Each culture is unique. Having its own distinctive style. Art. Crafts. Music. Food. Dress. Costumes. Customs. It’s not about homogenizing cultures into a bland pudding, a one note song or a monochrome painting. With many elements working together creating sweetness and texture like a tasty stew, symphony or vivid tapestry. It’s about celebrating diversity. It makes a much richer and fuller America to have various cultures inside our shared “big tent.” See Multicultural Festival on page 17.

Boulevard in Bloom

Beautiful flowering planters have adorned The Boulevard for over 10 years.

The Hasbrouck Heights Chamber of Commerce, in co-operation with the Hasbrouck Heights Garden Club, invited businesses and residents to sponsor a flowering planter by making a $50 donation.

The planting was done by the Garden Club at the DPW on Saturday, May 16, 2015.

The DPW moved the flower pots to their Boulevard location the week following the street fair. The DPW will water the plants during the season. After the summer, the DPW will collect the flower pots and store them for the winter.

The Beta Club from the Hasbrouck Heights Middle School will lend a hand overseeing and pruning the planters throughout the summer.

Call Ray at 201-288-5464 or Ann at 201-288-3956 for more information. ###

Torn to Shreds

On Saturday morning, May 9, 2015, Hasbrouck Heights held their 13th Annual Free Shredding Event at The Boulevard and Central Avenue parking lot. Residents and businesses brought in 8,700 pounds of material to be shredded.

This was the second biggest amount of shredding since the program began in 2008, bringing the total to 74,216 pounds. The weight gets filed with the state and goes toward the Borough's paper recycling tonnage grant. The town typically has two shredding events a year. This event was sponsored by the Bergen County Utilities Authority and the other by the Borough's recycling vendor in the fall. ###

Collected Meds Help Avoid Polluted Water and Landfills

The Little Ferry Police Department offers a secure 24/7 medicine drop box to area residents. The box is located in the lobby area of Police Headquarters at 215 Liberty Street.

Area residents have an anonymous, safe, secure way to dispose of unused, expired, excess or unwanted medications -- free of charge.

Drugs, such as pills, capsules, patches, inhalers and pet medications, etc., are accepted. Liquid medication or syringes are not accepted.

In the two months of operation, the LFPD has emptied the box four times, usually filled with old, out-dated meds.

LFPD maintains custody and disposes of them according to strict procedures.

Little Ferry, Lodi and Hasbrouck Heights Police have drop boxes at their locations.

Little Ferry has joined the New Jersey Attorney General's "Project Medicine Drop" initiative. For more information go to: AmericanMedicineChest.com

This initiative also protects New Jersey's environment by keeping these drugs out of landfills and out of the water supply.

According to Police Chief Ralph Verdi, many area seniors have welcomed a safe way to dispose of unused and outdated medication. ###

Felician Community Celebrates Earth Day

The Anniversary of Earth Day was commemorated at the Felician Sisters' Peace Site on Tuesday, April 22, 2015.

The theme was "Earth Day 2015 -- It's Our turn to Lead."

Over 100 ICHS students, resident Sisters, teachers, elected officials, and others, joined in prayer and enthusiastic singing during the half hour program, as we strive for a deeper commitment to a peaceful coexistence with the earth and all its creatures.

The opening prayer was given by Heran Mouada, 21 and Over program. Students from the Felician College Child Care Center led everyone in an animated song medley, directed by Sister Mary Joellen Zajac.

Edward H. Ogle, Felician College VP for Academic Affairs, read scripture Genesis 2: 4-10, 15, "God has entrusted us with care of all creation." Intercessions and remarks by Kathy Christie, Director Felician Child Care Center, and Jessica Cutrona, with several students from ICHS, Kelsey DiMaria, 21 and Over Program, etc.

This was their 7th Annual Earth Day Celebration. It was led by Sister Mary Virginia Tomasiak and organized by Members of the Felician Sisters' Justice and Peace Committee.

The Peace Site has been in existence for over 25 years and is located at the Felician Sisters' Complex in Lodi.

All were invited to join in the spirit of St. Francis of Assisi, Patron Saint of the Environment, to strive for a deeper commitment to a peaceful coexistence with the earth and all its creatures.

For additional information, please contact Sister Mary Virginia at 973-473-7447 ext 114. ###

Learning About Container Gardening

Care on the Corner (COTC) sponsored a Container Garden Workshop, on Saturday morning, May 2, 2015, in the yard of the Care Center in Hasbrouck Heights.

The Container Garden Workshop was for all ages where participants created a Container Garden to bring home to enjoy. Container gardening is a great way to introduce children to gardening. This is also a fun solution for a small garden if you have limited space, poor soil, or not enough sun in your own yard. If you have any questions, please contact Carol at 201-288-9460. ###

Saving Our Environment From Air Pollution One Step at a Time

Carlstadt Public School children celebrated Earth Week (April 21-25). The children and staff enjoyed many outdoor lessons and brainstormed ways they can keep the Earth clean and green. The highlight of the week was the annual Walk-to-School Day. Teachers and staff members met students at five different locations around Carlstadt and began their walk to school. Thanks to the hundreds of walkers who helped save our environment from air pollution one step at a time. Photos by Dennis Kronyak Sr. ###

HH Garden Club News

The Hasbrouck Heights Garden Club will be having their last meeting of the season on Thursday, June 18, 2015, at The Library located on the second floor of the Municipal Building.

The Club will start up once again in September. All who are interested in home gardening and those who enjoy working with house plants are invited.

During the year they had interesting speakers to help in plan gardens, explain how to prepare and take care of plants, how to get soil tested, ideas on container gardening, plus interesting speakers.

