Feeding the Hungry

It has become more and more difficult for individuals to afford groceries because the cost of food and overall living has risen. Food pantries, soup kitchens, senior centers and food banks have tried to fill this need. They exist because people donate to them. They rely on donations from residents, local businesses and organizations.

Food pantries provide bags of food directly to families and individuals; typically, the food given out will last for five to seven days.

In Hasbrouck Heights, many Churches have food drives to fill the food pantry. In March, Boy Scout Troop 17 and Cub Scout Pack 17 participated in the National Scouting program of Scouting for Food. Bags of food were collected by the Scouts/Cubs who were driven around the Borough picking up donations left in front of homes.

On April 9, 2014, Commander Michael Cahill of American Legion Post 106 donated $1,000 to the food pantry Feeding the Hungry to be used to buy groceries or grocery store gift cards.

Also, Corpus Christi Church in Hasbrouck Heights and Assumption Church in Wood-Ridge have joined together to form ACC Meals with a Mission. This is a ministry of volunteers who cook and prepare meals on a Friday evening and deliver them to shelters and groups that help feed the hungry.

Please consider donating to your local Food Pantry.

Ninth Annual Pride in Priests Dinner

On Wednesday, May 7, 2014, the Knights of Columbus of the Archdiocese of Newark hosted their Ninth Annual Pride in Priests Dinner at the Fiesta in Wood-Ridge.

In attendance at the affair were 530 men, women, bishops, priests, deacons, and religious brothers and sisters.

More than 100 Catholics, who requested to attend the function, were not able to be accommodated.

Each year the Councils in New Jersey host dinners to honor the men of the cloth. These dinners are conducted in each Diocese, with all priests of the Diocese invited as guests of the Knights of Columbus. The evening is open to all Knights and their wives, and is a great way for the Knights to show the priests how proud they are of them.

This event is an opportunity for members of each Council to recognize the hard work, dedication and commitment their parish priests show on a daily basis to their parishioners.

Local priests from Wood Ridge, Pastor Rev. Richard Mucowski, Rev. Allan Weber, Rev. Paul Keenan and Deacon Francis Materia and Hasbrouck Heights Pastor Mgr. Lewis Papera, Deacon Vincent DeFedele and Deacon Paul Carris were the guests of their local Knights of Columbus Councils.

Also at the dinner were Archbishop John Myers, Co-adjutor Archbishop Bernard Heddah, and Archbishop Emeritus Peter Leo Gerety who served as Archbishop of Newark from 1974 to 1986. Many current and retired auxiliary bishops were also present.

State officers of the Knights of Columbus who attended were State Deputy Andrew Lipenta, State Secretary Bruce DeMolli, State Treasurer Robert Hatler, State Advocate Vincent Tavormina and State Warden James Stoeve, and State Chaplain Most Rev. Charles J. McDonnell.

Master of Ceremonies, State Warden Hatler, presented a check for $10,000 on behalf of the Knights to Archbishop Myers for the archdiocese to use in its many worthy programs.

Chinese Banquet

The theme was a Chinese Spring Banquet and coincides with the very popular Dragon Boat Festival. The many attendees who supported the event were treated to an elaborate 12 course feast.

As a special treat, Library Director, Mimi Hui, presented the legend and meaning of the Dragon Boat Festival. This event marks the beginning of summer and celebrates the life of Qu Yuan, a well beloved patriotic Chinese poet. Like other Chinese festivals, there is a story as to how it originated.

Director Hui told of its legend which emphasized the importance of loyalty and commitment to the community. The Library and The Friends thank all of the supporters of this and other events which help in so many ways.

The Friends of The Library endeavor to raise funds for the purchase of items and equipment outside the normal Library budget, to encourage charitable gifts, and to enhance public support for Library programs.

Friends sponsored programs include the annual family focused bash, quarterly live music or dance concerts, family fun nights, lectures, special educational events, and refreshments for the many activities for kids, teens and adults.

Upcoming fundraising events include the annual Book and Bake Sale to take place on May 30 through June 1 in the Hasbrouck Heights Senior Center and “Just Desserts” on Friday, June 6. Story by Melissa Singlevich. Photo by Marie Gallo. ###

Electric Violinist for the Space Age

On Wednesday, May 7, 2014, from 7-8 p.m. The Carlstadt Public Library presented “Electric Violinist for the Space Age.”

The program began with a simple solo acoustic violin and its origins demonstrated by a simple Bach minuet.

Caryn Lin played her 4, 5 and 6 string electric violins, using looping techniques to create short, on-the-spot recordings of her voice, percussion instruments, and other sounds, creating a virtual orchestra.

As she played the violin, the recorded snippets play back in a continuous loop adding fascinating layers of sound, resulting in an otherworldly, totally catchy, mesmerizing and unique show! This three dimensional sound magic was preformed live.

Caryn’s sound technician “Bruce,” added electronic drums and guitar to thelooping experience.

Strawberry Moon
The June full moon appears on Friday, June 13, 2014, at 13:13 a.m. It is called the “Full Strawberry Moon.” According to the Farmer’s Almanac, this name was universal to every Algonquin tribe. The name reflects the relatively short season for harvesting strawberries that comes each year during June. Other names include the “Full Hot Moon,” or in Europe, the “Full Rose Moon.” The Native American Indians of the northern and eastern United States kept track of the seasons by giving a name to each recurring full moon. European settlers followed the custom. ###

Enjoy Meeting People?

