VOL. 10, No. 11 November 2013 ★★★★★

The dog days of summer have passed into memory with brisk, frosty mornings. Bright days behold luminescent leaf tapestries, majestic in grandeur. With a light wind, their rustling sings the song of a coming barren winter. Leaves silently begin to float, flutter and dance and blanket manicured lawns. The scent of fireplaces wafts through the crisp air, while inside, harvest warms with the taste of apple cider and the smell of baking pumpkin pie. The winter is long. Spring unfolds. Summer last. But those brief moments of autumn delights are to cherish.

Moonachie Annual Town-wide Food Drive

First Presbyterian Church of Moonachie held its 8th Annual Town-wide Food Drive, at the Church on October 12, 2013.

The Moonachie EMS and Rescue Squad distributed flyers to every resident, announcing the program. The drive netted over 50 bags of food and cash donations for The Center for Food Action.

The Church dedicated the offering in a special service of Thanksgiving and Celebration on Sunday, October 13.

The "Little White Church" on Moonachie Road has been ministering in the community for over one hundred years. They are grateful to all those who have helped expand their ministry in the community, and given good news to tell about the giving hearts in Moonachie, New Jersey.

The Church collects food for the CFA year round.

In a time when so many people are in need, it is good to find ways to help out, and even a single can or boxed item can make a difference in fighting hunger.

According to the workers at The Center for Food Action, the need is higher than ever this year, and they are having a hard time keeping enough food on the shelves. ###

Thanksgiving Proclamation, November 29, 1623

TO ALL YE PILGRIMS

Inasmuch as the great Father has given us this year an abundant harvest of Indian corn, wheat, beans, squashes, and garden vegetables, and has made the forests to abound with game and the sea with fish and clams, and inasmuch as He has protected us from the ravages of the savages, has spared us from pestilence and disease, has granted us freedom to worship God according to the dictates of our own conscience; now, I, your magistrate, do proclaim that all ye Pilgrims, with your wives and little ones, do gather at ye meeting house, on ye hill, between the hours of 9 and 12 in the day time, on Thursday, November ye 29th of the year of our Lord one thousand six hundred and twenty-three, and the third year since ye Pilgrims landed on ye Pilgrim Rock, there to listen to ye pastor, and render thanksgiving to ye Almighty God for all His blessings.

5K Walk for Dyslexic Children

The 32nd Masonic Learning Center for Children, located at 301 Division Avenue, held its 7th Annual Hasbrouck Heights 5K Walk to Help Dyslexic Children on Saturday, October 5, 2013, at 10:00 a.m., at Depken Field (Franklin & Route 17).

Walkers received a "T" shirt. About 100 walkers participated.

Refreshments were available. Proceeds go directly to the cost of training tutors and tutoring children.

The Masonic Learning Centers for Children have taken the lead nationally in tutoring children with dyslexia at no cost. The learning centers are open to all children regardless of economic status, race, religion, or Masonic affiliation. There are 43 centers in the United States.

Dyslexia is an inherited neurological disorder that affects the way people learn to read and speak, as well as how they process things mathematically. Some of the world's most famous artists, innovators and leaders were and are dyslexic, including Leonardo da Vinci, Albert Einstein, Thomas Edison, Agatha Christie, William Hewlitt, Winston Churchill, Tom Cruise, Cher, Jay Leno, and Charles Schwab.

Dyslexia affects one out of every five people, and affects boys and girls in equal numbers. Children left with untreated dyslexia often suffer devastating personal consequences. It's the number one reason teenagers drop out of school, and is a primary factor in juvenile delinquency.

Dyslexia is, however, a treatable condition. Children with dyslexia need professional help, and the earlier they receive it, the greater their chances of achieving normal, fully functional lives.

Your Fire Chiefs Offer These Safety Tips

- Thanksgiving is the peak day for home cooking fires.
- Three-fifths (59%) of reported home cooking fire injuries occurred when victims tried to fight the fire themselves.
- A CPSC study found that 83% of frying fires began in the first 15 minutes of cooking.
- Keep anything that can catch fire - potholders, towels or curtains - away from your stovetop.
- Have a "kid-free zone" of at least 3 feet around the stove and areas where hot food or drink is prepared or carried.

Keep Fire Hydrants Cleared of Snow

Area Fire Departments ask that when it snows, residents and businesses should make an effort to keep fire hydrants clear and accessible. ###

Friendly Neighbors Kicks Off Annual Fund Drive

Every year between Thanksgiving and New Year's Day, the Friendly Neighbors Organization of Hasbrouck Heights holds its annual fund-raising campaign.

This organization has been in existence since 1939 and consists of a group of 10 women from each of the Churches in town. They donate their time and effort to raising money for needy local families. Over the years, their group has had many special friends including men's and women's groups from the local Churches and civic groups.

This year they are helping 13 families with a total of 17 children. Their assistance includes food, cleaning supplies, and emergency help.

All funds go toward helping Hasbrouck Heights residents.

Since the economy is still weak and people are still struggling, celebrating the holidays with food and gifts is nearly impossible.

A wonderful way to honor a loved one is by donating in their memory.

Your donation, no matter how small, will make a difference, so we ask you to please consider giving.

Donations can be mailed to Mrs. Pat Boer, Treasurer, 307 Roosevelt Avenue, Hasbrouck Heights. ###

W-R Lions Dedicate Gazebo

On Sunday, September 29, 2013, the new gazebo in Veteran's Park on the Boulevard was officially dedicated to the Charter Members of the Wood-Ridge Lions Club. Founded in 1939, the dedication began a year long celebration of the Club's 75th Anniversary.

Opening the ceremony with a beautiful Benediction was Deacon Paul Keenan from Assumption Church. Following the Benediction, Club President Dave Gotha welcomed the approximately 70 guests and fellow Club members. He read off the names of the 19 Charter Club members and their occupations. He recognized their standing as pillars of the community and willingness to serve others. He also noted the work they began 74 years ago in serving the community and is continued today by the current Club membership of 51 Lions.