Programs include a Garden of the Season Award that is presented to a home gardener during the spring, summer and fall.

The Garden Club and Chamber of Commerce are involved in the "Boulevard in Bloom" project to help beautify the Boulevard by placing 60 planters throughout the Boulevard. The planters are filled with a different array of flowers by the Garden Club members and watered throughout the summer months by the DPW.

If you want to contribute to this project you can send a donation to the Chamber of Commerce in care of Heights Florist.

The Garden Club members thank those who stopped by their table at the Street Fair this year.

Also, thank you to all who attended "A Touch of Sinatra" on April 23. The fundraiser raised over $1,400 and will benefit the Garden Club and Friends of The Library who will split the profits.

The entertainers donated their time and talent, and all the store-bought cakes were also donated. Thank you to everyone who helped make this a fun evening for all.

Have a great spring and summer, and see you in September. Everyone is welcome to join throughout the year. ###

The Wonders of Westervelt Place Part I

Hello folks, welcome to the summer of 2015. For those of you who don't have any plans over the next three months, I'm giving you yet another three part series to sweat your way through. By mid-August I'll have you wishing for an early winter.

Since it's officially the beginning of barbeque season, I might as well start things off by talking about food.

As an Italian kid growing up on Westervelt Place, I was lucky enough to live around the corner from one of the best cooks ever to set a table. I'm talking about my Aunt Josephine Daleo Maglionico.

The mother of my cousins Johnny and Anthony and the wife of my Uncle Armondo. Folks, let me tell you that when you sat at her table you were experiencing nothing short of gastronomic Nirvana.

My mother, Lena, was a big fan of my Aunt Josey's cooking. Among her favorite dishes was the now legendary: Pasta Con Finocchio e' Sarde.

For those of you who don't speak Italian, its pasta with fennel and sardines better known as St. Joseph macaroni.

Folks, I'm not exaggerating when I say that this pasta dish was absolutely divine. The taste was enough to lure the angels down from Heaven and make the devil himself say grace.

Thirty-five years ago during her pregnancy with her son Frank, my cousin Maria had a craving that only my Aunt Josey's Pasta Con Finocchio e' Sarde could satisfy.

An SOS went out to my mother who in turn relayed the message to my Aunt Jo. An hour or so later Maria's wish came true. My Aunt Jo came through under pressure and the memory of that macaroni teases Maria's taste till this day.

That's a true story folks. If you don't believe me then ask my cousin Anthony. I'm pretty sure that he made the delivery... the pasta, not the baby!

I'm happy to tell you that my Aunt Josephine at the age of 94 is still cooking for her family and friends. She continues to live up to her reputation as one of the best at what she loves to do. If there's a cooking hall of fame, my Aunt Jo belongs there. If there isn't then somebody should invent one.

Another hall of fame cook that I only recently discovered is Catherina Vara, who is also from the Westervelt Place area.

Like my Aunt Jo, Catherina puts meals on the table that I can't ever pronounce let alone spell. Her spaghetti sauce rates high and her meatballs are the best I ever tasted. Both my Aunt Jo and Catherina are two of the wonders of Westervelt Place.

Yes folks there were many wonders attached to that little Camelot of ours. Heaven knows I've been writing about it for over a decade and I'm still not running out of memories.

There was a family who lived towards the end of the block. One of the sons, the eldest I believe perhaps 12 or 13, was stricken with cerebral palsy and confined to a wheelchair. I remember the day when me and the kids from Westervelt Place first saw him.

We were playing box ball in front of the Albano's garage. In the middle of our youthful raucous became silent at the sight of him. He was being pushed by his younger brother who had stopped near our field of play. We all looked at one another in disbelief and became transfixed at the sight of this boy in the wheelchair. We had never been exposed to anything that was less than perfect. Our world was perfect and tidy the way it was supposed to be. Our little part of the universe was a paradise where we were fed, pampered and allowed to run free in the sunshine.

The younger brother turned the wheelchair in our direction "you mind if we watch?" said the brother. We all nodded nervously and went on with our game. At one point I looked in their direction and saw the boy in the wheelchair twisting and turning as if he were trying with all his power to get up and join us. His eyes were no longer cast upwards and had become focused on the action going on in the street. I saw him smile, it was a mix of both joy and frustration as he appeared to be cheering us on. The sight of him trying to get out of that wheelchair stays with me even now.

We learned at an early age that life is truly a learning experience and the goodness we offer does not go unnoticed. A little joy goes a long way both to the giver and the receiver.

The boy in the wheelchair came to tell us that. He was yet another of Westervelt Place. ###

Strawberry Moon

The June full moon appears on Tuesday, June 2, 2015, at 12:19 p.m. It is called the "Full Strawberry Moon."

According to the Farmer's Almanac, this name was universal to every Algonquin tribe.

The name reflects the relatively short season for harvesting strawberries that comes each year during June. Other names include the "Full Hot Moon," or in Europe, the "Full Rose Moon."

The Native American Indians of the northern and eastern United States kept track of the seasons by giving a name to each recurring full moon. European settlers followed the custom. ###

They Did it His Way

On April 22, 2015, over one hundred people attended “A Touch of Sinatra,” co-sponsored by the Hasbrouck Heights Garden Club and The Hasbrouck Heights Friends of The Free Public Library.

The program centered on the life and music of Frank Sinatra.

Frank Sinatra was indisputably the 20th century’s greatest singer of popular songs.

A former resident of Hasbrouck Heights, born in Hoboken, he rose to fame singing big band numbers in the 40s and 50s. He had his own style with an array of hit songs and albums.