There’s no doubt that house hunting shares many similarities with dating. In the case of dating, you look for someone who catches your eye, someone that you can enjoy spending time with, someone who’ll become your ‘forever love’. So what do you do to search all of these things? Why, you go online, of course! You want a tall guy that is Christian and has only 1 or 2 kids and lives within 20 miles radius? Great, you’ll get an email every day of men that meet that specific criteria.

Then you can peruse their pics and profiles and decide if you like or are totally turned off by them based on what they uploaded.

Similarly: Are you looking for a 3 bedroom with updated kitchens and baths in the best neighborhood with the best school system…all for under $300,000? Well you and everyone else is, too. But that won’t prevent you from getting an email alert as soon as a home that [more or less] matches that search pops up on the MLS.

And of course you can view all the pics, all the MLS input and a quick description written by one of our clever Realtors hoping to use the perfect words that entice you to say: ‘I want that one!’

Problems can arise, though, when house hunting begins to become a bit like “speed dating.”

You’ve have heard of this dating craze, whereby singles can meet 20 or more potential mates in one evening by having 5 minute dates with each one of them.

SpeedDate.com, for example, advertises that it ‘allows you to connect instantly…eliminating hours of frustration.’

Well - to me at least - that’s a bit like Trulia pitching “Find homes on the go” or Zillow boasting “Browse a million or more listings!”

So many of today’s online buyers and/or seekers of love go thru lists like they’re chocolates buying. It’s as soon as a home that

The Camp That Changed My Life

by David Kriso

There is a summer camp program which helps middle/high school age children improve their self-esteem, academics, leadership, and communication skills called SuperCamp. This is where you learn how to build "you."

In the spring of 1994, I was completing my junior year in high school. It was a rough year. I struggled in almost everything. My two biggest issues were my self-confidence and self-esteem. I was unassertive and shy.

SuperCamp is a highly energetic camp program. The junior camp for middle school-aged kids runs seven days and cost $2,405. The senior camp for high school-aged kids runs ten days and cost $3,095. SuperCamp is held at a variety of college campuses nationwide. In both programs, kids learn a variety of tools to improve their academics.

Every segment of each day begins with an upbeat "come-in song" that serves as the cue for the kids to enter the room, clapping to the beat. The clapping gets faster, faster, and faster, with one big clap at the end. On cue, everyone is seated and the music stops.

Each day the staff demonstrates the eight keys to excellence. These keys are: purpose!, This is it!, commit to success!, speak with good confidence juices flowing. It helps you break out of your comfort zone, your fear of failure is no longer. We all have barriers in life. Every camper is given a wooden board, exactly like the boards that martial arts students break.

With a marker, every camper must write a goal they wish to achieve on one side, and on the reverse side the barrier they must break. The barrier is the most emotional of all. It is the trapeze. On the ground, the team holds a trapeze. The camper must write a goal they wish to achieve on one side, and leave it on the reverse side.

On the last day of camp, the event which is the most emotional of all is the trust-building activities. The room is just standing up straight on top of it. On the ground, the team holds the safety line. Trust is built and earned in this event.

Everyone in the room cheers each other on. Staff member by staff member, camper by camper, board by board, the energy level gradually builds. The room is just pumping with energy. At the end facilitators invite the team leaders and campers to come forward and share their reactions to the event.

Just like with the ropes course, the emotions come out with "Yes I can!" and "I can do it!"

The final day is graduation. Graduation kicks off just like a course room session. The campers enter to the come-in song. All of the campers receive a medal. The medal looks like the type that an Olympic receives. The medal reads, "I Make A Difference."

There is no phrase more touching, more true, and more powerful. The ropes course, the trust building activities, the team building events, and academic activities all add up to those very words. That medal should hang in every kid's room. It's a reminder that you can make a difference anywhere, anytime, and in anyone. SuperCamp takes kids to heights they've never dreamed possible. SuperCamp allowed me to see the big picture. I'm confident that someday it will give you the same golden opportunity. For information visit www.SuperCamp.com ###
Summer Program Planned for Middle School Students

The Volunteer Center of Bergen County will be offering a one-week summer service and leadership experience for middle school students this August.

The program, scheduled for August 25 to 29, 2014, will be held at the Volunteer Center in Hackensack from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily.

Ready, Set, Serve is an exciting and challenging summer program for students entering Grades 6 through 8 in September.

Students will be immersed in a week of interactive, interesting and fun activities, learning leadership skills that will help them make a difference in their schools and communities.

The focus of Ready, Set, Serve is community service.

Through a state-of-the-art curriculum that includes both classroom instruction and experiential training, students will participate in challenging exercises including community needs analysis, goal setting, team building, project planning, decision making and other dynamic leadership skills.

The Ready, Set, Serve experience continues beyond the one week in summer. Participants will continue to meet monthly from September through March to discuss and work on individual or group service projects.

A graduation and project presentation will be held in conjunction with the Volunteer Center’s Celebrate Volunteers recognition event in April 2015.

The fee is $350 per student, which includes all class materials, snacks, beverages and lunch on the Friday, August 29 closing session. Students provide their own lunch the other days.

The deadline for application is June 6. Tuition can be paid online at www.bergenvolunteers.org. Call 201-489-9454 Ext. 118 or email denery@bergenvolunteers.org for more information.

Gerard Londino Earns Eagle Scout Designation

Only five percent of all boys who enter scouting achieve the rank of Eagle Scout. That makes Gerard R. Londino, a senior at Wood-Ridge High School, a very special person.

