge, at least while I was there, few of them ever ventured into the dimly lit hallways of the bottom floor where the cellar dwellers of the Industrial Arts set lurked.

Folks these girls had it all: Good looks, charm, personality and ...oh yea...brains. Such was the order of their appeal when viewed from a teenage boy's perspective.

Among those girls was a Columbus School classmate of mine by the name of Loretta Cardone (best figure Class of '65). I was aware of her beauty as early as 4th Grade when girls did your homework for you and made you book covers out of brown paper bags...wait...That was my mother!

Any way, Loretta's eyes glittered like stars in a moonlit sky. Her smile was so warm that it was known to melt the butch wax in a boy's crew cut.

It wasn't surprising to me that upon her arrival at LHS Loretta gained instant popularity and took her rightful place along the social and academic main stream. I for one remained in awe of her ethereal presence...yea she was, and is, quite a gal.

Now in all honesty there was a lot going around me that I never took part in. Things that I didn't know existed until I stumbled across them in my year book 52 years later.

There was the Boy's Glee Club, the Girl's Glee Glub, the French Club, the Italian Club, the German Club, the Spanish Club, the Varsity Club, the Girl's Athletic Club and the Turkey Club... hold the mayo... which I enjoyed whenever possible

Let's not leave out the HI-Y and the Tri-HI-Y. These were all what we "shop kids" referred to as rah, rah activities ...you know...the college bound students who basically ran the show ...a show I never really took part in, but in my own secretive way wanted to.

I used to view them from afar and admire their confident demeanor, their school spirit and oh yes their "brains."

I had to burn the midnight oil making cheat sheets just to maintain a C average at best. The only C those kids ever knew was on a Vitamin bottle.

Hey don't get me wrong they were a great bunch of kids and believe it or not by some strange twist of fate I wound up with them in Mr. Lama's History class. I stood out like the proverbial sore thumb and spent most of my time trying to figure out ways to hide under my desk

It was a successful maneuver in elementary school but by my junior year I was too large to pull it off.

I was surrounded by some of the smartest kids in school among them Russell Diamante, Walter Gerold (who became president of the entire student council) and members of the exclusive girls sorority the Dea Saggios, Mary Lee Kollarik and Linda Vintaloro.

On the first day of class as our teacher, Mr. Lama, took roll call. He got to my name and asked in a rather serious tone "Maglionico are you in the right class?" All I could mutter was "I hope not!"

With that the entire class burst into laughter as Mr. Lama looked up into the heavens thinking, no doubt, that only divine intervention would get him through the school year.

Later that term some of the students awarded him with a WMCA Radio "Good Guy "sweat shirt. That's what Mr. Lama was...A heck of a good guy and one of my favorite teachers.

I had one thing going for me in that class of honor students...I was never too far from the right answer. If by chance I was called upon to answer a question someone was always there to get me off the hook and for that I thanked them. It was like having a room full of older siblings looking out for their kid brother when the going got tough.

From there I descended into woodshop class which was quite a drop in status considering where I was the period before. There wasn't a rah, rah to be found except for the little that had rubbed off on me and was quickly covered in sawdust.

For a student of LHS In the mid-60s one of our favorite pastimes was making good natured fun of the marching band. We never took "cheap shots" at band members mind you. We realized that it took more courage to join the band than it did to join the football team.

The kids in the band had many a wisecrack hurled in their direction yet on they played. It was okay for us to have innocent fun with our band but to those outside of the LHS family (and we were a family) it was wise to keep their opinion to themselves.

Either you were from Lodi or you weren't ...there was no such thing as just passing through unless it was in a hurry.

I recall sitting in Mr. Feldman's math class listening to the band rehearsing in the music room which was just below us. I can still hear them playing a big band tune of the '40s called "In The Mood." I swear they must have played that song a thousand times in 1963 alone.

They seemed to improve each marking period and by 1965 were ready to play at halftime where they were at the mercy of the wind...the autumn wind. At times as they played in front of the home stands they were heard by people having lunch in their Burns Avenue homes which were a good half mile behind the stadium. The jet stream carried with it that song through every side street in Lodi.

It has been said, by dreamers like me, that on a breezy day in mid-October, if you listen carefully enough, you can hear the distant strains of the Lodi High School band playing..."In The Mood."