Some of his most popular nicknames were, “The Voice,” “The Chairman of the Board,” “Ol’ Blue Eyes,” etc.

Donnie Farraro is considered the most authentic sounding Frank Sinatra and lookalike in the music industry today.

Joe Gilligan narrated the life of Sinatra. During his narration, Donnie Farraro sang appropriate songs that blended in with Sinatra’s life.

Gilligan, also a great singer, sang songs made famous by Johnnie Ray and Dean Martin. Farraro and Gilligan played off each other with their excellent comedy routine.

Everyone loved the stories, the jokes and the music. The program was filled with nostalgia.

Donnie Farraro and Joe Gilligan did an outstanding job in presenting this tribute to Sinatra. Mike Dellutri, an advanced technology expert, did a great job providing the background music. Photo and story by Marie and Peter Gallo Jr. ###

Summer Reading Program at The Hasbrouck Heights Library

For Children from Birth to Grade 6

The Free Public Library of Hasbrouck Heights has announced the Summer Reading Program – “Every Hero Has A Story!”

The program is designed to promote reading and literacy throughout the summer for children of all ages.

Children are expected to read, or be read to, for 2½ hours per week. Each week, they can stop by The Library to show their time log and receive stickers and prizes.

When they complete five weeks of reading, they will receive a special prize and a certificate of completion. Registration must be done in person, starting June 15.

In addition to the reading program, The Library’s Children’s Department will be offering Story Times, Chess Club, Theme Nights, and other special events.

The Summer Kickoff Event will be on June 22, 2015, at 2 p.m.

We warmly welcome back ScienceTellers for an original collection of slightly twisted tales; all of the librarians in Hasbrouck Heights are suspected to have superpowers!

Join them on a hilarious new adventure where, just like in science, things aren’t always quite what they seem. The event is open to all ages and refreshments will be served.

Please call the Hasbrouck Heights Children’s Department if you have any questions.

Programs for Teens

This year’s theme is #UNMASKED, as teens and staff alike will unleash their superhero abilities, whether it is in reading and attending all book club meetings or taking the crown at board games and fitness DVDs.

The Library invites teens in Grades 7 thru 12 to check out the action-packed adventure that awaits them.

• Talk It Up! for Grades 7-9 will meet on Tuesday afternoons, from 3-4:30 p.m., beginning July 7.

• Speak Out! for Grades 10-12 will take place Thursday evening, from, 7-8:30 p.m., starting on July 9.

Sessions are six weeks. A wrap-up party will take place on Wednesday, August 19.

Reading Contest, Scavenger Hunt & More

For those students who would like an opportunity to win prizes, here are two opportunities to win.

Starting June 22, for every book read, including titles on school reading lists, teens will receive a ticket entering them in a drawing for various prizes. Drawing will be held on Wednesday, August 19.

Teens are welcome to use the app, BookBuddy, which allows one to scan the books you have read, just add a category called “Unmask.”

• A Scavenger Hunt consists of finding iPhone erasers (2x1”) hidden all throughout The Library. Show it at the front desk and you will win a prize.

• Board Game Club. Every Wednesday night, starting July 8, from 7-8:30 p.m., teens are invited to play a different board game each week.

• Fitness Club Fridays. Starting July 10, from 3-4:30 p.m., a DVD will be selected each week from The Library’s collection (Zumba, Pilates, Yoga, etc.)

Teens are invited to come dressed in comfy clothing to get active! Water and snacks will be provided.

• Kick-Off Event and all registrations for teen programs begins Monday, June 15. Programs begin the week of Monday, July 6 and end the week of Monday, August 10.

Reading Game for Adults

“Escape the Ordinary” is this year’s summer reading theme for adults.

Beginning June 22, The Library invites ALL patrons 18 years of age or older to stop by the Hasbrouck Heights Circulation Desk to pick up a tic-tac-toe game card.

By reading, listening, or watching three works that fit the game card categories in one line, participants earn entry into a weekly raffle drawing for a $15 gift card toward a local business.

This program is open all and you do not need to be a Hasbrouck Heights resident to join. The tic-tac-toe game will run until August 28. Please call for details.

Special Thanks

The Library is most grateful for the support of The Hasbrouck Heights Friends of The Library and would like to thank them for providing the weekly snacks, refreshments, prizes and entertainment.

The Library is located at 320 Boulevard. It’s the best place to be this summer. Registration begins on Monday, June 15. Please call for more information or visit -- <http://hasbrouckheights.bccls.org/>

STEM Night at Union School

Students studied bridge design in science class, and then constructed a bridge using toothpick and glue materials to satisfy certain conditions. Students had to utilize measuring skills, and teamwork, as this was a group effort.

Prizes were awarded to the top three groups for having the highest efficiency scores. Efficiency is defined as the mass held by the bridge, divided by the mass of the bridge. Students worked on this engineering project for a few weeks, under the supervision of Eighth Grade Science teacher, Mr. Christopher Viola. Union School’s Eighth Grade students presented their bridges to their parents and the faculty during a STEM Night.

“It was really cool to see how other students designed their bridges compared to how my group designed our bridge,” said Eighth Grade student, Angie Garcia.

Remarks were made by Superintendent of Schools Dr. Mark Hayes, Police Chief Ralph Verdi, Mayor Mauro Raguseo, Officer Michael Hinchcliffe and Officer Michael Derwin. Sgt. James Walters assisted.

Community Service Awards were presented to Dr. Mark Hayes and George Wehrle. The Fifth Grade winners read their essays and received awards. All 105 students received their graduation certificates.

The tournament was a terrific success with all 39 students placing in top three, most of them receiving 1st Place at multiple events.