The formal dedication was made by Club member Wood-Ridge Mayor and State Senator Paul Sarlo. In his remarks he noted how Lions worldwide help their communities in various ways and are the leading force in assisting the blind and funding sight projects. There are thousands that now have the gift of sight thanks to the work of Lions International.

He also mentioned how important the Club is to the Borough. Beyond the thousands of dollars that the Club contributes each year for sight projects, they locally contribute to the Borough by sponsoring a Little League Team, the American Legion Boys' State Program, The Library, the Wood-Ridge PBA Vest Fund and three high school scholarships; just some of the local programs sponsored by the Club.

Following the dedication, hot dogs and desserts were enjoyed by all! The Club wants to thank the Wood-Ridge DPW for the work they did in the preparation needed to install the monument and the effort put forth to have the park in such a beautiful state for the dedication.

The Club's year long 75th anniversary celebration will culminate with a "Grand Gala" at the Fiesta on Friday October 17, 2014. Details will follow! Story by Jack Nagel. ###

Turkey Dinner at Reformed Church

The Guild of Reformed Church Women's Annual Turkey Dinner was held on Saturday, October 5, 2013 at the First Reformed Church in Hasbrouck Heights.

This annual affair draws many local residents as well as residents from neighboring communities. Each year as word spreads about the excellent meals that are prepared and served, the affair attracts more people. The food was delicious and plentiful. Along with the turkey, there was stuffing, potatoes, cranberry sauce, carrots, pumpkin bread, rolls, and dessert topped with strawberries and whipped cream.

This meal and the Guild's Annual Roast Beef Dinner should not be missed. Photo and story by Marie and Peter Gallo Jr. ###

Carlstadt Women's Club – Advocates for Children

Joyce Siri, PP of Carlstadt Women's Club

The caps will be distributed in conjunction with the Period of PURPLE Crying program, just one of many projects adopted by the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs as part of its two-year Domestic Violence Awareness and Prevention theme.

The Period of PURPLE Crying program aims to eliminate shaken baby syndrome and abusive head trauma in infants by helping parents understand the frustrating, prolonged periods of unexplained crying normally experienced by most babies beginning at two weeks of age and often continuing for three to four months.

Nurses in maternity units and neonatal intensive care units of participating hospitals are trained to offer parents soothing techniques and methods for coping through this difficult period in a newborn's life.

The hundred caps donated by the Carlstadt Women's Club were crocheted in many styles and sizes using a variety of patterns by Liliana Barranco, Ann Deleasa, and project leader Joyce Siri. All were made with soft, non-woolen yarns.

At least fifty percent of each cap was a shade of purple. The caps will be given out in November at program sites as reminders that babies must be kept safe.

Prevent Child Abuse-New Jersey is committed to ensuring that babies get off to a healthy start and that their parents and caregivers have the education and skills to nurture safe, healthy development.

To date, the following hospitals have adopted the Period of PURPLE Crying project: St. Barnabas Medical Center, Livingston; Beth Israel Medical Center and University Hospital, Newark; Atlanticare Regional Medical Center, Galloway; Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital, New Brunswick; Community Medical Center, Toms River; and, Shore Medical Center, Somers Point.

Are your hands idle? Are your needles and hooks empty? Knitters or crocheters interested in participating in the Period of PURPLE Crying project may contact Joyce at 201-438-5041 for further information. Story and photo provided by Cheryl James. ###

The Jersey Devil Comes Alive at The Library

The month of October always reminds us of the fall season and also the celebration of Halloween. Halloween, the time spooky things happen. Supernatural and unexplained activities occur. Here in New Jersey we have the legend of the Jersey Devil. Is it a mythical creature, fairy tale, fable, historical fact, or a story made up?

On October 10, 2013, Professor Dr. Angus Kress Gillespie, a Professor at Rutgers University, presented a program on the Jersey Devil Legend at The Free Public Library of Hasbrouck Heights.

The story goes back to the year 1735. A woman who had given birth twelve times, and was about to give birth again for the thirteenth time, cursed the unborn child. Wishing that if she were to have one more child, let it be a devil. The child was born a monster.

The Jersey Devil is a mythical creature located in New Jersey Pinelands. The beast has haunted New Jersey and the surrounding areas for the past 275 years. It has allegedly been seen by over 2,000 witnesses over this period. The creature has terrorized towns and caused factories and schools to close down. However, many people believe that the Jersey Devil is a legend, a mythical beast that originated from the folklore of the New Jersey Pine Barrens. Still others disagree with this point of view.

Dr. Gillespie, through his presentation, brings together different reports of this legendary creature. There is evidence to support the existence of an animal or supernatural being known as the Jersey Devil. The evidence consists of the stories of the Jersey Devil's origin, the sightings of it, and finally, the theories on it. To emphasize his presentation, Dr. Gillespie used visual aids which include many photographs, drawings and maps of this legendary creature.

Dr. Gillespie teaches Political Science at Rutgers University. He received his B.S. from Yale in 1964 and his PhD from the University of Pennsylvania in 1975. He answered questions from the thirty citizens who attended his presentation. Photo and story by Marie and Peter Gallo Jr. ###

Lighthouses of New Jersey

Kevin Woyce, author, photographer and lecturer, entertained members of the Wood-Ridge Historical Society and their guests at the Arnault/Bianchi House on September 25, 2013.

All in attendance thoroughly enjoyed his talk and slide presentation on Lighthouses, current and past, as well as his descriptions of the lives of some of those who operated them.

Of special interest were the New Jersey Shore lighthouses as well as those on the Hudson River, and the fact that "Lady Liberty's" first designation was that of a lighthouse. Story by Dorothy Dobek. ###

Sister Mary Adalbert is the centerpiece of a group photo of the ICHS Hall of Fame inductees.

ICHS Hall of Fame Induction

Immaculate Conception High School, Lodi, New Jersey, held its first Hall of Fame induction on Thursday, October 10, 2013, at Il Villagio in Carlstadt.