Well folks, that does it for part three. Next month I'll take you back to some of the LHS hang outs like Cardy's Sugar Bowl on Union Street and Tony's Pool Room somewhere on the old main street. Until, then keep enjoying summer '17. And thanks for reading. Oh yea, before I forget...I'd like to thank all the members of The Hasbrouck Heights Leisure Club for saying such nice things about my stories. You make it all worthwhile. You're a great audience. Happy 4th of July! ###

Eight Boys Attend Boys State

American Legion Jersey Boys State (ALJBS) is one of the best and most prestigious youth Programs in the United States today. This session marks their 72nd anniversary.

The program educates our youth in the duties, rights and responsibilities of American Citizenship. Participants learn the practical mechanics of government by actually performing the functions of local and state government. Hasbrouck Heights High School juniors John Capozzi, Bharadwaj Chirravuri, Tsering Ganghar, Peter Lohrmann, Ankit Patel, Jake Schloemann, Joseph Terreri, and James Varga are among the 140 Bergen County high school boys selected to be delegates to this year's ALJBS.

The session took place at Rider University June 18-23, 2017 and hosted 1,000 plus high school juniors across the state.Once selected, the boys received information and forms about ALJBS from American Legion department headquarters in Trenton, NJ, plus were required to attend two county orientation meetings. These meetings gave them details as to what they should expect at ALJBS.

As delegates, they had the opportunity to govern and interact with some of the top high school juniors from across the State of New Jersey and run their own mythical 51st state.

They had a unique opportunity to not only learn but also try to find solutions to the real life problems facing councilmen, mayors, freeholders, county executives, assemblymen, senators, and governor. Provided by Peter Gallo Jr.

Full Buck Moon

The July full moon appears on Sunday, July 9, 2017, at 12:07 a.m. It is called the "Full Buck Moon."

According to the Farmer's Almanac, July is normally the month when the new antlers of buck deer push out of their foreheads in coatings of velvety fur.

It is also often called the "Full Thunder Moon," for the reason that thunderstorms are most frequent during this time. Another name for July's moon is the "Full Hay Moon."

The Native American Indians of the northern and eastern United States kept track of the seasons by giving a name to each recurring full moon. European settlers followed the custom. ###

It Takes a Village

The Carlstadt Education Association dedicated the Wall of Education on June 10, 2017 to honor the men and women who have dedicated their lives to educating the children of Carlstadt. The program began with a welcome from Joe Trotter. A Blessing was given by Rev. Donald Pitches. How "an idea that took root was presented by Rita C. Brautigam. There was the introduction of Honorees and Distribution of Certificates. Euclid's Going Green Club Members were introduced to the art of composting. They enjoyed making their little bins to take home. Some were a little squeamish about picking up their own red wigglers. But, once one did it; they all wanted to feel those wigglers and pick out their own worms. They know to feed the worms every bit of scraps from their food, except meat and dairy, since they do produce an odor. They are excited to begin this little adventure in their homes. Most said their moms would not like the worms. They thought the worms were "soooo cute" and "great pets" too. All the students agreed that they really want to try some composting. Provided by Pat McSweeney. ###

Visiting HH Police and Fire Departments...

...as a bonus, the Euclid Kindergartners were shown the EMT's ambulance. They learned all about the tools of the EMT along with a tour of the inside of the vehicle.

On to the HH Fire Department the children went. The hoses were huge. The fire trucks were so high to climb into but everyone made it. They were awed by the weight of all the clothes that a fireman has to wear to be safe.

They felt the helmet alone was "way too heavy" for their heads. Then, they toured the whole Police Department and pledged never to sit on the perpetrator's bench and never be placed in those "smelly cells." The lights on the police cars were blinding. They enjoyed visiting the front desk and seeing that the police could protect them even at school with a camera hooked up to their school. It was an amazing learning experience for all! Provided by Pat McSweeney. ###

During their community visits the Euclid Kindergartners traveled to The Habrouck Heights Public Library. Some knew The Library. Others had never been to The Library. They all enjoyed learning where to find books they could read themselves as well as some famous series books they loved. The librarian, Ms. Kate, read them a pigeon book and they participated enthusiastically. It was a great learning experience. Provided by Pat McSweeney. ###

The Hasbrouck Heights Librarian came to visit Euclid Elementary School. She came to remind students of all the wonderful programs The Library will be having for them this summer. There will be prizes, a bubble production, and of course Lego building. All children can sign up for the summer reading program to receive incentive prizes to read even more. Everyone was excited to join the reading program. Provided by Pat McSweeney. ###

Memorial Day Parade Returns to Lodi

After a decade long absence from the streets of Lodi, Mayor Emil Carafa and Council paved the way for what was the community's long awaited return of their Memorial Day Parade.