Xcel Martial Arts brought home 85 trophies in all, beating out all the other schools at the tournament. At the conclusion of the tournament, Xcel Martial Arts won the “Best School” title. This makes seven straight “Best School” titles for Xcel Martial Arts at this championship.

All the students learned a valuable lesson in hard work and determination. For first time competitor Samantha Robinson (9 yo), it was an extra sweet victory. Not long before the tournament, Samantha was overwhelmed by the pressure and felt extremely nervous. There were two choices for her at that point. Withdraw from the competition or challenge herself with the task, which must have felt impossible for her at the time. We are very proud to say she chose the latter and persevered. Two 1st Place awards for Samantha Robinson were the end result.

Master Steven Lee, head instructor at Xcel Martial Arts and a former U.S. Olympic Training Center Team Captain, told his students that it is not the destination, but the journey which is the most important lesson. As Samantha learned on her way to her 1st Place trophies, hard work and determination can conquer anything.

Speaking of conquering, the most impressive performance of the championship belonged to Alexander Rodriguez (9 yo) of Hasbrouck Heights. He chose to compete at all three events. At the sparring event, he was matched up against two much larger boys. However, speed conquered size as Alexander won by two technical knockouts. Alexander won three 1st Place trophies.

The biggest surprise of the tournament came from the youngest students. Charlotte Liu (4 yo), John Morin (5 yo), Douglas Kwan (5 yo), Faith Marciano (5 yo), Ashleigh Collins (6 yo), Jake Daniels (6 yo), Llaoly Choplin (6 yo), and Kayleigh Rose Maru (5 yo) all won 1st Place. When asked how he did after the tournament, Jake Daniels yelled out, “I did the Best!”

The rest of the 1st Place winning team from Xcel Martial Arts is as follows: Ryan El Nabli (7 yo), Alexis Hoffman (8 yo), Megan Aurigemma (9 yo), Jadelyn Sisco (7 yo), Luca Herrera (8 yo), Anastasia Georgas (9 yo), Joanna Rosario (7 yo), A.J. Scarnaty (8 yo),

Giovannie Adamo (7 yo), Keira Tellado (10 yo), Elijah Maru (10 yo), Nicholas Prince (8yo), Caylie Daniels (9 yo), Jeannelle Tellado (8 yo), Sanket Bhalotia (11 yo), Wade Buchanan (13 yo), Olivia Wicki (15 yo), Joshua Torres (10 yo), Briana Vaniapillil (7 yo), Nathalie De Guzman (7yo), Kayla Santiago (7 yo), Domenica Solis (13 yo), Malgorzata Kielska (11 yo), Alex Marciano (10 yo), Emily Kaszowski (9 yo), Maheen Madhi (10 yo), Kelis Guzman (7 yo), Amaya Rodriguez (7 yo), Meghan Stellhorn (9 yo)

Christian – It’s Not What You Think

The First Presbyterian Church of Rutherford will offer the engaging 8-week Andy Stanley program entitled “Christian – It’s Not What You Think” starting on Sunday, September 13, 2015 at 11:30 a.m.

Andy Stanley is the founder of North Point Ministries (NPM) which was formed in 1995 with the vision of creating Churches that un-Churched people love to attend.

Since its inception, NPM has grown from one Church to five in metro-Atlanta and has developed a global network of more than thirty strategic partner Churches. His father is Dr. Charles F. Stanley, the senior pastor of the First Baptist Church of Atlanta and founder of InTouch Ministries.

In this series, Stanley unpacks the unique qualities that identify followers of Jesus Christ. He boldly points out that if you ask 100 people to define Christian, you’ll get 100 different definitions and it’s likely that all 100 will be incorrect.

He notes that curiously, the term Christian is actually never defined in Scripture. Rather, the term is only mentioned three times in the Bible where it was used as a derogatory label created for Jesus’ followers by outsiders.

Stanley challenges participants to embody the characteristics used in Scripture to define followers as more than merely ‘Christian’ and reminds Christians that Jesus used the word ‘disciple’ to describe his followers and proclaimed that disciples should be known for their love – a novel concept for their time – and ours today.

What if believers today embodied these traits? Would the non-believing world put aside its definition of ‘Christian’ and instead know Christian by their love? Join the study and find out!

Classes are expected to last approximately one hour and consist of a 20-30 minute video lesson followed by group discussion. Enrollment is free and there is no charge for course materials. Participants should plan on bringing their own Bible. Enrollment is open through the Church website www.fpcrutherford.org or by contacting the Church office at 201-438-3569 or office@fpcrutherford.org. One does not need to be a member of the Church sessions to participate. ###

Pride in Priests Dinner

On Tuesday, May 5, 2015, the Knights of Columbus of the Archdiocese of Newark hosted their Tenth Annual Pride in Priests dinner at The Terrace in Paramus.

In attendance at the affair were 575 men, women, bishops, priests, deacons, and religious brothers and sisters. This was the first year the affair was held at this location. The Terrace was selected because it could accommodate the more than 100 Catholics who wished to attend last year but were turned away because of limited space.

Each year the councils throughout New Jersey host an Archdiocese dinner to honor the men of the cloth. These dinners are conducted in each Diocese, with all Priests of the Diocese invited as guests of the Knights of Columbus.

The evening is open to all Knights and their wives, and is a great way for the Knights to show the Priests how proud they are of them. This event is an opportunity for members of each Council to recognize the hard work, dedication and commitment their parish priests show on a daily basis to their parishioners.