At the same event, the traditional Women of Distinction Honors were held. Congratulations to the very first members of the ICHS Hall of Fame and our newest Women of Distinction!

Women of Distinction: Ms. Melina Mara '81, and Dr. Marylynn Snyder '93

The presence of more than twenty Felician Sisters added to the uniqueness of this historic event.

Two Felician Sisters were requested to present the honorees: Sister Elizabeth Marie Morley presenting Mr. Thomas Mann and Sister Mary Virginia Tomasiak presenting Sister Adalbert.

Sister Adalbert was recognized for her outstanding professional career in teaching on all levels from grammar school to college.

During the past thirty years she has been a member of the English Department of Felician College where she still teaches on a daily basis at the age of 91 (turning 92 in December) and after 73 years of religious life.

Before that she was an outstanding teacher in several high schools staffed by Felician Sisters. She moderated award winning yearbooks and newspapers. She also was a successful fundraiser for the Felician Sisters, Felician College and Immaculate Conception High School.

The proceeds of her Tricky Trays and carnivals are over three hundred thousand dollars. But above all as Sister Virginia, her presenter, pointed out, she is an exemplary religious, who daily adores Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament. Photo and story provided by Sister Mary Virgina Tomasiak, SM. ###

Corpus Christi School and BriCom Work Together to Begin Wireless Project

Corpus Christi School and its Early Learning Childhood Center will soon be wireless.

Throughout the building, staff, faculty, students, and parents will notice the access points. There will be more available wireless connectivity in the school and the way devices connect will be different as well. What has been done already is a very large leap forward. By keeping Corpus Christi competitive with surrounding schools, current and prospective parents and students can see that the School is keeping up with the culture and needs of today's youth.

The newly acquired iPads created a greater need for wireless access points. The wireless network will help the school in ways that the current internet connectivity can't. The current hardwired connections work but place too much of a load on them and slow down and crash.

Principal Taormina said, "This is an exciting time for Corpus Christi School. Once the wireless project is finished, we can concentrate on getting more iPads and interactive whiteboards, and teachers could use laptops to teach lessons in conjunction with other technological tools." Story by Maria Grace Billings. ###

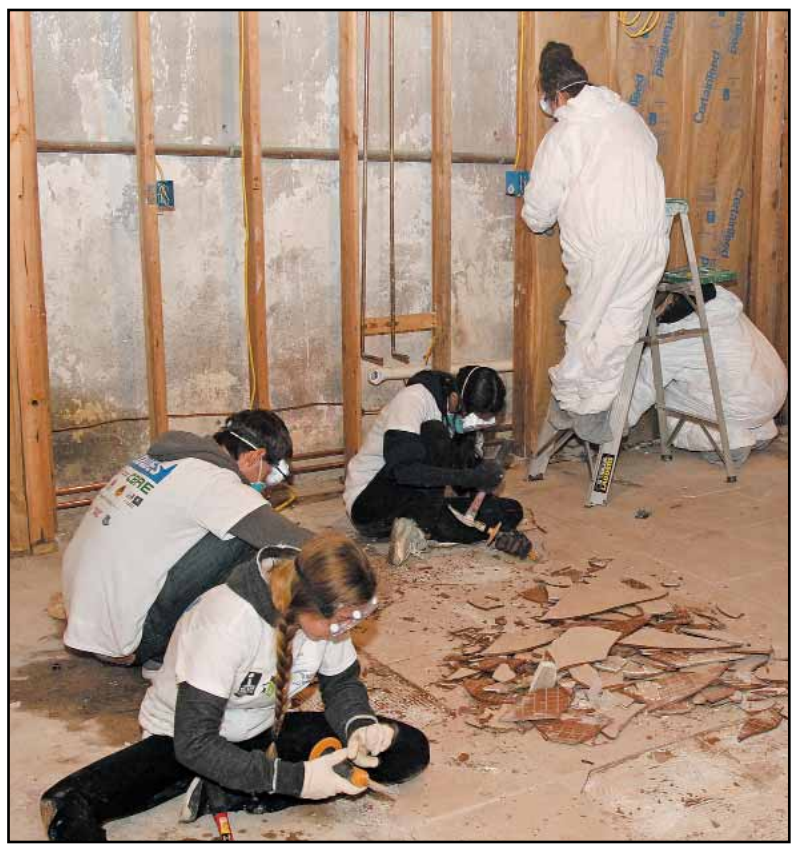
200 Volunteers Help Rebuil



On the one-year anniversary of Superstorm Sandy, many residents, in Bergen County, are still unaware of the devastating impact on our Moonachie neighbors where it is estimated eight of every ten homes had some damage, and several residents are still displaced.

On October 19 and 20, 2013, about 200 volunteers, under the direction of Rebuilding Together, helped revitalize a Moonachie neighborhood providing critical home repairs for 11 local homeowners, as part of Kickoff to Rebuild, Super Bowl XLVIII.

This is the 19th NFL sanctioned event. NFL launches rebuilding projects in communities that host the Super Bowl.

A lot of prep work was done prior to this work session. And there is much more to be done.

Some homeowners have not been able to stay in their houses since Sandy. Foundations are unstable. Mold is a concern. Appliances no longer function.

Lowe's and Carter's Kids also installed a "Tilted Sky Runner" for older kids to enjoy.

Additionally, mulch was placed beneath other equipment in the park.

This weekend's projects included painting a gazebo, starting a walkway at the Moonachie Civic Center, starting a foundation for a storage shed at Moonachie Road pump station, etc.

One home was entered for the first time in 11 months. It was so inundated with mold that the floor boards had to be removed.

Among those helping with the restoration are professional contractors, painters, carpenters, students and ordinary citizens.

Many of the homes received new electrical work, plumbing and flooring, as well as many other critical repairs.

There was lots of sheetrock and insulation installed.

A new roof was installed at one home.

Down the street, a professional paint crew from J. Canabe's Painting contractors was spray painting one side of a home, while students from Ramapo College prepped the other side.

With crowbars, hammers and shovels, they pried aluminum siding from the façade, whacked the black shutters loose, and ripped weeds from the yard of another home.