In order to achieve the rank of Eagle Scout, the Boy Scout movement’s highest award, a Scout must complete at least 21 merit badges and plan, develop, and lead others in a service project that benefits his Church, community, or school. Londino earned 28 merit badges and also received the Paul Bunyan Woodsmen Award and the World Conservation Award.

After becoming a Star Scout in 2012, he took on a leadership role as Senior Patrol Leader for Boy Scout Troop 181. In this role he led the meetings and camping trips. He also made sure that the younger Scouts learned skills and moved up in their rankings.

Londino’s Eagle Scout project consisted of planning and painting house address numbers on curbs in front of houses so emergency responders could see them and locate homes in the event of an emergency. He recruited his team of workers from high school friends as well as the Scouts from his troop 181. The project was to include all houses from Jefferson to Columbia Street and their intersecting streets.

His goal was to paint the numbers on curbs in front of about 200 houses. He later asked to expand his project from Jefferson to Columbia Street and their intersecting streets. He also asked the Chief of Police to see if we could paint all of the addresses in Wood-Ridge.

The fact that a boy is an Eagle Scout has always carried with it a special significance, not only in Scouting but also as he enters higher education, business or industry, and community service. The award is a performance-based achievement whose standards have been well-maintained over the years. Story by Peter Gallo Jr. ###

Building a Playground
On Thursday, April 24, 2014, over 200 volunteers representing KaBoom, PSE&G, Americorps, FEMA, as well as local residents, came together behind Memorial School in Little Ferry, NJ to assemble a children's playground.

It took about six months of adult planning, but the park was designed by the school students (only the request for a swimming pool and trampoline were denied). It took 20,000 pounds of concrete, 155 cubic yards of mulch, and piles of wood and equipment to be assembled.

The park includes eight benches, four planters, a shade structure, and a painted stone walkway.

During the official dedication, students marched into the area holding a paper chain they had crafted for the "ribbon cutting." Each link had a student's name, and was later given to everyone as a memento.

In recognition for her tireless efforts that have positively impacted the lives of Little Ferry residents, the playground was dedicated to Ms. Regina Coyle.

On Sunday April 27, 2014, students from Xcel Tae Kwon Do Martial Arts Center kicked its way to the “Best Team” title by winning sixty three trophies at the 2014 Atlantic Tae Kwon Do Championships. This was the 7th “Best Team” title for Xcel Martial Arts, in Hasbrouck Heights.

It was a great achievement for a group of young athletes whose ages varied from six years old to teenagers. The success of the team spoke volumes to the hard work and dedication they invested in preparation.

The twenty-nine athletes from Xcel Martial Arts competed in the sparring, forms and board breaking divisions.

In the forms competition, athletes compete against each other by performing a lengthy choreographed pattern consisting of fluid and sharp motions that require total focus, balance, and self-control. The competitors are scored by a panel of judges and a winner is chosen at the end.

The same format is used for the board breaking competition as the athletes break wooden boards with kicks and hand techniques. The scoring points are based on difficulty of the technique and number of attempts made to break the boards.

Finally, the sparring competition consists of two opponents who are matched by age, weight and skill level. The goal of the match is to attack and counter attack your opponent with a series of kicks and punches, trying to score points by hitting various targets on your opponent.

“This team had a great work ethic and really had the drive and desire to perform at their best. I was most proud not by the number of trophies my team won, but by the way they conducted themselves though-out the day, showing great poise and focus” said Master Steven Lee, who coached them.

The youngest team members and mostly first time competitors, Sabrina Juan, Jadyen Sisco, Ryan Elnabili, Amaya Rodriguez and Joanna Rosario (all six years old) shined alongside seasoned veterans with their 1st Place winning performances.

Returning champions, the Von (7yo), Rosario (6yo), Kyle and Ty, won combined six trophies to add to their collection. At this pace they will have to add an addition to their house to make space. The most exciting match belonged to eight year old Alexander Rodriguez, who overcame a two point deficit in his final match to ultimately win by five points.

Team Xcel consisted of: Luca Herrera (7yo), Nicholas Prince (7yo), Adarsh Thakur (10yo), Noel Velez (9yo), Keira Tellado (9yo), Jannelle Tellado (7yo), Varun Subramanian (13 yo), Alexander Rodriguez (8yo), Amaya Rodriguez (6yo), Marcus Crain (9yo), Marcus Juin (7yo), Sabrina Juan (6yo), Anastasia Georgas (8yo), Kyle Von Seidelmann (7yo), Ty Von Seidelmann (9yo), Gabriel Gonzalez (8yo), Faith Brown (10yo), Ryan Elnabili (6yo), Meghan Stellhorn (8yo), Betsy Urgiles (13yo), Arianna Marmol (10yo), Malgorzata Kielksa (10yo), Miranda Smith (10yo), Wade Buchanan (12yo), Joshua Torres (9yo), Ella Marmol (7yo), Melanie Morena (9yo), Jadyen Sisco (6yo), Joanna Rosario (6yo).

They were coached by Master Steven Lee, a 5 time US National Tae Kwon Do Team member and former US Olympic Team Captain.

Local Seniors Share Bus with Garfield Seniors

Skyrocketing gas prices have made the cost of chartering a bus for a senior trip unattainable; this along with the cost of the activity that the seniors are attending affect the final cost of a trip. The cost must be shared equally by the number of seniors who sign up for the trip. Therefore, to reduce this cost you need more seniors to attend a trip.