Attending the dinner were local priests from Wood-Ridge, Pastor Rev. Richard Mucowski, Rev. Allan Weber, Brother Gary Macaig and Deacon Francis Materia and from Hasbrouck Heights Pastor Rev. Patrick Mulewski, Deacon Vincent DeFedele and Deacon Paul Carris. They were the guests of their local Knights of Columbus Councils.

Archbishop John Myers, Coadjutor Archbishop Bernard Hebda, and many current and retired Auxiliary Bishops were also at the dinner.

State officers of the Knights of Columbus who attended were State Deputy Andrew Lipenta, State Secretary Bruce DeMolli, State Treasurer Robert Hatler, State Advocate Vincent Tavormina and State Warden James Stoevers, and State Chaplain Most Rev. Charles J. McDonnell.

Master of Ceremonies, State Warden Hatler, presented a check for $10,000 in behalf of the Knights to Archbishop Myers for the archdiocese to use in its many worthy programs. Story by Peter Gallo Jr. ###

Father’s Day Breakfast June 21

On Father’s Day, June 21, 2015, the St. Anthony Council Knights of Columbus from Wood-Ridge will be holding their 8th Annual Father’s Day Communion Breakfast.

This year’s breakfast will be a special one for two reasons. First, because the Council will be celebrating its 20th Anniversary; it was organized in 1995 and, secondly, they will have as their guest speaker the Provincial Minister of the Holy Name Province, Very Rev. Kevin Mullen, OFM.

The Holy Name Province is the largest of seven provinces in the United States belonging to the Order of Friars Minor.

Our Lady of the Assumption of our Blessed Lady Church in Wood-Ridge is the only Church left in the Archdiocese of Newark serviced by the Holy Name Province.

Members of the Knights of Columbus, their friends and families, will attend the 9:30 a.m. Mass at the Assumption Church. The breakfast will take place at the Fiesta following the Mass. Tickets are $18 per adult and $16 for children 9 and under. For tickets, contact a member of the Wood-Ridge Knights of Columbus. Story by Peter Gallo Jr. ###

Local AARP Chapter to Disband

The Central Bergen Chapter of AARP held its last regular meeting on May 8, 2015, before its end of the year lunch.

The lunch, which will be held at the Maywood Inn on Friday, June 12, will end the Chapter's fifty years of service to the many communities it served. Yes, the Chapter will disband.

In the past two years the Chapter has found it difficult to function with its aging and declining membership. The membership, which once stood at over 100, has now reached 49 paid members and a declining attendance at meetings.

The present officers and committee members have held the same position for more than eight years and wish to be replaced. The final decision became inevitable when there was a lack of those wishing to assume leadership roles in the next administration.

President Marie Gallo sadly stated, "I have served as president for eight years, and there's just no one else willing to serve the position." She also stated, "During my association with this Chapter, I have made many lasting friends, many who have worked hard to make my task easy. They have remained at their positions to support me, however, they too wish to be replaced."

The Central Bergen Chapter held its meeting in Hackensack and had members from Hackensack, South Hackensack, Little Ferry, Maywood, Hasbrouck Heights, Rochelle Park and Teaneck.

The program for its May 8 meeting was accordionist, Paul Belanich, who not only played the accordion, the keyboard and the concertina, but also sang.

He is an accomplished musician whose lively performance pleased the members and kept them tapping their feet. He performed many ethnic, popular and standards such as "Let's Have a Party," "Let it be Me," "Beer Barrel Polka," "Never on Sunday," "Que Sera, Sera," "Let's Twist Again," "Make the World Go Away" and "Spanish Eyes" to name just a few of them.

Leisure Club Celebrates 65th Anniversary

Sixty members attended the Leisure Club meeting on May 13, 2015. Due to the absence of President Peter Gallo, Vice President Kathy Murray conducted the meeting.

This was not an ordinary meeting! The highlight of the afternoon was the performance of vocalist, Rhonda Denet. Her program was entitled, "Just Jazz." She captivated her audience with her renditions of songs made famous in the 30s, 40s and 50s.

Ms. Denet's selections were familiar songs from radio, stage and screen. They highlighted popular standards written by the likes of Cole Porter, Duke Ellington and the Gershwins. Some of the 18 songs she sang were, "The Way You Look Tonight," "Cheek to Cheek," "Summertime," "Sentimental Journey," "Pennies from Heaven," "When I Fall in Love," and "When You're Smiling,"

Ms. Denet has her own style of performing. She has an excellent voice and her performance was phenomenal. She expresses each of her songs with great emotion.

During the business portion of the meeting, Trip Chairperson, Dorothy Murray, reviewed the trip planned for Thursday, October 15 to Woodloch Pines. The price is $50. The trip to the Tropicana Casino sponsored by Care One at Wellington in Hackensack scheduled for Tuesday, June 16 has a waiting list. The executive board of the Leisure Club has planned an ice cream party for all members attending the June 10 meeting.

Members and all Hasbrouck Heights seniors are invited to the Annual Indoor Picnic sponsored by the Mayor and Council. It will be held in the Senior Center on Thursday, July 16. Please sign up in advance at the Senior Center. Story by Peter Gallo Jr. ###

Older Americans Act Turns 50 in 2015

“Throwback Thursday or TBT” is a term used by kids on Facebook and Instagram to tell a story about something that has happened in the past. So we are “Throwing” back to May to update you on Older Americans Month.

Each May, the Administration for Community Living celebrates Older Americans Month to recognize older Americans for their contributions to the nation. This year, in honor of the 50th anniversary of the Older Americans Act (OAA), the focus is on how older adults are taking charge of their health, getting engaged in their communities, and making a positive impact in the lives of others. Since 1965, the Older Americans Act (OAA) has provided programs that allow millions of older Americans to receive the services and supports they need to continue living and thriving in their homes and communities for as long as possible. The theme for Older Americans Month 2015 is, “Get into the Act.”