Near the park, another home had its four car garage cleaned out. Sandy's water was still present in some of the containers.

A team of students from Passaic YouthBuild from St. Paul's Community Development Corp. (a youth agency for 16-24 year olds looking to earn their GED and learn a trade), did construction on one home. This group has been a regular contributor to the rebuilding effort.

Rebuilding Together Bergen County's core home-repair work focuses on home safety, energy efficiency, and accessibility for seniors, the disabled, Veterans, and families with children.

Since Hurricane Sandy, they have completely restored several homes, the Little Ferry Hook & Ladder and Hose Companies, and re-insulated 150 mobile homes.

For more information, visit www.RebuildingTogetherBergen.org

Other supporters for this weekend's efforts include: American Red Cross, CBRE, Bergen County VOAD, Hurricane Sandy New Jersey Relief Fund, Gorilla Glue, Brooklyn Triathlon, Champion System, and Race2Rebuild, etc. ###

Family Volunteering Day - November 23

Come join Bergen County VOAD for Family Volunteer Day in Bergen County on November 23, 2013.

They are inviting families to the Hurricane Sandy stricken area to help local residents with fall yard work.

Many residents have not been able to keep up with yard maintenance due to the overwhelming stress of storm recovery and home repair.

In addition, the flood waters destroyed yard tools kept in sheds and garages, which were not covered by insurance or other relief programs.

Volunteers are encouraged to bring along their own yard tools. Please register for this event with Marisa Santiago by calling 201-446-8585 or emailing msantiago@bergen-volunteers.org ###

Alborada Spanish Dance Theatre

Three dancers and a guitarist from the famous Alborada Spanish Dance Theatre presented a program at the Hasbrouck Heights Senior Center on October 19, 2013. The program was sponsored by The Friends of The Hasbrouck Heights Free Public Library.

Alborada Spanish Dance Theatre, the Premier Spanish Dance Company in New Jersey, has been in existence for 25 years. It embraces all forms of dance from Spain, be it Flamenco, Regional, or Classical.

The program was presented to an audience of more than 50 men, women and children. The dancers gave a program which embraced various dance forms. Some of the dances featured the use of castanets, fans, and shawls.

Before each dance, one of the members of the troupe presented an excellent narration to explain what the dance steps and hand motions signified.

The dancers also provided time for members of the audience to learn how to play the castanets, clap their hands, express themselves with their hands, and learn some Spanish dance steps. The guitarist explained the difference between a regular guitar and a Spanish guitar.

The program was enjoyed by all. As one of the dancers stated "The audience's obvious approval of the program created an atmosphere that encouraged the dancers to do their best." Photos and story by Marie and Peter Gallo Jr. ###

Aviation Contributors Recognized at AHOF Dinner

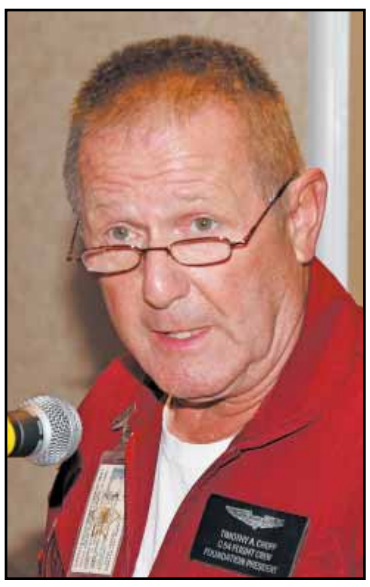
The NJ Aviation Hall of Fame held its 41th Annual Induction Dinner at the Fiesta on Tuesday, October 15, 2013.

The Master of Ceremonies was W. Timothy McSwain. Executive Director Shea Oakley welcomed the guests. The Colors were presented by the Civil Air Patrol Teterboro Squadron Honor Guard, followed by the Pledge of Allegiance. The invocation was given by Pastor Tim Barnes. AHOF President Frederick P. Alimonti gave remarks.

Following dinner, The 2013 Distinguished Service Award went to Charles Cumella, a Civil Air Patrol Cadet and museum volunteer.

The Fred L. Wehran Award was granted to Signature Flight Support-Teterboro, accepted by General Manager Jackie Vibbert.

Each Hall of Fame Inductee was introduced by a multimedia presentation created by Joe Lennox that highlighted their career. This year's Inductees include:



Timothy Chopp

A resident of Toms River, Chopp's boyhood interest in aviation was inspired by an uncle who flew for TWA. Chopp's particular passion was piston transports, a passion that continues today.

He learned to fly just after graduating High School in 1962. By age 19 he possessed private and commercial pilot certificates. After serving in the US Army, which included a stint in Vietnam, Chopp began flying passenger charters. By 1969, at age 25, he was chief pilot for a commuter airline in West Virginia.

Chopp probably had the distinction of being the world's youngest owner of an air travel club. In 1971, he founded World Citizens International; a company that operated equipment including the Lockheed 749 Constellation.

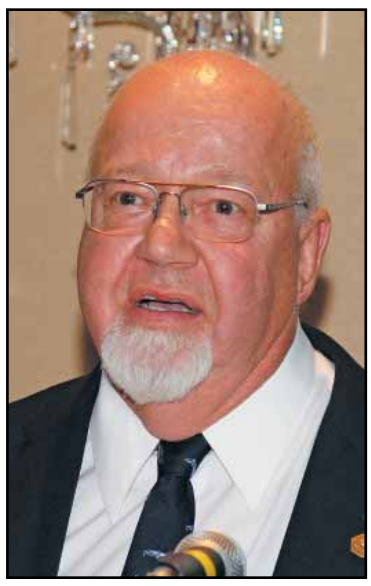
From 1977 to 1982, Chopp flew DC-3 charters for Vero Monmouth Airlines. During this time, his passengers included many celebrities, among them the Dalai Lama of Tibet. The mid-1980s found him acting as chief pilot for a business jet charter service.