Keeping this in mind, many senior groups try working with other senior groups so that they may fill their bus. That is why twenty-nine members of the Leisure Club and twenty members of the Garfield Senior Center shared a bus to travel to the Hunterdon Hills Playhouse. The trip took place on May 15, 2014.

Both groups enjoyed each other’s camaraderie. Many seniors from Garfield knew the Hasbrouck Heights seniors. The Hunterdon Hills Playhouse is a very popular dinner theater trip for seniors in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. The playhouse is located in Hampton, NJ and is only a little more than one hour away from Hasbrouck Heights. Along with a choice of five hot entrees, unlimited homemade desserts and excellent service, seniors had the opportunity to see quality professional live theatre.

The play presented was entitled “Busybody.” It was a murder mystery centered on an office cleaner who finds the managing director dead in his office with a knife in his back. The detective who arrives to deal with the murder turns out to be a man she had known in her youth. For two hours the play presented nothing but laughs and good wholesome entertainment. Kevin Woyce Entertains AARP Members

All who attended the Central Bergen Chapter of AARP meeting on May 9, 2014 were treated to an outstanding presentation about the Palisades. The program was presented by author, photographer and lecturer Kevin Woyce.

He presented a historical slide show starting with the fact that in 1524, explorer Giovanni da Verrazzano described the cliffs along the west bank of the Hudson River as “a fence of stakes,” or “Palisades.” From there Woyce presented a colorful tour of one of New Jersey’s most impressive landmarks, from its formation and discovery to the American Revolution, major trails, from abandoned riverfront beaches and ferry landings to a vanished cliff top world of mansions and grand hotels. He also included in his presentation a look at Fort Lee, when it was the home of the silent movie industry, and also a brief history of Palisades Amusement Park.

Author Kevin Woyce’s programs are lectures accompanied by digital slide shows including both original photography and historic images. All focus on the regional history of New Jersey and New York. Aside from his book on The Palisades he has written books and lectured on “The Statue of Liberty,” “The History of the Jersey Shore,” “New Jersey State Parks,” “The Great Falls at Paterson,” “Lighthouses of the Jersey Shore,” “Hudson River Lighthouse and History” and his recent book “Niagara.” Photo and story by Marie and Peter Gallo Jr.

Seniors Hear About the Garden of the Garden State

Ms. Maja Britton, coordinator of publicity volunteers at the New Jersey Botanical Gardens at Skylarks in Ringwood, presented an outstanding program for the members of the Leisure Club. She held the attention of every member at the May 14, 2014 meeting. During her visual presentation, Ms. Britton reviewed the history of the 96 acres surrounding the manor which has been designated as the New Jersey State Botanical Garden (NJBG). She described elegantly landscaped grounds, the historic buildings, the well-designed formal gardens and the vast collection of unusual plant species from around the world.

Ms. Britton described the Gardens as not only a place of beauty but a place where something is going on throughout the year; whether it’s garden tours, summer concerts, craft fairs, family hikes, Audubon walks, a harvest festival, programs, workshops and Skylands Manor Tours.

Ms. Britton concluded her program with the fact that volunteers play a large part in making the NJBG a special place to visit. She encouraged people of all ages to consider becoming a volunteer at the NJBG. Photo and story by Marie and Peter Gallo Jr.

During her visual presentation, Ms. Britton reviewed the history of the 96 acres surrounding the manor which has been designated as the New Jersey State Botanical Garden (NJBG). She described elegantly landscaped grounds, the historic buildings, the well-designed formal gardens and the vast collection of unusual plant species from around the world.

Ms. Britton described the Gardens as not only a place of beauty but a place where something is going on throughout the year; whether it’s garden tours, summer concerts, craft fairs, family hikes, Audubon walks, a harvest festival, programs, workshops and Skylands Manor Tours.

Ms. Britton concluded her program with the fact that volunteers play a large part in making the NJBG a special place to visit. She encouraged people of all ages to consider becoming a volunteer at the NJBG. Photo and story by Marie and Peter Gallo Jr.

Toothaches

While decay often is cited as the primary cause of a toothache, it’s important for you to have a complete oral examination to determine the cause. Other dental causes of a toothache include: infection, gum disease, grinding teeth (bruxism), tooth trauma and an abnormal bite. Tooth eruption may be the cause of tooth or jaw pain in babies and school-age children.

TMJ, sinus or ear infections and tension in the facial muscles can cause discomfort that resembles a toothache, but often these health problems are accompanied by a headache.

Pain around the teeth and the jaws can be symptoms of heart disease such as angina. If your dentist suspects a medical illness could be the cause of your toothache, he or she may refer you to a physician.

Why does my tooth ache?

You may have a dental cavity or advanced gum disease. The first sign of decay may be the pain you feel when you eat something sweet, very cold or very hot. If the pulp (the inside of the tooth that has tissue and nerves) has become irritated, this can cause pain in the area.

What are the symptoms of a toothache?

Because the symptoms of a toothache may resemble other medical conditions or dental problems, it can be difficult to diagnose the cause without a complete evaluation by your dentist.

If you notice pus near the source of the pain, your tooth may have become abcessed, causing an inflammation of bone to become infected. Or the pus could indicate gum disease, which usually is characterized by inflammation of the soft tissue and abnormal loss of bone surrounding the teeth.