Older Americans Month provides an opportunity to raise awareness of the importance of community engagement as a tool for enhancing the wellbeing of older adults. Together we can promote healthy aging, increase community involvement for older adults, and tackle important issues like depression among the elderly.

Each year, during the month of May, we honor and recognize our older family members, neighbors, and friends for their important service and sacrifice to our country. This year marks an important milestone in the history of how our country supports its older citizens. The 2015 Older Americans Month theme “Get into the Act,” focuses attention on the 50th anniversary of this landmark legislation.

Volunteers play an important role in the success of OAA programs by delivering a wide range of services, for example, taking people to medical appointments, advocating for nursing home residents, and serving hot meals at senior centers.

If you feel moved to get involved, there are many local non-profit organizations like the Caregivers Coalition of Bergen County and the Community Resource Council that advocate for the senior community. You may have heard that our healthcare system is changing and doctors and hospitals will now be paid on how healthy you are which creates a greater need for better patient engagement. You too can be part of these historic changes and help create healthier outcomes and lifestyles. For more information on how you can get involved or if you or a family member may be in need of help, please contact the Patient Engagement / Population Management Team at Absolute Insurance Management (973) 470-8333 or stop by the office @ 164 Route 46 East, Lodi, NJ 07644

What is a dental crown?

Dentistry is an art as well as a science; dental crowns offer a perfect example of this. A dental crown or “cap” is a covering that fits over a damaged, decayed or unattractive tooth.

A crown completely covers a tooth above the gum line. This is in contrast to a dental veneer, which only covers a tooth’s front surface and needs natural tooth structure to support it.

Therefore, if a tooth is missing a significant amount of structure above the gum line, a crown would be the restoration of choice.

Crowns strengthen damaged teeth, allowing them to function normally again. When crafted from today’s high-tech porcelains (dental ceramics), crowns are virtually indistinguishable from natural teeth. They can even be designed to improve upon a tooth’s original appearance.

There are other materials besides porcelain that we can use to make dental crowns, depending on what qualities are most important. For durability, cast gold can’t be beat. However, this is not always the most aesthetic choice — especially towards the front of the mouth. Other possibilities include porcelain-fused-to-metal crowns (PFM), which have a metal interior for strength and a porcelain exterior for a more natural appearance, and all-porcelain crowns with zirconia, representing the strongest ceramic.

Crowning or Capping a Tooth

Crowning or capping a tooth will usually take two to three visits. At the first visit, your tooth is prepared to receive its new crown. First, it is shaped to fit inside the new covering. This will involve some drilling to give the tooth a uniform shape. The tooth and the surrounding area will be numbed beforehand. If there is very little tooth structure left to begin with, the tooth may have to be built up with filling material, rather than filed down, to support the crown.

After the tooth is prepared, impressions of your teeth are taken with reliable, putty-like impression materials, and sent to the dental laboratory. The impressions will be used to make models of your teeth for the creation of a crown. The models will serve as guides to the highly skilled lab technicians, who will ensure that your new crown is designed to enhance your smile and function well within your bite.

Before you leave the office, a temporary crown will be attached to your tooth to protect it until the permanent crown is ready. At the second visit, your permanent crown will be attached to your tooth with either a resin that hardens when exposed to a special light source, or a type of permanent cement.

Building and Saving Where You Live

It has long been an established financial principle that homeownership is a key to wealth building.

Is this still true, after years of the Great Recession? While the economy is in recovery and the housing industry is showing healthy signs of a strong comeback, it might be a good time for us to reevaluate whether homeownership is the right choice for those still sitting on the fence.

Since the housing bust, renting has been 'in' and owning a home has been 'out', especially among young adults who in earlier years would have been first-time buyers.

As the rate of homeownership has declined, from a peak of nearly 70 percent in 2004 to a 20-year low of 64.3 percent recently (according to a New York Times article I read last month), the number of owner-occupied homes has barely budged, while the number occupied by renters has increased by nearly 25 percent.

These trends make people question the future of homeownership. Are more and longer rentals really bad on personal finances? Are the benefits of homeownership overrated? The answer, according to the experts in the NY Times article, is 'yes' to the first question and a resounding 'no' to the second.

Let's face it: owning a "place of one's own" has long been fundamental to the American Dream. Among every demographic today, homeownership is a desirable path for the majority of people. When most of us investigate the potential of buying a home, we have – to varying degrees – both intrinsic, esoteric reasons and analytically calculated reasons. Simply put, we use both sides of our brains in making an important housing decision.

The top reasons for owning a home are traditionally that it – the home – is a place of safety from which to raise children and provide a good education; that owning a home provides not only more space for your family but also control over your own living space; that homeownership is a good way to build wealth to pass onto your family.

The Times article qualifies this last reason: "Homeownership long has been central to Americans' ability to amass wealth; even with the substantial decline in wealth after the housing bust, the net worth of homeowners over time has significantly outpaced that of renters, who tend as a group to accumulate little if any wealth."

This jibes with another relevant article and study, the Survey of Consumer Finances, completed by the Federal Reserve earlier this year. This article states that the average net worth of a renter ($5,400) is 36 times less than that of a homeowner ($194,000)(!).

It's clear, after reading these articles, that a large catalyst of this discrepancy is the forced savings generated by the consistency of a mortgage payment. The Times puts it well in two statements...

"Homeownership requires potential buyers to save for a down payment, and forces them to continue to save by paying down a portion of the mortgage principal each month."