The event honored those Military Veterans who made the Supreme Sacrifice so that we at home can keep alive "The American Dream." God Bless all Veterans and may God Bless America. Provided by Artie Maglionico, Lodi Historian. ###

A View From the Other Side of a Parade

Memorial Day is a day set aside to honor the military personnel who have paid the ultimate sacrifice for their country. Summer unofficially kicks off on that weekend and for the most part Memorial Day is celebrated with friends getting together, barbecues and parades.

Memorial Day, May 29, 2017, was not a traditional sunny day. It was a cloudy, extremely cold and wet day. It was not an appealing day! The weather forecast was for rain and temperatures in the fifties. Many communities had to cancel their parades and move their services indoors.

Hasbrouck Heights was one of the few communities that decided to still go on with their parade despite the drizzle at the start of it. No one expected a crowd of observers, but the VFW and the American Legion wanted this parade.

As a Veteran and one who has participated in many Memorial Day Parades as a marcher, and more recently as one being driven in an antique car, I was more impressed with this one. There was something special this year. Maybe it was there in the past, however, this year I became more aware of it.

Anyone viewing a parade has a different perspective of the parade from one who is participating in it. The crowds were thinner but the residents did come out, some with umbrellas, some from their house or apartment windows and some just standing there. All cheered us on. But this year I noticed that many were not only cheering but also saluting us as we drove by. A salute has always been used to show respect towards an officer, the flag and our country. In this Memorial Day Parade those residents of Hasbrouck Heights who lined the wet street along the parade route were there to show respect to the Veterans sitting in the antique cars and they did and we noticed and we appreciated it. ## Rained Out Parade Doesn't Effect Community's Spirit

Memorial Day, May 29, 2017 meant different things to different people in Wood-Ridge. For some, it meant pausing to remember those who had fallen in the service of their country.

For others, it was a day off from work, a chance to linger over a barbeque with family and friends or hit the mall to take advantage of the great sales. For still others, it was a day to march in the annual parade.

But unfortunately this Memorial Day, rain had forced the cancellation of the parade. This was the second year in a row of the annual parade.

Rain may have canceled the Wood-Ridge parade, but it didn't stop the town from continuing its tradition of honoring those men and women who made the supreme sacrifice for their country.

These acknowledgments were transferred to the Senior Center. Residents assembled there to honor and enjoy the holiday with the marchers, town officials and friends. The hot dogs and ice cream were still served as promised.

Father Paul Keenan was that rain had dictated the fate this year's Memorial Day's Grand Marshal. He served on active duty in the United States Air Force from 1979 to 1985 mostly with the former Strategic Air Command as an Intelligence Officer.

He was assigned to the 92 Bomb Wing at Fairchild AFB in Spokane, WA and then a oneyear tour of duty with the 604th Direct Air Support Squadron at Camp Red Cloud in Korea followed by another tour with SAC at the 91st Strategic Missile Wing at Minot AFB in Minot, North Dakota. He left active duty with the rank of Captain.

Father Paul didn't have the opportunity to ride in an open car; and he didn't have the opportunity to wave at the lines of parade watchers. But Father Paul took the situation in stride. Knowing his sense of humor, one would expect him to say "I wish the rain would keep up, so that it doesn't come down!" "Rain always puts a damper on things!" and also "Remember somewhere the sun is shining! Why couldn't it be here!"

Of course, he didn't make any of these comments. He accepted the situation and enjoyed the day with the community. Father Paul did express that "It was an incredible honor to offer the invocation prayer and be selected as the Grand Marshal for this year's Memorial Day parade.

Wood-Ridge is an incredible Borough to live and minister in. Taking time to remember in prayer those brave men and women who gave their lives in the service of this country and those who continue to give their lives is an honor beyond words." Photos and story by Marie and Peter Gallo Jr. ###

Moonachie Community Memorial Service Honors Veterans

On May 21, 2017, at 7 p.m., the First Presbyterian Church of Moonachie hosted a Community Memorial Service in honor of Veterans and Emergency Workers, especially those who have given their lives in service to the country and the community.

For 30 years, this service was hosted by the VFW and the American Legion, but as their membership aged, the First Presbyterian Church offered to continue the tradition.

About 100 attended this year, to include members of the Carlstadt and Little Ferry VFW and American Legion, Veterans from Moonachie and the surrounding areas, as well as Moonachie Mayor, and Moonachie Police and Fire Departments.

Just prior to the service, combined Veterans' organizations, Moonachie Fire Department/Ladies' Auxiliary, and Moonachie First Aid and Rescue Squad, led a processional into the Church.