In 1988, Chopp founded the Berlin Airlift Historical Foundation, an organization designed to commemorate the great allied effort in 1948 to keep Berlin supplied during a Soviet blockade.

A Douglas C-54 transport actually used in the airlift was acquired and restored to flight condition. Since 1994, the aircraft has operated as a flying museum and educational exhibit to inform the public and preserve the legacy of the airlift and those who served in it.

In recent years, a Boeing C-97 transport has also been acquired and is expected to be flying in 2014.

Honors awarded to Chopp include the German Cross of Merit and special recognition from the NJ Senate and General Assembly. His foundation has received over 30 awards.



Neil Nederfield

Raised in Jefferson Township, Nederfield first learned his craft as an Aviation Maintenance Technician (AMT) while serving in the U.S. Navy during the 1960s.

He worked on Douglas A-4 Skyhawks during four cruises (including one in Southeast Asian waters). By the time of his discharge he had been awarded the Vietnam Service Medal with 2 Bronze Stars and the Good Conduct Metal.

Since that beginning, Nederfield has become the most honored person in his field in the history of the Garden State. Awards have been granted by the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), the Professional Aircraft Maintenance Association (PAMA), the Mid-Atlantic Pilot's Association (MAPA) and the legendary Quiet Birdman (QB) pilot's organization.

Probably Nederfield's greatest recognition has come from the FAA which named him National AMT of the Year in 2010.

As President of C&W Aero Services Inc. at Essex County Airport in Fairfield, he has seen his company win the FAA Diamond Award annually from 1993-2009, an extraordinary 16 years in a row. He also personally received FAA Flight Safety Awards in 2002 and 2004 and has served as an FAA "FAAST" Safety Team Representative starting in 2007.

In addition to serving on PAMA Teterboro's board for over 20 years, Nederfield was honored with the organization's Lifetime Achievement Award in 2003. The Quiet Birdman granted him a commendation in 2004 for over 10 years of support for their storied organization and the aviation community.

His company also won MAPA's Corporate Citizen Award in 2007 for contributions to aviation safety.

LTC Thomas Robert Vaucher 1918-

Thomas "Bob" Vaucher of Bridgewater, New Jersey, originally from Mission, Texas, graduated from the University of Texas–Pan American in 1940 and in 1941 was commissioned a 2nd Lt. in the Army Air Forces.

A pilot in WWII, he flew the B-17, B-18, B-24 and the B-29 on 117 combat missions in many theatres: North Atlantic, Caribbean, Near Pacific, India—including 26 missions over the Himalayas ("the Hump")—China, Southeast Asia, Mariana Islands, and Japan.

He was the first to fly a U.S. radar-equipped bomber in combat, the consolidated LB-30, and delivered the first B-29 Superfortress bomber to the Army Air Forces (AAF). General "Hap" Arnold, Chief of the AAF, commended him after Vaucher flew the B-29 on a test bombing mission at the then unprecedented altitude of 38,000 feet.

He flew the longest combat mission of the war, 4,030 miles roundtrip from India to Sumatra to lay mines in the Musi River held by the Japanese. Vaucher was Air Commander of 454 B-29s, the longest in-trail assembly of bombers in history, in an attack on Yokohama, Japan, that in terms of destroyed target area was the most effective air mission of the war.

He attained the rank of Lieutenant Colonel and was promoted to Operations Officer of the 462nd Bomber Group, nicknamed the "Hellbirds."

Col. Vaucher's final mission was on September 2, 1945. He was Commander of the United States "Show of Force," leading the greatest air armada in history, 525 B-29s, accompanied by many naval aircraft, over the USS Missouri in Tokyo Bay as the Japanese signed the formal surrender.

Vaucher adapted the electronic control system for the B-29 guns to an industrial application for precision metal stamping used to this day. He maintained his pilot certification and flew until age 82.

Dental Emergencies

Dental emergencies can happen at any time. You and your children risk breaking teeth or injuring your mouth while eating, playing, exercising, and participating in other seemingly harmless activities, especially during the summer months. Oral injuries often are painful and should be treated by a dentist as soon as possible.

Learn more about what to do in case of a dental emergency.

What are dental emergencies and how can I help my children avoid them?

Dental emergencies occur when the tooth breaks, cracks, becomes loosened, or is knocked out completely. Emergencies also include crowns coming off teeth or injuries to mouth tissue.

You can help your children avoid dental emergencies by taking simple precautions, including making sure they wear mouthguards during sports activities and avoid foods that could crack or break the teeth.

What should I do if my child's tooth is knocked out?

Your child's tooth will have the best chance of surviving dental trauma if you see your dentist within one hour of any emergency—so call immediately for an appointment. Handle the tooth by the crown (the top), not by the root (the pointed part on the bottom); touching the root could damage cells that are necessary to reattach the tooth to the bone.

Gently rinse the tooth in water to remove dirt, but do not scrub it. Place the clean tooth in your child's mouth between the cheek and gum to keep it moist. It is important not to let the tooth dry out, so if your child can't keep it in his or her mouth, wrap it in a clean cloth or gauze and immerse it in milk or the child's own saliva until you get to your dentist's office.

If your child has a baby tooth knocked out, the tooth should not be replanted. However, your child should visit the dentist immediately to ensure no broken pieces of the tooth remain.

What should I do if my child's tooth is pushed out of position?

Call your dentist right away for an emergency appointment. In the meantime, attempt to reposition your child's tooth to its normal alignment using light finger pressure—but don't force it.

What should I do if my child's tooth is chipped or fractured?

There are different types of tooth fractures. Chipped teeth are minor fractures. Moderate fractures involve damage to the enamel, tissue, and/or pulp. A severely fractured tooth usually has been traumatized to the point that it cannot be recovered.

If your child fractures a tooth, rinse his or her mouth with warm water and use an ice pack or cold compress to reduce swelling. Contact your dentist immediately. He or she can smooth minor tooth fractures with a sandpaper disc, but some fractures may require restorative procedures. If you can find the broken tooth fragment, bring it with you to the dentist.