"Even in instances where renters have excess cash, saving a substantial amount is difficult without a near-term goal, like a down payment. It is also difficult to systematically invest each month in stocks, bonds or other assets without being compelled to do so."

Wealth-building is a value that crosses from right-brain to left-brain very easily. Having wealth to pass on to family makes sense to both the rational mind and to the heart. It's pretty obvious that homeownership is a fantastic way to build wealth; there really is no other solution that works nearly as well...

Veterans Today

By Thomas Marshall

As a youngster many years ago, my father once told me to believe nothing that you hear and half of what you see.

An odd statement at first, but it becomes clear that he was warning me to not listen to rumors before the facts of any given situation is known.

Rumors are often false and if you follow them, they can lead you into a lot of trouble. Here is an example of when rumors can lead someone to disaster.

Forgotten Victory

The winter of 1779-80 had proven to be a difficult one for the American Army camped in Morristown.

There was little food, the winter was cold and all supplies had been in short supply. Soldiers in the ranks do what they will to survive. They also complained and even in small cases mutinied.

Washington didn't let this go on. He suppressed the mutiny immediately. He needed to do this to prevent it from spreading.

As difficult as the encampment had been, it was also as difficult for the British to attack. The British frequently came out of New York City and raided New Jersey, taking food and supplies from the locals and making life miserable for them. To give you an example, Hackensack, Elizabeth, Paramus, and present day Ho-Ho-Kus were all subject to raids.

The grumbling of complaining soldiers was certainly nothing new to the English Army. News soon found its way to General Clinton in NY. He was glad to hear of the Americans mutinying. He decided that an opportunity was at hand to end the War by destroying Washington's Army.

If his men were complaining and even mutinying, one quick stroke and his Army will fall apart. All Clinton had to do is get Washington off of the high ground at Morristown and away from the Watchung Mountains. Get the Americans out into the open and defeat them in the open ground.

Sounds easy right? He ordered General Wilhelm Von Knyphausen to cross the Hudson River from Staten Island by Elizabeth town, and lead a two pronged assault up the Galloping Hill Road and the Vauxhall Road. He was to push through Connecticut Farms (present day Union) and cross the Rahway River at Springfield, NJ, and press on to the Hobart Gap, the gap in the Watchung Mountains.

Beyond the gap is an open space of about 11 miles wide. Clinton hoped that General Knyphausen's assault will draw Washington out into the open space and be able to be defeated.

To aid General Knyphausen, General Clinton dispatched Major General Alexander Leslie up the Hudson River with 6,000 men in order to keep Washington and his Army guessing at the goal of the British Plan. This part of the plan worked.

Washington put the Army on the road to march to King's Ferry in order to be as close to West Point as possible in case Leslie attacked it.

On June 23, 1780, the British and Hessian troops with General Knyphausen in command, crossed the Hudson and landed at Elizabethtown. They overwhelmed the American outpost and marched up the Galloping Hill Road and the Vauxhall Road.

Washington placed General Nathaniel Greene in charge of the forces in New Jersey at the time. Greene had about 2,000 men against the Hessian's 6,000 man corps.

Greene would make up for being vastly outnumbered by using the terrain. He had with him General William Maxwell and the New Jersey Brigade. They would prove to be vital to Greene in the coming battle.

General Maxwell ordered the 3rd New Jersey to guard the Galloping Hill Road. He also sent Major Henry Lee to the Vauxhall Road with his Dragoons to block any advance up that road. Greene also ordered the planks on the bridges over the Rahway River to be ripped up.

As the British and Hessians marched, as planned they split into two columns. General Knyphausen took half of the troops with him up the Vauxhall Road and General Edward Mathew took half up the Galloping Hill Road. Both Roads lead to bridges crossing over the Rahway River and both lead to the Hobart Gap.

The 3rd New Jersey Regiment took a position along a ravine to slow down and harass the British. The Third New Jersey bought the Americans several precious hours by their actions on this day. The time they saved by their fighting gave more time for the New Jersey Militia to arrive and assemble on the field. The British attacked their right flank. When their flank was attacked they were driven back out of an orchard at the ravine. The third New Jersey had fallen back to the Springfield Bridge to reinforce the defenders there.

Knyphausen called a halt to his advance. He wanted to simultaneously attack both bridges. General Greene wrote later that they took upwards of two hours preparing to attack.

A cannon fired and that was the signal to begin the assault. Both columns advanced on the bridges. At the Vauxhall Bridge, Major Henry Lee was waiting. He had 600 men with him including the 1st New Jersey Regiment. He placed his troops to concentrate their firepower on the road, but the British moved cannons onto a piece of high ground overlooking the bridge.

Lee's troops, outnumbered as they were, are now being bombarded by artillery. After the bombardment, the Queens Rangers forded the river on both sides of the bridge and Lee was now outflanked. General Greene sent a Regiment from Massachusetts and one from Connecticut to reinforce Lee's men but he and his men fighting from tree to tree were forced to fall back to the base of the Short Hills.

At the Short Hills, General Maxwell had two of his New Jersey Regiments with him waiting in reserve. The Queens Rangers attempted to move forward but some well-placed cannon shots stopped them in their tracks.

Here General Knyphausen blinked. He saw no mutiny among the Americans.

He saw no one ready to give up the cause of Liberty.

He saw Militia moving in all around him and with Maxwell in his front he stopped his advance. Knyphausen decided to aid General Mathew on the Galloping Hill Road advance.

At the Galloping Hill Bridge, Rhode Islanders were there in defense. The New Englanders held off the British attack for 40 minutes.