The program included Invocation, hymn, "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," scripture, sermon, "A Different Kind of Power," by Rev. Samuel Weddington, collection to benefit the Moonachie Scholarship Fund, Choral Anthem by the Sanctuary Choir, reflections and a prayer of dedication by participating organizations. "Taps" was played, Evening Prayer was said.

The Benediction was given with the recessional, "America, the Beautiful," sung by all.

The annual program remembers the Veterans who have died, to honor those who are living, and to praise God for all they have done.

Light refreshments fol-

For years, this annual Service has been organized by John Huettermann, Past Commander of the Moonachie VFW. ###

Cemetery Detail

On Sunday, May 28, 2017, Carlstadt American Legion Post 69 and Sons of American Legion, VFW Post 3149, Carlstadt Scout Troop 51, Cub Pack 51, and East Rutherford Cub Pack 65, placed flowers and flags at our fallen Heroes' grave sites at the Berry Lawn Cemetery in Carlstadt. Approximately 100 graves were attended to this year. On May 28, both the American Legion and the VFW Post 3149 were involved in the town parade, which ended at the Cemetery. ###

Fireworks are Illegal in NJ

While people want to display their patriotism more than ever this 4th of July, the Hasbrouck Heights Police Department reminds residents and visitors that all fireworks including Chinese firecrackers, Roman candles, M80's, cherry bombs, salutes, M100's, etc., are illegal to possess, use or sell.

Sparklers, which can reach temperatures above 1,200 degrees Fahrenheit, can cause serious burns or set clothing on fire.

Only paper and plastic caps, like those for toy guns, are allowed in New Jersey.

The HHPD stated that residents should leave fireworks displays to professionals who have a municipal permit and insurance as well as experience in handling these dangerous devices.

The Hasbrouck Heights Police Department noted that the vast majority of illegal fireworks are brought into New Jersey by adults and, as a result of such irresponsible actions, a disproportionate number of children suffer injuries.

In an effort to prevent injuries and property damage, state and local authorities have stepped up enforcement activities during the summer "fireworks season" confiscating illegal fireworks wherever found.

In any given year, the State Police confiscate between 500 and 1,000 cases of illegal fireworks or approximately six to eight tons of illegal explosives.

Possession of illegal fireworks is a disorderly person offense and is punishable by a fine of up to $1,000 and/or up to 30 days in jail.

Possession with intent to sell is a Fourth Degree crime, punishable by fine of up to $10,000 and/or up to 18 months in jail. ###

Veterans Today

By Thomas Marshall

The Revolution had many crazy things and fights that most have never heard of. Small engagements, although not as remembered as the big fights are, but were just as important as the larger ones. Here is one that happened in July. In South Carolina a long time ago.

The British Military had taken Charleston, South Carolina in May of 1780. The British Army then built a fortification at Rocky Mount, a high piece of land overlooking the area.

Rocky Mount was commanded by Lt. Colonel George Turnbull. He had about 150 troops to defend Rocky Mount. He had New York Volunteers with him and some British Legion Dragoons.

The New York Volunteers were those men from New York that stayed loyal to the British after the Revolution began.

The Legion Dragoons were under the Command of Captain Christian Huck. He was a lawyer before the War in Philadelphia. He too remained loyal to the British cause and it was said that he had a particular dislike of Presbyterians in South Carolina.

Huck and some troops were sent out to destroy the Iron Works at Fishing Creek. This he accomplished to the satisfaction of the British Commander. He destroyed military stores as well as farming equipment.

Turnbull had received news that Captain John Mc-Clure and Colonel William Bratton had returned to South Carolina to prepare to harvest their wheat crops. These two were American Patriots and Turnbull wanted them captured.

This looked like a job for Captain Christian Huck.On July 10, 1780, Turnbull sent Huck out with 35 British Legion Dragoons, 20 mounted Loyal New Yorkers and 50 felt he had control of the area. Tory Militia to capture Mc- He never posted pickets. Clure and Bratton.

went to McClure's House first. He did not find the Captain at home. Captain McClure left earlier in the day to raise recruits. They did find his younger brother and his brother-in-law, who were young men at the time, melting down pewter plates to make musket balls for the American Patriots. Huck had them locked up in a corn crib and informed them they would be hanged in the morning. Mrs. McClure protested to Huck and he struck her on the head with his sword.

They then went on to Bratton's house. The Colonel was not home either. He too, was gathering troops to fight. His wife was ordered to prepare food for the officers.