Contact your dentist immediately if you have any of the following symptoms:

• Fever
• Difficulty breathing or swallowing
• Swelling around the tooth

How do I alleviate the pain if I cannot see my dentist right away?

Anyone with a toothache should see a dentist at once for diagnosis and treatment because, if left untreated, your condition can worsen. However, if you are unable to see a dentist and an emergency appointment, a self-care treatment can temporarily alleviate pain and inflammation from a toothache:

• Rinse with warm salt water.
• Gently floss teeth to dislodge any food particles trapped between teeth.
• Take an over-the-counter pain reliever such as aspirin, ibuprofen or acetaminophen to relieve pain. If your child has a toothache, use acetaminophen.
• Never put aspirin or any other painkiller against the gums near the aching tooth, as it may burn the gum tissue.
• Apply an over-the-counter antiseptic containing benzocaine directly to the irritated tooth and gum to temporarily relieve pain.
• If there has been some trauma to the tooth, a cold compress may be applied on the outside cheek to relieve pain or swelling.

If your tooth has been knocked out, forced out of position, loosened or fractured, visit the dentist’s office or a hospital emergency room immediately.

How can my dentist help?

Your dentist will conduct a complete oral examination to determine the location and cause of the toothache, looking for signs of swelling, redness and obvious tooth damage. He or she may also take X-rays looking for evidence of tooth decay between teeth, a cracked or impacted tooth or a disorder of the underlying bone.

Your dentist also may prescribe pain medication or antibiotics to speed the healing of your toothache. If, by the time you see your dentist, your tooth has become infected, then treatment would require removal of the tooth or a root canal procedure, which involves removing the damaged nerve tissue from the middle of a tooth.

Is there a way to prevent a toothache?

The key to preventing toothaches is establishing a regular oral hygiene routine and sticking to it. For example, failure to brush and floss regularly after meals can significantly increase your risk of developing cavities.

After you eat, bacteria in your mouth feed on sugar and starch and produce acid that can “eat” a hole (or cavity) in your tooth’s enamel. If the cavity is not filled, it can cause considerable pain and potentially destroy the dentin, pulp and the tooth’s nerve.

• Visit your dentist twice a year for oral examinations and a professional cleaning.

Artful Thinking
By Artie Maglioni • Lori Historian

Its June already do you believe it folks? The end of the school year and the beginning of the long awaited...especially if you’re of school age...summer vacation. I’m not sure what summer means to the kids of today since their interests have considerably changed from the days of my own youth. We have one thing in common, however, when that school bell rings for the last time, there is no looking back. A poem from my book of children’s poetry says it better.

School Days are over
By Artie Maglioni

School days are over Vacation is here No home work to do Or math tests to fear. I’ll play and have fun From morning till night I’ll stay up past nine Cause I know it’s alright. My folks will not scold me If I sleep until noon. I can float out of bed Like a lazy balloon. Yes life will be easy As I sip lemonade. Just me and my friends In the afternoon shade. Now don’t get me wrong I don’t mind school at all As long as I know School is over till fall! Fin!

For me and the kids from Westervelt Place, Johnny Ran- nou, Louis and Rocco Albano, Kenny Grecco, Alan Lucilia, Bruce Locastro, my cousins John and Anthony Maglioni- co, The Davis brothers, George, Bob and Raymond and late arrivals the Scarpace brothers, Jim and Tom, and even later still the Yusof brothers, Jack and Mike, summer vacation meant choosing sides for all of those rough and tumble street games.

As most of you “baby boomers” remember those street games required little or no equipment. Take box ball, for example...other than a rubber ball nothing else was needed. We used chalk to draw the bases on the black top and if no chalk was available we’d use one of the sandstones that had washed down from the Farnham Avenue hill during the last thunder storm.

The ball of choice, if you could afford it, was the top of the line, high bouncing Spalding. Rocco’s dad, Lou, sold them in the family’s corner store for a whopping twenty-five cents. Pretty hefty for a street urchin who, as the saying goes, didn’t have two nickels to rub together.

Lou kept them in a metal display rack seven feet over the meat grinder. Lou once told us that if anyone wanted to steal one of those coveted Spaldings, “he’d have to ask him for the ladder.”

Lou was a marvelous guy in his soiled white apron that covered a slightly protruding stomach, a pencil on his ear, and a camel cigarette forever burning in the ash tray next to the cash register.

His wife, Josephine was His baseball cap on Sunday, was the distribution of outrageous bloopers, he’d have to ask him for the ladder. Program, he enrolled in the University of California, Berkeley, where he studied mining engineering. In September, 1917, after the U.S. entered WWI, Doolittle took an absence from college and joined the U.S. Army Signal Corps to serve as a flying cadet. On March 11, 1918, he completed flight training and was commissioned as a 2nd Lieutenant. During WWI he remained in the U.S. as a flight leader and gunnery instructor. War I ended in November, 1918, and Jimmy decided that he wanted to stay in the Army Air Corps and continue flying. He transferred over to the Army Air Corps to become an instructor in connection with an experiment to bomb naval vessels from aircraft. He was directly involved in the testing ofsen General Billy Mitchell’s crews and their successful bombing and sinking of the former German Battleship, Ostfriesland, on July 21, 1921.