What should I do if tissue in my child's mouth is injured?

If your child experiences a tear, cut, puncture wound, or laceration on his or her cheek, lips, or tongue, immediately clean the wound with warm water. Bleeding from a tongue laceration can be reduced by pulling the tongue forward and using gauze to place pressure on the wound. Visit an oral surgeon for emergency care as soon as possible, or go to the emergency room if you cannot see an oral surgeon right away.

Real Estate Insight

Discovering Your Home Diamond in the Rough

This article is addressed primarily to first-time homebuyers. Purchasing a home is an exciting and also nerve-wracking experience. It can be particularly frustrating for those who enter the market with their minds already set on how their soon-to-be-home should look.

The point being that it's important not to fall into the trap of dismissing properties that have cosmetic issues which are very often easy to remedy.

We realtors see and hear it all the time. 'Yuck, the carpeting is disgusting!... the wallpaper's hideous!... the back yard's a desert…' etc.

But, the fact is, these shortcomings don't necessarily make for a bad home. Indeed, being fixated on small-bore eyesores may, in fact, prevent you from getting a home with great potential.

And, if you're looking for a home here in hot-selling Bergen County - where properties are now being snatched up almost as soon as they come on the market - you'll fast come to realize you can't be choosy if you want to make a competitive offer.

Of course (reminder!), one of the first things to do is to get pre-approved for a loan and determine the maximum you can afford to offer for a house.

Don't look at homes that are asking for more than 5 percent above your maximum, otherwise you'll be setting yourself up for disappointment if you find the perfect – but outside your budget – home.

So what to do?

The floor plan of the home is extremely important. If a floor plan isn't quite to your liking, consider rearranging it or adding on. If you're looking at a home that needs remodeling/expanding to suit your needs, the estimated cost of renovation must be considered when making an offer.

Also, consider the features of a home…

• Walls. While these are among the easiest to remedy, they also make a huge first impression. If the walls need to be painted, are covered in wallpaper or painted a color you find distasteful, picture them crisp and clean in the color of your choice.

• Floors. Like walls, carpet or floor surfaces that are old or outdated can be easily replaced. You might even ask for a carpet allowance in your bid ('though, in this market, don't get your hopes up!).

• View. Things like old, ugly – even dirty – windows and window treatments can make a view appear less desirable. This can be improved! Unless the only view you have is of your neighbor's pit bull chained to the side of the house, don't get hung up on what is a fixable view.

• Landscaping. Your best bet is a moderately landscaped yard because you can always improve landscaping without spending too much. Worst case, even you're looking at raw dirt, landscaping is one of the easier projects to tackle. Plus you get to design it however you'd like it if you're starting from scratch.

• Kitchen. The most popular room in the house, many homeowners want their kitchen to be large and equipped with modern appliances.

Don't let outdated color schemes deter you; there's nothing like a fresh coat of paint to make a kitchen your own.

Also, if you're sold on the rest of the house enough to make an offer, you can give the kitchen a minor spruce-up with some new appliances or (probably later down the line) a major overhaul complete with new countertops, cabinets and flooring.

So, keep in mind that unless you're building your dream home from scratch, you'll probably never find the "perfect" home.

But seeing past a previous owner's bad decorating choices to the core of the property and its potential for livability will yield you (take it from me, an old home restoration junkie!) the home you've always wanted. It may take some work but then, hey – it's really yours!

Beaver Moon

The November full moon appears on Sunday, November 17, 2013, at 10:16 a.m. and is called the "Full Beaver Moon." According to "The Farmer's Almanac," this was the time to set beaver traps before the swamp freezes, to ensure a supply of warm winter furs.

Another interpretation suggests that the name "Full Beaver Moon" comes from the fact that the beavers are now actively preparing for winter. Other names for this moon include "Full Frost Moon."

The Native American Indians of the northern and eastern United States kept track of the seasons by giving a name to each recurring full moon. European settlers followed the custom. ###

Veterans Today

By Thomas Marshall

People and politicians like to put time tables on warfare. "We will defeat them quickly; our boys will be home by Christmas;" "this will only take a month at most," are some of the things said. I don't know why this is done. I think it makes them feel better. Maybe they want to win an argument. That may be but it doesn't win battles. It's the unseen, the unknown that can wreck the most havoc.

The best example we have is a tiny unremembered atoll in the Gilbert Islands known as Tarawa. Held by the Japanese during World War II, it was part of the outer defenses of the Japanese Empire.

The U.S. High Command selected this atoll because it was located in the Central Pacific, and could be attacked from the air as well as resupplied with the ships available with little risk of the landing force being cut off like at the Guadalcanal Campaign.

The largest island in the small chain is called Betio by the natives and is 2 miles long and 800 yards wide.

The Admirals and Generals planned to bombard the Island of Betio from the air and sea. When the defenses were reduced the Marines would land and take the island.

Rear Admiral Raymond Spruance assembled his ships and set sail for the Tarawa Atoll. He was told that it would only take a day to take the atoll. Sounded good, but that isn't what happened.

What the U.S. High Command didn't realize was that things were not the same on the island than the year before.

He built over 500 pill boxes, put in 14 coastal batteries and countless machine gun nests and trenches. He had 4,500 Japanese Marines at his command. He told them to defend to the last man.

When November 1943 came Betio was not an island, it was a fortress. What the U.S. High Command also didn't realize is that their maps used to plan the attack were old.

The tidal condition was not on the maps. This atoll had tides that would go out for days, not hours like our tides. This was a problem no one saw before it was too late.

Marine Corps General Holland Smith insisted that the Marines land on Betio using the new Amphtracs. These were amphibious assault vehicles that had tracks that would help them get over the coral reefs. These new devices would play a big part in the coming battle.

At 3:30 a.m. on November 20, 1943 the Marines of the 2nd Marine Division climbed into their Amphtracs and landing craft and waited for the Navy to destroy the defensive positions of the Japanese on the island.

The USS Maryland and three other battleships, along with five cruisers and seven destroyers pulverized the island for over half an hour with their guns.