Huck demanded to know where her husband was. She pretended ignorance and told him she didn't know. One of Huck's officers grabbed a reaping hook off the wall and threatened to kill her by cutting her head off if she didn't tell them where he was.

Like a dutiful wife again she said she didn't know. Another officer intervened and her life was spared.

Bratton and McClure had learned that Huck and his men were terrorizing the area. They gathered some Militia and made plans to intercept Captain Huck and his men. Captain Edward Lacey, an American Patriot, also lived nearby.

He and his men joined Bratton and McClure's force. He wasn't worried that his mother and his wife would tell the British were they were should they pay his home a vist. He was worried that his father, a loyal British supporter, would betray him. He snuck back into his house and tied up his father to keep the secret.

After dinner Huck and his men moved to Williamson's Plantation. They did this because the plantation had oats for the horses. Captain Huck

The Dragoons were ar-Huck and his small force ranged around the house while the New York Tories stayed in a fenced in lane that led from the main road to the house.

The Patriots moved to capture Huck and went to Bratton's house for a fight. He had left already and they learned that he had gone to Williamson's plantation. Bratton's Patriots numbered around 250 men.

They made plans to attack the Plantation in the morning on two sides, one force from the West, the other from the East, making sure none of the British escaped. With no sentinel or pickets it was easy for the Patriots to move in close.

They moved in and waited behind trees, waiting for the morning sun to shine its rays on the field of battle. It was July 12, 1780.

Not amused at all by how their ladies were treated, this was going to be Huck's last day on earth.

When the sun rose the Patriots attacked. Taken completely by surprise the Dragoons tried to counter attack. The fence and trees frustrated their movement and they were driven back by musket fire.

The New York Loyalists, seeing that the main road was blocked, many grounded their arms and held up their hands in surrender. Others ran to the woods to escape. Huck tried to rally his men.

A militia man named John Carroll loaded two balls into his gun and fired. One went through Captain Huck's neck. He died on the spot. 30 British troops were wounded on the field, another 35 were dead. A man named Campbell was the only dead the Americans suffered. In about 10 minutes the battle of Williamson's Plantation was over.

The prisoners that were taken were sent back to Rocky Mount. The people that lived nearby had a renewed morale. They were glad to be rid of this terrorizing British force.

Small as it was the battle proved that Americans can gain an edge and defeat British troops.

Probably not remembered much today because it was small, the battle of William son's Plantation is remembered in South Carolina simply as Huck's defeat. Happy Fourth of July. ### of the infrastructural issues at New York Penn Station. The temporary train cancellations have been announced.

Amtrak's Future — "on track"

The Acela Express is still in full service. Other trains are running on a modified schedule. Penn Station's issues may pose a major inconvenience, but it's important for all Amtrak and New Jersey transit riders to be aware of the significant progress Amtrak has made to improve its infrastructure. Amtrak's efforts are on "track."

Over the past twenty years, Amtrak has made great strides in improving its famed Northeast Corridor route between Boston and Washington, DC.

1) Amtrak has replaced three bridges; the Pequonnock River crossing in Bridgeport, CT, the Niantic River bascule bridge in East Lyme, CT, and the Thames River bascule bridge in New London, CT.

The Niantic River crossing was replaced with a modern bascule bridge with a higher to protect the tracks from storm surge. The Thames River bridge was ninety-seven years old. It was replaced with a lift bridge. The center section lifts vertically to allow boat traffic to pass through.

Spanning the Hackensack River in between Secaucus and Kearny, NJ is the one hundred and seven year-old Portal Bridge. Portal Bridge handles more than two hundred trains per day, Amtrak and New Jersey Transit combined. Portal Bridge is a swing bridge. It still opens to let boat traffic pass through. It still operates safely.

Each and every time the bridge opens and closes, it causes trains to be delayed approximately thirty minutes. The new fixed span will have a four-track right-of-way. The current bridge only has a twotrack right-of-way.

2) Amtrak, in conjunction with the Long Island Railroad, New Jersey Transit, and the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey, is making

Everyone is well-aware track level. This was done every effort possible to complete one of the most complex railroad station projects in New York City history.

> The replacing of the current New York Penn Station is a MUST-DO.

The original terminal, built in 1910, was far easier to navi-

The new Penn Station (a.k.a Moynihan Station), will be located inside the U.S. Post Office building across 8th Avenue. It is modeled after the original Penn Station, which was sadly demolished in 1966. Madison Square Garden stands in its place.