The men ran out of wadding for their guns, so the Reverend James Caldwell, whose wife was killed in a British raid on June 2nd, went to the meeting house and grabbed hymnals. The men tore them to use as wadding to increase their accuracy. The good Reverend yelled to them "Give them Watts boys."

Like at the Vauxhall Bridge the British and Hessians forded the river on both sides. The Rhode Islanders were forced to fall back to another bridge on the north branch of the Rahway River.

The British 38th Regiment tried to outflank the left side of the Americans here but was repulsed with heavy casualties by 30 Continental troops stationed in a stone house.

The Americans fell back again when the British brought up their cannons. All the troops fell back to General Greene's position, which was in front of the Hobart Gap.

General Greene with his reinforcements and Maxwell convinced General Knyphausen that it would be too costly to force his way through the gap.

He ordered a retreat back to Elizabethtown. Knyphausen and his troops made Elizabeth by 7 p.m. They crossed back over to Staten Island by midnight. Henry Lee and his Dragoons harassed them all the way back to where they crossed the Hudson River.

The Battle of Springfield was over. The British advance was forced to retreat back to New York. The Americans were victorious.

It is often referred to as the forgotten victory because after this battle the British concentrated their war effort in the South.

The Americans lost 13 dead, 49 wounded and the militia had 12 wounded. Nine men were listed as missing. The British Arms suffered 300 casualties.

It was true that there was a mutiny, but the rumor had it bigger than what it was. It's another case where the rumor mill produced bad information.

Americans may complain and grumble but that doesn't mean we will let someone come and take our liberty. ###

Keep Your Summer Safe: BBQ Grill Safety Tips

The backyard barbecue is a summer tradition enjoyed by many area residents. The Fire Department urges outdoor chefs to be cautious when cooking outdoors.

Keep a fire extinguisher handy. Grills should not be placed next to your home’s wall, underneath porches or overhangs, and never indoors.

Be sure to monitor active grills. Wear protective mitts or gloves while barbecuing.

Do not store gasoline or other flammable substances in the grill’s vicinity.

Never move a grill or cover a grill if it is still hot. Always keep curious children away from hot grills. When a gas grill is not in use, remove control knobs and store them inside, away from children.

Lighting a charcoal grill requires caution. Use only the appropriate amount of lighter fluid, and NEVER substitute gasoline, kerosene or other flammable liquids for lighter fluid.

Adding starter fluid after the grill fire has been ignited is extremely hazardous as flames may jump out.

Charcoals should be left to burn out in your grill. Do not dispose of charcoals in trash cans or bring them indoors. Soak coals in water to ensure they are out.

Routinely clean ashes from the grill and inspect for holes or loose fittings.

Lighter fluids and “quick-start” charcoal should be stored outside and away from the home.

Gas grills should be cleaned at least once each season. Spiders often make their homes inside the components, and their webs can block off gas intake and damage your grill.

Use only a gas cylinder designed to store propane and only use a reputable propane supplier to fill it. If a new cylinder is being filled for the first time, tell your supplier so air can be removed.

Most gas grill accidents are caused when propane tanks are hooked up incorrectly. Make sure the cylinder is equipped with an OPD (Over-Pressure Device). When changing propane cylinders, test the connection for leaks with soapy water and tighten as necessary.

Propane gas is odorless.

A “rotten egg” odor is put into the gas so that it’s easy to detect if a leak occurs.

If you smell the “rotten egg” odor near or around your propane gas cylinder immediately contact the Fire Department.

When not in use, keep the valve tightly closed and plugged with the “POL” left handed thread plug. This will seal the propane gas cylinder and help prevent leaks if the service valve is accidentally opened.

Never store propane gas cylinders inside an enclosed structure -- store and use outdoors only.

Handle cylinders gently -- dents, gouges and rust can weaken cylinders.

Always keep cylinders upright and, when transporting, secure it in position. Keep your vehicle well ventilated when transporting cylinders.

Don’t leave cylinder in a vehicle -- sitting in a hot vehicle can cause the safety relief valve to discharge gas!

No propane gas cylinder should be scrapped, destroyed, cut with a torch, punctured or have the service valve removed by the public.

Disposal in the municipal solid waste stream is prohibited. Many towns no longer accept propane cylinders for disposal and/or recycling. ###

On May 13, 2015, at about 4 p.m., the Carlstadt Fire Department responded to a truck fire at General Trading on 16th Street, Carlstadt. No injuries reported. Photos by Dennis Kronyak Sr. ###

On May 9, 2015, the Wood-Ridge Fire Department was covering for the Hasbrouck Heights Fire Department (while out-of-service for their annual inspection). The WRFD responded to a smoky dryer fire at the Washington Laundromat on the Boulevard. The source was some burnt towels. Photos by Dennis Kronyak Sr. ###

Fast Moving Blaze Quickly Knocked Down

On Monday, May 4, 2015, at 20:22 hours, during the monthly meeting, the Wood-Ridge Fire Department was dispatched to Sussex Road for a report of a fast moving fire. The three chiefs arrived within minutes to find the rear fence and a Hillcrest Avenue garage on fire. Firefighters stretched two lines and quickly knocked down the fire, keeping it from extending to the Sussex Road house, whose windows were broken out and house fixtures melted by the radiant heat of the fire. The blaze consumed about 40 feet of fence and the garage's siding. The cause of the fire was investigated by Fire Official Cauceglia and the WRPD and determined to be electrical in nature, possibly to the in-ground electrical box. There were no injuries reported. The WRFD was assisted at the scene by the Wallington Fire Department RIC. Second alarm companies covered the W-R firehouse. All W-R units were back in service at 23:28 hours. The fire is under investigation. Photos by Dennis Kronyak Sr. ###