Around 9 a.m. the bombardment stopped to allow Hellcat dive bombers to do some precision bombing. The planes caused only minor interference to the Japanese and they used the time to reinforce the lagoon with troops.

The island was in shambles. Trees were burning and smoke rose in the air. Admiral Spruance's Chief of Staff said, 'they will go in standing up, there ain't a "Jap" left on the island.'

The signal was given and the Amphtracs and landing craft began their slow approach to the lagoon. As they got closer machine gun bullets and artillery shells began to fall.

Soon Amphtracs began to get knocked out. They would get hit and the survivors would jump out and swim to the beach. The tide was out and the landing craft stopped short of the coral reef blocking the path to the beach. Some of the Amphtracs were able to get over the coral reef with their treads and were able to get to the beach. They came under heavy enemy fire.

As the shells came down, the dead piled up. Men swam in chest deep water to the only cover they had, a four foot log wall marking the high tide mark of the island.

Colonel David Shoup swam through the water as machine gun bullets rained down and did the only thing he could do. He took command. He called in for fire support.

Two destroyers fired on the Japanese positions. The shells landed only a couple hundred yards from our Marines. As midday approached less than 1,500 Marines huddled behind the wall from the first wave.

The Marines fought back. Small groups moved forward to destroy pillboxes with flamethrowers and dynamite.

Marine snipers took care of some of the machine gun nests. The destroyers' shells kept the Japanese from rallying and held them at bay.

Colonel Shoup sent a message back "We need help. Situation bad." Medical supplies could not get to the beach because they were on the landing craft.

The Navy continued to hammer the island with dive bombers and shells until night fall. During the night Corpsmen raced to save lives as the Marines dug in.

A pier was used to bring in artillery pieces and other supplies. Shibasaki sent out suicide snipers to make things tougher.

The next morning the reserves came struggling ashore as the snipers picked off men.

Around noon the tide finally lifted and the landing craft hit the beach. Tanks and more men stormed in. The destroyers moved in closer and demolished pill boxes and machine gun nests.

Colonel Shoup moved his force inland, attacked and split the Japanese force in two. Using dynamite, flamethrowers, grenades, tanks, and the M-1 rifle the Marines began to take the upper hand as they struggled for control of Betio. North and South the Marines cleared the island.

Shibasaki prepared for a final assault. He and 300 of his men huddled inside his block house and prepared to fight. He didn't get the chance. The Marines used a bulldozer to push the sand up and blocked the escape routes. Then they poured gasoline down the air vents and dropped in a grenade.

Seventeen Japanese Soldiers and 129 Koreans were taken alive out of the 4,500 there. There is never an easy victory. This November, we remember the 1,300 U.S. Marines that gave their lives, 70 years ago, on a tiny island in the Central Pacific, at the atoll known as Tarawa. ###

Origins:

In 1921, an unknown World War I American soldier was buried in Arlington National Cemetery. Similar ceremonies occurred earlier in England and France, where an unknown soldier was buried in each nation's highest place of honor (in England, Westminster Abbey; in France, the Arc de Triomphe).

These memorial services took place on November 11, the anniversary of the end of World War I at 11:00 a.m., November 11, 1918 (the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month), which became known as Armistice Day.

Armistice Day officially became a holiday in the US in 1926, and a national holiday 12 years later. On June 1, 1954, the name was changed to Veterans Day to honor all U.S. Veterans. In 1968, new legislation changed Veterans Day to the fourth Monday in October. Since November 11 was a date of historic significance to many Americans, in 1978, Congress returned to its traditional date.

Official national ceremonies for Veterans Day center around the Tomb of the Unknowns. To honor these men, symbolic of all Americans who gave their lives in all wars, an Army Honor Guard, the 3rd U.S. Infantry (The Old Guard), keeps day and night vigil.

At 11 a.m. on November 11, a combined color guard of all military services executes "Present Arms" at the tomb. The nation's tribute is symbolized by the laying of a Presidential wreath and the playing of "Taps." ###

Vets Urge Support of Public Question Number 1

To aid these organizations, voters will be asked to approve a Constitutional Amendment on November 5 which will allow Veterans organizations to use the net proceeds from their games of chance to give them greater financial flexibility to pay their bills. The legislation enabling the change, S-87, requires the approval of a Constitutional Amendment, proposed in SCR-11, to become effective. Approval of the Constitutional Amendment will not cause any increase in taxes.

Veterans ask the citizens of New Jersey to support them by voting yes on Public Question Number 1."

Here is the wording of the question that will appear on the Ballot on November 5, 2013: "Do You Approve Amending the (State) Constitution To Allow Veterans Organizations to Use Money from Existing Games of Chance to Support Their Organization." ###

The First United Methodist Church of Hasbrouck Heights gathered during their coffee hour to coordinate Health Kits for the Church World Service and UMCOR.

The Health Kits consisted of necessary items for disaster relief around the world--for those experiencing homelessness and need caused by natural disasters, such as recently experienced during Superstorm-Sandy.

During the summer, the members of the Church donated and collected various items such as combs, tooth brushes, nail clippers, bandages, soap, towels and washcloths to place in the kits to be sent where needed.

At the monthly coffee hour, 50 kits were created and sent to the Church World Service to be dispersed. An enjoyable time and great fellowship followed the making of the kits. Story provided by Kathleen Grazecki. ###

Artful Thinking

By Artie Maglionico • Lodi Historian

Well folks here we are closing in on Thanksgiving Day 2013. I told you way back in my August column that before we knew it the holiday season would be within view and so it is. The month of November puts us on that bumpy road to Christmas and Thanksgiving marks the official start of the season.

As kids growing up on Westervelt Place in the charming little hamlet of Lodi, my cousin Anthony and I used to spend the days leading up to Thanksgiving hanging out at Leto's Chicken Market a few blocks north on Hillside Place.

We'd spend those damp Saturday mornings watching the workers unload a hundred or so plump, ill fated turkeys into a large dimly lit holding pen.