3) Since the deadly derailment of Amtrak's Regional train #188 in May 2015, Amtrak has made an incredible effort to fully install Positive Train Control on its Northeast Corridor line. Positive Train Control, or PTC, is made up of four components. Global Position Satellites track every train's location and speed. In the locomotives' cabs, a PTC display shows real-time information to the engineer, showing him/her conditions of the track ahead. Whether in good or inclement weather, the engineer will know what track conditions to be on the lookout for.

Thirdly, there is rightof-way apparatus installed in every section of track. When trains pass through these zones, the trains' locations and speeds are reported to the dispatchers. The dispatcher keeps a close eye on the trains' movements. If a train is traveling too fast in a certain area of track, and the engineer has not yet acted, the dispatcher can remotely slow the train down. Worse case scenario, the dispatcher can remotely bring the train to a complete stop.

4) South of Baltimore's Penn Station, is the one hundred and forty-six year old Baltimore & Potomac Tunnel. Amtrak's trains pass through this two-track tunnel in between Baltimore and Washington, DC. Unlike the twin tunnels under the Hudson River, the B & P Tunnel is a major bottleneck. The speed limit is 30 mph. The proposed replacement tunnel will be slightly longer but with a wider track radius to allow higher speeds.

Amtrak takes great pride in its history and its commitment to providing top notch passenger service. Keeping the well-traveled Northeast Corridor route up to date is a year-round challenge.

Amtrak has successfully replaced bridges, improved several stations, and installed PTC to closely monitor train movements. Tunnel replacements are still #1 on Amtrak's to-be-accomplished list.

Despite the issues at New York Penn, Amtrak's future is without-a-doubt "on track." Provided by David Kriso. ###

Real Estate Insight

By Mary Ellen Courtney

Be Aware and BEWARE!

Imagine, if you can, this home purchase nightmare: After weeks of getting ready, you're about ready to go to closing. Moving trucks are on the way.

Based on instructions you received by email from either your real estate agent or your attorney or the title company, you've wired closing funds to the bank account that they specified.

But the tens of thousands of dollars you wired - maybe hundreds of thousands - never arrived. Instead the money got diverted to an account set up by offshore cyber-pirates who've hacked into your agent's or your lawyer's or the title agency's email accounts. They've been watching their communications with you, waiting for the right moment to pounce.

Now the money's gone - hijacked to an unknown account in some foreign country. You can't get it back. Forget about buying the house! You've just lost your entire life savings!!!

Increasingly, hackers are penetrating the real estate industry, making off with funds meant for home buying.

Let me explain how they do it. In processing the deal, your realtor and the attorney and the title company all have pertinent information regarding your closing date.

The hacker who has successfully broken into these email accounts, takes note of the individual sale details. He learns the name of the seller, buyer and all the parties lender, title company, escrow provider and attorney - involved in the transaction.

These hackers are pros; their work is convincing and sophisticated. From studying the agent's or other's email accounts, they soon learn to appear and sound like them online.

These aren't the hackers of past decades who were notorious for poor communications skills, lousy grammar and spelling. Their emails appear to come from the genuine source and only very careful examination reveals that they are actually "dummy" accounts.

About the time the buyer would normally expect to get instructions for how to transmit closing costs, the hacker sends an email with wiring instructions.

There's always some excuse about why this is necessary and urgent, perhaps due to some "last minute circumstances" or "technical problems." If the buyer complies, they are out of luck. The money is gone, almost always lost forever. And so also, the dream of home ownership.

Think this can't happen to you? Think again! This is a huge, widespread problem that is occurring nation-wide, including our own Bergen County region.

We know instances of the exact scenario happening right here in our local towns!

If you're involved in a home purchase and receive an email requesting a wire transfer, report it immediately! Notify (use the telephone!) whoever reportedly sent the email that their account has likely been hacked. Contact the Federal Trade Commission and let officials know of this wire transfer scam.

Keep in mind: a hacker can't steal information that's not online. That's the simplest, most effective way to prevent becoming a victim of these thieves.

When you need to send personal information to parties involved with the home purchase, do so via courier or phone, or stop by the office.

From the outset of any home buying venture, the real estate agent, the title company representative and the attorney should make it clear - in writing – that no email request to wire money will take place.

Real estate agents should have - like those in our office - informational material available for all clients warning them of the wire transfer fraud scam.

More fundamentally: it's never been more important to maintain good computer security, whether in a professional or personal capacity.

Change passwords often, don't open attachments unless you are sure they are legitimate and use up-to-date, high quality security software. Life on the Internet means staying one step ahead of the hackers, and that's not going to change anytime soon... ###

Filling You In

By Jeffrey E. Mason, D.M.D.