In 1922, Doolittle got permission to take his DH-4 loaded with gas tanks. He went first to Jacksonville, FL, and then in San Antonio, TX after 10 hours and 5 minutes flying time. He refueled the aircraft and reached San Diego, CA, a total time of 22 hours, 10 minutes including the stop in San Antonio. This flight represented a major step forward for aviation. He documented his studies and findings, and was awarded one of the first MS degrees in aeronautical engineering by MIT.

He continued his studies and was awarded a Doctor of Science degree in 1925. For these studies, he also received his 3rd and Distiguished Flying Cross (DFC).

In 1925, he was assigned to NAS Anaocasta, in Washington, D.C., where he learned to fly the Curtiss-Wright P-1 Hawk. He then won the Schneider Trophy, establishing a new world speed record for seaplanes at 232 mph.

In 1926, he toured South America to demonstrate the Curtiss-Wright P-1 Hawk as part of a sales effort. To demonstrate the plane’s capabilities, he flew over the Andes Mountains in a single engine plane, another first. By 1927, pilots performing inside loops had become routine. However, an outside loop, which forced the pressure forces to the head and pushes the body out of the seat, is an entirely different matter.

Can the brain withstand this kind of pressure? In measured steps, Doolittle simulated the pressures. He examined the aircraft and analyzed his own reactions. On May 25, 1927, Doolittle performed the first outside loop in history. He did this just 4 days after Lindbergh crossed the Atlantic, non-stop. His report established, he became known as the “Master of the Calculated Risk.”

In 1928, another salesman demo trip to South America found Doolittle flying over Brazil’s uncharted Mato Grasso jungle. It took over 7 hours to complete.

In September, 1929, Doolittle was assigned to head the entire Flight Laboratory at Mitchell Field, Long Island, NY. Doolittle worked on solving the problems of flying at night, in fog, rain, or snow, all situations connected with low visibility.

The problem of all-weather flying must be solved for aviation to progress. Doolittle directed the development of new flight instruments.

First, he had the altimeter redesigned to calibrate accurately to within 5 ft. of the ground when landing. Previously, it was calibrated to 50 ft.

He then developed the artificial horizon, the directional gyroscop, and other essential instruments needed for blind flying with the Sperry Gyroscope Co. of Long Island. On September 24, 1929, Doolittle made the first all instrument flight.

With the cockpit completely covered, he took off and reached an altitude of 10,000 ft. From there, he turned left, flew for several miles then made another 180 degree turn, descended and made a safe landing flying for 15 minutes.

With this one pioneering breakthrough he changed the nature and future of aviation. The New York Times called it “the greatest single advance ever recorded in flight safety.” It started the change for pilots to fly by instruments instead of “by the seat of their pants.”

In December, 1929, Lt. Doolittle left active duty in the U.S. Army Air Force due to the illnesses of both his mother and mother-in-law in order to make the money for their care. He went to work for the Shell Oil Co. and was put in charge of the洛阳 Division. He developed his triple的年轻人 to $600 per month and was given a Lockheed Vega for his personal use.

During this time Doolittle competed in air races to publicize Shell’s aviation fuels and related products. He also spearheaded the development of the 100 octane fuel, needed to power the aircraft engines of the future.

In 1931, Doolittle won the Bendix Trophy by flying from Burbank, CA, to Cleveland, Ohio in 9 hours, 10 minutes. After refueling, he flew to Newark, NJ, for a total of 11 hours 11 minutes, non-stop.

He is the first pilot to cross the country in less than 12 hours. In 1932, as a promotion for the use of Shell’s 100 octave gas, he flew 2,600 miles in one day, delivering mail and holding to a delivery schedule. In 1938, the U.S. Army Air Corps ordered that 100 octane became the standard fuel.
Veterans Today
By Thomas Marshall

• Senior Citizens can sometimes need help in their daily lives. It’s part of life. Unfortunately this can be costly. There are many stories of older folks losing all they worked for to pay for this care.

Fortunately for aging Veterans, the Veterans Administration has a program to help cover the cost.

It’s called Aid and Attendance and Housebound Improved Pension Benefit. Apparently as of 2011, there were 1.7 million World War II Veterans alive and only 38,000 applied for this little known benefit. If you know one and need to know where to get info, go to http://veteranaid.org/get more info.

• There was an article in the Bogota Local paper saying that the VFW Post 5561 in Bogota was going to close. This is not correct.

Post 5561 is alive and well and they have no intentions of closing. The paper took statements out of context. They need members just like all the Veterans Organizations but they are not closed and will not close.

I spoke to the Commander of the Post, Alex Hernandez. He also is currently the District 2 Commander. Also, if you wish to have a family function and need a room that fits over 200 people, call Post 5561 at 201-343-9693. They can take large parties. Tell Alex I said Hi.

Springtime in France 1918 was a pivotal time in World War I. Russia surrendered and was out of the War. When this happened, the German High Command moved 50 Divisions from the Eastern Front to the Western Front. With these additional troops the German High Command saw the opportunity of a large scale offensive.

Attack the Western Front, destroy the French and British troops defending the line and end the War before the newly arrived American Expeditionary Force can deploy along the Front.

In May 1918 German General Erich Ludendorff ordered the German Army forward. The German advance smashed into the French lines at the third battle of Aisne and the Germans reached the northern bank of the Meuse River, about 60 miles north of Paris. Ludendorff knew in order for any possibility of success, he needed to get the German Army over the Meuse River. He ordered the Army to push through to the town of Lucy and there cross the river. Things were going well for the Germans until the German advance turned right and moved into a wooded area known as Belleau Wood.