What does a dry mouth mean to my health?

Dry mouth (also called xerostomia) is caused by a decrease in the amount of saliva in the mouth when the salivary glands do not work properly. The salivary glands help keep your mouth moist, which helps prevent tooth decay and other oral health problems.

Prescription and over-thecounter medications are the most common cause of dry mouth. In fact, more than 400 medications can contribute to mouth dryness.

The most common troublemakers are antihypertensives, antidepressants, painkillers, tranquilizers, diuretics, and antihistamines.

Dry mouth may be a sign of a serious health condition or may occur when a person is upset or experiences stress.

It also can be caused by radiation therapy and chemotherapy, hormonal alterations or diseases such as AIDS, diabetes, or Sjögren's syndrome.

Patients with Alzheimer's disease or those who suffer a stroke may experience dry mouth. Approximately 30 percent of persons over the age of 65 are affected by dry mouth.

Can dry mouth cause health problems?

Yes. You want to prevent dry mouth if possible, because it can cause difficulty in tasting, chewing, or swallowing. It also allows plaque to build up on your teeth faster, leading to a higher risk of cavities.

In certain cases, a lack of moisture can make your tongue become very sensitive, causing a condition called burning mouth syndrome. Dry mouth can also lead to bad breath, ulceration or soreness of the mouth, gum disease, and difficulty in wearing dentures.

Why is saliva important?

Saliva helps wash away cavity-causing bacteria, provides enzymes to help digest food, protects teeth from decay by neutralizing harmful acids, and keeps oral tissues healthy. Without saliva you would lose your teeth much faster.

What is Sjögren's syndrome?

Sjögren's syndrome is an autoimmune disease in which a person's white blood cells attack their own moisture-producing glands. Approximately 4 million Americans have this condition. The majority of sufferers are women who are in their late 40s at the time of diagnosis.

Sjögren's syndrome is difficult to diagnose because symptoms vary greatly. Patients may experience dryness in the eyes and mouth, fatigue, or joint pain, and it also mimics the natural signs of aging.

How can my dentist help?

Your dentist will want to know if you have difficulty swallowing or speaking, oral soreness, or a dry throat. Help your dentist to diagnose the problem by paying close attention to the symptoms associated with dry mouth. If you have any questions about this condition, ask your dentist.

There are many treatments that can help ease the symptoms of dry mouth, including over-the-counter saliva substitutes. To ease discomfort, your dentist may also recommend the following:

- Brush and floss twice a day
  - Chew sugar-free gum
- Avoid alcohol and caffeine
  - Avoid smoking
- Avoid acidic juices (i.e., tomato, orange, grapefruit)
- Avoid dry foods, such as toast or crackers
  - Avoid overly salty foods
  - Drink plenty of water
- Regular dentist visits

Health Tip Sleep

Everybody needs a good night's sleep. Every person's body varies in how much sleep is necessary. That amount can also change depending upon the amount of activity each day. By ensuring that your body gets the amount of sleep that it needs each night, you are helping your body stay healthy and happy. The average sleep needed for an active adult is 6 - 8 hours of uninterrupted sleep each night. Sleep in a dark, quiet room and allow yourself enough time to get the sleep you need. Your body will tell you how much is necessary.

Getting enough sleep will help your mood, your metabolism, your immunity and almost every other aspect of your health. ###

Wood-Ridge Knights Distribute Bread

Council #11585 from Wood-Ridge distributed bread to all parishioners of Our Lady of Assumption Church after each Mass on the weekend of June 10 and 11, 2017. This annual event has taken place by the Council on the Sunday closest to June 13th, the feast day of St. Anthony of Padua, their patron saint. This year after the 11 a.m. Mass, Archbishop Cardinal Joseph William Tobin joined the Knights to support this project.

Saint Anthony was canonized (declared a saint) less than one year after his death because of the many miracles attributed to him. He is perhaps one of the more loved and admired saints in the Catholic Church.

Saint Anthony, a Franciscan friar, was a remarkable theologian and preacher. He became the first theology teacher in the Franciscan order and is referred to as "Doctor of the Church." He is popularly known as the patron saint for lost things. Although he was born in Portugal, he did most of his work in Italy. He was only 36 years old when he died. Photo and story by Marie and Peter Gallo Jr. ###

It all started in 1934, when a Catholic priest, while stationed at St. Patrick Church in Washington, D.C., organized the Catholic Police and Firemen's Society to attend a special Mass in their honor.