Here the Germans met the U.S. 2nd Divi- sion, which also had a Brigade of U.S. Marines, was recently brought up from Paris and was stationed along the front lines. While German troops attacked the Germans attacked the French line to the left of the American position and forced the French to retreat.

The American 23rd In- fantry Regiment with the 5th Marine and a machine gun Battalion rushed to fill up the gap. The French told the Marines to pull back. Marine Captain Lloyd W. Williams responded by saying “Retreat? Hell we just got here.”

Army General James Har- borg, who was in Paris at the time, ordered the Mar- ines to stand where they were. The Marines dug shallow fox holes to be able to shoot in the prone position or laying down to put it another way, if you wanted to shoot at someone shooting at you. The Marines held off wave after wave of attacking Germans.

The Germans then dug in and waited for reinforcements on the Front.

On June 4, 1918, the Ger- mans attacked again. The Mar- ines and soldiers were hard pressed but were able to force the attacks back.

A French Division arrived and with these troops the Mar- ines and soldiers were able to consolidate their position.

Now, you must have heard that the best defense is a good offense. So the Americans went on the offense.

On June 6, 1918, the Ameri- cans and French attacked the German line. The French moved forward and the Mar- ines were sent to capture a hill numbered 342. This hill in American hands would prevent the Germans from shooting at the flank of the French Divi- sion.

Fix bayonets!

The 1st Battalion, 5th Ma- rines were ordered to fix bayo- nets and charge across an open wheat field to capture hill 342. As they moved across the wheat field, the German ma- chine guns killed and wounded many of the Marines.

The Marines with all the loss of life still made gains on the German position. The Ger- mans counter attacked.

Here, Gunnery Sergeant Ernest Janson fought hand-to-hand with the Germans. He killed two with his bayonet before the rest of them ran off. This action would be- come the first Marine in World War I to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor.

The rest of the Marine Bat- talion came to their aid and by the afternoon of June 6th, the hill was under U.S. control. Around 325 men were killed or wounded taking the hill.

By late afternoon the Marines of the 3rd Battalion moved across the wheat field to push the Germans out of the Belleau Wood.

Here Gunnery Sergeant Dan Daly, who received the Congressional Medal of Honor twice before World War I, once during the Boxers Rebellion and once in World War I, is reported that his men needed inspiration.

He yelled out to his men the immortal words carved into the Marine Corps Museum at Quantico, Virginia, “Come on you “Sons-of-Bitches, do you want to live forever?”

The Marines surged for- ward of the Germans. Two U.S. Navy ships had carried the name in honor of the Marine Corps bravery displayed during the battle. It was stated that the Germans said the Marines fought like “Devil Dogs.”

Apparently, historians disagree with this because the Germans had no word in their language for Devil Dog, but somehow it was attached to the Marines because of the fight of Belleau Wood.

Either way, what we do know is that the Marines fought with an unbelievable amount of bravery as they always do. They fought off 5 German Divisions.

Fighting in the woods proved difficult. Nothing went perfect in this battle. It would come down to the basics in warfare to win it, a Marine and his bayonet.

The Belleau Wood would not be cleared of Germans until June. The Marines of the 3rd Battalion, 5th Marines made the final assault to push them out. Over 9,700 Ameri- cans were wounded taking the hill. 1,800 would give their lives.

Apparently, historians disagree with this because the Germans had no word in their language for Devil Dog, but somehow it was attached to the Marines because of the fight of Belleau Wood.

Either way, what we do know is that the Marines fought with an unbelievable amount of bravery as they always do. They fought off 5 German Divisions.

Fighting in the woods proved difficult. Nothing went perfect in this battle. It would come down to the basics in warfare to win it, a Marine and his bayonet.

The Belleau Wood would not be cleared of Germans until June. The Marines of the 3rd Battalion, 5th Marines made the final assault to push them out. Over 9,700 Ameri- cans were wounded taking the hill. 1,800 would give their lives.

The battle of Belleau Wood is legendary for the Marine Corps. Two U.S. Navy ships have carried the name in honor of the Marine Corps bravery displayed during the battle. It was stated that the Germans said the Marines fought like “Devil Dogs.”

About Loyalty Day

According to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Loyalty Day originally began as “Americanization Day” in 1921 as a counter to the Communists’ May 1 celebration of the Russian Revolution.

On May 1, 1930, 10,000 VFW members staged a rally at New York’s Union Square to promote patriotism. Through a resolution adopted in 1949, May 1 evolved into Loyalty Day. Observances began in 1950 on April 28 and climaxed May 1 when more than five million people across the nation held rallies. In New York City, more than 100,000 people rallied for America.

In 1958, Congress enacted Public Law 529 proclaiming Loyalty Day a permanent fixture on the nation’s calendar. Following the passage of this law, President Dwight D. Eisenhower proclaimed May 1, 1959 the first official observance of Loyalty Day.

Although a legal holiday, it is not a federal holiday, and is not commonly observed. Many people in the United States remain unaware of it.
On Easter Sunday, April 20, 2014, at about 9:18 a.m., Carlstadt Fire Department responded to a working house fire at a bungalow-style home on Carlyle Avenue.

Police officers and neighbors attempted to enter the locked front door to rescue the resident, a 76-year-old widow, but the smoke was too heavy, and heat too intense.

Fire fighters battled the ferocious blaze contained to the front of the home. The flames were extinguished in 30 to 45 minutes by firefighters from Carlstadt, East Rutherford, Wood-Ridge, Wallington and Moonachie.