More than 1,000 police and firemen, dressed in their blue uniforms attended the Mass held on September 29, 1934. This first Blue Mass began a tradition of showing gratitude to emergency responders and their families. This tradition has continued throughout the Unites States since that date.

On Sunday, May 21, 2017 at their 9:30 a.m. Mass, the Church of the Assumption of Our Blessed Lady in Wood-Ridge held its first Annual Blue Mass for all men and women in law enforcement and in a special way the members of the Wood-Ridge Police Department and the Wood-Ridge Auxiliary Police. This Mass was to offer thanks to God for their dedication and sacrifice.

The local police and auxiliary officers were joined with representatives from the State Police, the State Police Honor Guard, the County, Federal Reserve and the Port Authority Police Departments. Many local police departments also sent representatives. Also present were members of the local fire department and emergency squad as well as members of Wood-Ridge Council.

A bagpiper, representing the Bergen County Pipe and Drum Corps, led the procession down the aisle. Honor guards consisting of police officers carrying American and other flags followed him. Also in the procession were representatives from Bishop O'Connor 4th Degree Color Corps Assembly 0647.

Rev. Father Richard Mucowski, Pastor of the Assumption Church, welcomed the law enforcement personnel and their families. He thanked them for their presence and for protecting the community. Rev. Father Paul Keenan presided at the Mass assisted by Deacon Frank Materia.

To conclude the service, the Honorable Paul Sarlo, State Senator and Mayor of Wood-Ridge, summed up the significance of the Blue Mass. He stated that the Mass was to honor, as well as, give thanks to those brave men and women in law enforcement currently serving, as well as, those who have died in the line of duty. He stated that they faithfully protect us, often placing others' lives and safety above their own.

"National Police Week" was held during the week of May 14 – May 20, 2017.

In 1962, John F. Kennedy designated May 15 "Peace Officers Memorial Day," a day to support law enforcement officers. Photos by Angelo Urato. Story by Peter Gallo Jr. ###

On November 28, 1926, the first Mass was celebrated in Wood-Ridge at Our Lady of the Assumption Church. The cornerstone for the Church was laid on August 15 of that same year.

The year long celebration of the 90th Anniversary of the Church began on August 15, 2016 and ended with a Mass held on June 11, 2017.

This was no ordinary Mass. For the first time in the history of the local Church the reigning Archbishop of Newark, Archbishop Cardinal Joseph William Tobin, not only visited the parish but also was presider at the 11 a.m. Mass.

Cardinal Tobin, born on May 3, 1952, grew up in Detroit. He was the oldest of 13 children.

In his 20's, he joined a religious order called the Redemptorists. He led the order from 1997 to 2009. In 2010 he became an official at the Vatican and in 2012 was appointed Archbishop of Indianapolis.

Cardinal Tobin was installed Archbishop of Newark on January 6, 2017.

The Cardinal's sincerity, congeniality, warmth, and approachability were evident after the Mass when all had the opportunity to interact with him as they left the Church.

He graciously posed for photos with all who wished and chatted with anyone who desired to speak to him. Photos by Nancy Zuccarelli. ###

On Father's Day, June 18, 2017, the St. Anthony Council Knights of Columbus from Wood-Ridge held their 11th Annual Father's Day Communion Breakfast.

The breakfast, which was held at the Fiesta, gave all the opportunity to acknowledge the outstanding job Grand Knight Gary Lepore did during the past Columbian year. Through his leadership the council was awarded "Star Council." The council membership increased, and all fundraisers and projects attempted were very successful.

Master of Ceremonies Past Grand Knight Russell Petrocelli reflected on the accomplishments of the Knights nationally and locally. He introduced Knights Chaplain Fr. Richard Mucowski and the past Grand Knights present as well as the New Jersey State Deputy elect, Robert E. Halter. He also thanked all the friends of the local council that were present with special thanks to the members of the Dumont chapter that faithfully support this breakfast.

The highlight of the breakfast was the announcement by GK Gary that his father, Frank D. Lepore Jr., was this year's Knight of the Year. Frank joined the Knights in 1996, but because of work demands, became inactive and finally dropped out of the organization. Upon the encouragement of his son, Gary, Frank reentered the Knights on January 11, 2016 and became a member of St. Anthony's Council. From that day on, his contribution to the Council, to his parish and to his community have been outstanding. He not only attends every council meeting, affair or fundraiser but also assists at every level. He wears his pride and a grin on his face. At the age of 73, Frank has the energy of a 21 year old.

The Knight of the Year is an award presented to the most outstanding Knight for the fraternal year, which ends June 30th of each year. Brother Frank Lepore is a most deserving selection.