Fire fighters spent an hour checking the house for hot spots.

The fire is under investigation. It apparently began in the kitchen at the front of the home where the damage was the heaviest. It may have been caused by an extension cord used for a toaster oven. Photos by Dennis Kronyak Sr. ###

An early morning blaze on April 24, 2014 destroyed the building housing the Carlstadt Post Office on the first floor, and an electrical supply store on the second floor.

When firefighters arrived at about 1:30 a.m., the building was on the verge of collapse. An external attack was made with ladder trucks and streams.

Over 60 firefighters from Carlstadt, Wood-Ridge, Hasbrouck Heights, Little Ferry, Wallington, East Rutherford, Rutherford, Passaic, Moonachie and Hackensack fought the fire. It took about three hours to get the blaze under control at about 4 a.m. Wind gusts fed the fire.

The fire started on the roof, which collapsed. It was reported that some work was being done to the building’s roof, but it’s unclear if the work is related to the fire.

The company on the second floor sustained heavy fire damage. Water used to fight the fire, flooded the post office below. A minimal amount of mail was in the post office at the time and was recovered. Previous deliveries were done, and the next day’s mail had yet to arrive. Mail is being re-routed to East Rutherford. Mail delivery to Carlstadt will not be affected. Officials deemed the entire structure unsafe. Employees were allowed back to retrieve some mail and anything salvageable. No one was in the building when the fire broke out. Two firefighters suffered minor injuries.

Congressman Bill Pascrell, Jr. asked Postmaster General Patrick Donahoe to keep the Carlstadt Post Office open following the destructive fire that gutted the facility. USPS recently announced in a letter to postal customers that they are studying the Carlstadt facility for “discontinuance” following the devastating blaze.

In 2011, the Carlstadt Post Office was named in honor of Staff Sergeant Frank T. Carvill and Lance Corporal Michael A. Schwarz, two fallen soldiers from Carlstadt that were killed in combat operations in Iraq. Photos by Dennis Kronyak Sr. ###

Marking Hasbrouck Heights Fire Hydrants

John Riordan’s Eagle Scout Project of marking all Hasbrouck Heights fire hydrants was completed on May 3, 2014, with over 60 volunteers assisting. A map detailing the 250 plus hydrant locations, helped organize the deployment.

Riordan developed the project and received approval by the Fire Department. He raised about $4,000 to fund the project through donations and contributions. The money was handled through Troop 17.

He purchased the special stainless steel rods, colored orange/black/metal, from a company in Lodi. ###

Yard Work Tips

The Hasbrouck Heights Fire Department EMS offers these safety tips for tackling fall clean up.

• When lifting heavy bags of mulch, use a wheelbarrow when possible, and remember to lift with your legs, not with your back.
• Be careful when pruning. Pruning from a ladder is especially dangerous.
• To avoid blisters when doing yard work, wear gloves.
• If you are doing a lot of raking, try an ergonomic rake, available at most hardware stores and garden centers. ###

Don’t leave lit candles or fireplaces unattended.

Lawn Mower/Snow Blower Repairs
With personnel in full dress uniform and equipment clean and polished, The Hasbrouck Heights Fire Department conducted its Annual Inspection, at 7:00 p.m., on Saturday, May 10, 2014.

The program began with Firefighter Thomas Rubino calling the Department to attention, the presentation of the Honor Guard, and the Pledge of Allegiance. Edith Avella sang “God Bless America.” Deputy Fire Commissioner Russell A. Lipari gave the invocation, Mayor Rose Heck, Fire Commissioner David Gonzalez and Fire Chief Patrick Hayes made comments. Secretary Justin Watrel gave roll call.

Area Fire Chiefs inspected the Department’s equipment -- and they did a thorough job. Local officials and the public also inspected the equipment and met with the men and women who serve.

The Hasbrouck Heights Fire Department operates with approximately 50 volunteer members, including EMS and Juniors.

The Hasbrouck Heights Fire Department has a Junior Squad for those between 16 and 18 years of age who offer on-scene support, but are not permitted to enter burning buildings.

Every firefighter must receive 25 weeks of basic firefighter training and every EMT receives 140 hours of basic training. Many members continue extensive advanced training in the areas of search and rescue, vehicle operation, incident command, hazardous materials, first responder, mass decontamination, etc. The Department conducts training on a regular basis.

The Department is contracted to provide fire and ambulance service to the Borough of Teterboro, and has done so for over 60 years. In 2013, they responded to 1,200 ambulance calls and 570 fire calls and other emergencies.

Its rolling stock includes two pumpers, 110 ft. ladder, heavy rescue truck, two ambulances and three chief vehicles. These assets are owned by the Borough of Hasbrouck Heights, but maintained by the volunteers.

The Department conducts only one fundraiser a year, with the proceeds providing training, supplies, etc.

The Department is a member of the South Bergen Fire Chiefs Mutual Aid Association, which helps to coordinate multi-departmental responses to large-scale incidents. Zone 2 includes Carlstadt, East Newark, East Rutherford, Garfield, Hasbrouck Heights, Little Ferry, Lyndhurst, Maywood, Moonachie, North Arlington, Nutley, Rochelle Park, Rutherford, Saddle Brook, Secaucus, Wallington and Wood-Ridge. These departments are also all volunteer.

The Department was established in 1896. Interested in joining? Call the Fire Chief at 201-288-0082. ##