We watched a lot of feathers fly folks, and believe you me the process was not for the faint of heart. Walking among those frantic turkeys was as much a part of our holiday tradition as was walking through a lot of freshly cut Christmas trees.

The only difference was that the trees weren't running for their lives. I can tell you first hand that those wish bones did not come easy. I doubt that even a rabbits foot could have changed the luck of those doomed gobblers. Hey, if you don't believe me ask my cousin Anthony!

Thanksgiving morning, at least, in my household, was not without its share of rituals.

My older brother Eugene and I would race to our television set…a state of the art, high fidelity, 20 inch Olympic (black and white of course) to watch the Laurel and Hardy classic "Babes in Toy Land" better known as the "March of the Wooden Soldiers."

Later we'd be joined my cousins Marie and Cathy who lived upstairs from us and together we'd watch the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade where Santa made his first official appearance. I liked Thanksgiving Day…hey what was not to like?

True, it was viewed by most kids as a stopover on the road to Christmas, but for me it was a comfortable resting place. There was no gift getting so you didn't have to worry about that dreaded let down.

You could stay in your play clothes all day, no Church, you got to eat all of your favorite desserts, and best of all there was no school the next day.

Man you couldn't beat that with a drum stick (pun intended). A kid could stay up late just for the sake of it, however, in my case it was a losing battle. Try though I did I could not resist nature's hypnotic clock. With each tick my eyes grew heavier and heavier while the picture on the television tube grew fainter and fainter until it was gone completely. I'd wake up the next morning between the bed sheets wondering how the heck I let the opportunity slip by. I know what you're saying folks "wow that was one long paragraph!" What can I tell you? It's Thanksgiving …I'm allowed to over indulge a bit am I not?

By Thanksgiving night the Christmas specials were already decorating the air waves.

Back in the mid 50s we only had a few channels to choose from. There were network channels ("stations" as they were called back then) two, four and seven which aired "adult" shows such as Milton Berle, Sid Caesar, and Ernie Kovacs, to name a few.

Nine, Five, Thirteen and later channel Eleven were local stations that aired mainly shows for children.

Channel Thirteen aired a cartoon show called "Junior Frolics" hosted by Fred Styles (Uncle Fred). The program (you Baby Boomers should remember) featured silent, black and white, "Farmer Gray," "Felix the Cat," and "Cocoa the Clown" cartoons. Uncle Fred used to narrate the action for kids who were too young to read the captions. Am I bringing back some lost memories folks? Come on admit it…you remember only too well.

Anyway where was I? Oh yea, the Christmas Specials! My beautiful mother, Lena (a Pesenti gal from Hillside Place) used to enjoy Perry Como so that's what we watched.

I didn't care since I was content to lie in front of the set next to my brother and our dog Dusty who was as full and as sleepy as the rest of us. My father Vito (the oldest of four brothers from Harrison Avenue in Garfield) was already on the couch sawing wood on a cloud somewhere in dream land.

God bless Lena and Vito for making me feel cozy and safe for all those years. How privileged I am to remember them here on the pages of this column and to share my memories with you. You know what folks? I'm going to take a time out to let you do some remembering of your own. Take your time …I'll be waiting for you in the next paragraph.

Welcome back! While you were away Lodi resident Bell Vara shared with me a Thanksgiving memory of her own.

She recalls, as a young student at Columbus school, purchasing a chrysanthemum corsage for her mother and giving it to her on Thanksgiving morning. "Our school used to sell them every year." Recalls Bella "I couldn't wait to see the smile on my mother's face when I gave it to her. She wore it proudly …it was such a beautiful tradition." Bella reminded me of yet another yearly ritual.

One that most of the community took part in and boasted all the fan fare, all the spirit and all the colors of the fall season…The Lodi High School Thanksgiving Day football game. "The game brought everyone out into the brisk autumn air." Remembers Bella "It had a great community feel to it… much Thanksgiving Day pageantry like the Macy's Parade on a smaller scale."

Jim Meurer of Saddle Brook, NJ, has a Thanksgiving day memory that he wants to share with us. He recalls as a child visiting his aunt Millie in Jersey City on Thanksgiving night to take part in a Turkey Sandwich ritual that had become part of the Meurer family tradition.

This one year the turkey was as dry as a bone yet Jim and his siblings had to force it down under the watchful eyes of their parents Bill and Dolly. "We had to eat it and like it." Recalls Jim, "There wasn't enough mayo on the supermarket shelf to make that turkey and Wonder Bread go down easy." Happy Thanksgiving everyone! ###

Big Band Nostalgia Highlights Seniors' Meeting

The classic big bands and swing bands of the 30s, 40s and 50s, and their bandleaders, were the focus of a video presentation at the October 9, 2013, meeting of the Leisure Club. The program was presented by Bill Levy.

More than 80 senior citizens were on hand. The program, "Big Bands in Hollywood Musicals" singled out some of the big bands (a band which has 12 to 25 musicians).

Through movie clips, the members were treated to the performances by some of the better known bands they danced to when they were younger.

The bands were Kay Kyser, Benny Goodman, Glenn Miller, Tom and Jimmy Dorsey, Harry James, Xavier Cugat, Duke Ellington and Cab Calloway. Also seen were songs sung by Ginny Simms, Ish Kabibble, Frank Sinatra, Marion Hutton and Tex Beneke.

The dancing of the famous Nicholas Brothers, who were considered by many the greatest tap dancers of their day, were featured in many of the movie clips.

Bill Levy was born in California, raised on Long Island, and has been a resident of New Jersey for more than forty years. He is a retired special education teacher who now devotes himself to freelance writing and speaking engagements. He went to college with a local resident, attorney Ralph Chandless.

Bill is an author of many books. He has been publishing his humor columns (Levy's Wry) since 1980 and his movie columns "Forgotten Gems" on overlooked/overshadowed vintage films of the 1930s, 1940s, and 1950s for New Jersey's monthly senior publication, Fifty Plus, since 2001.

For the past ten years, Bill Levy has been offering diverse one-hour programs to libraries, seniors, men and women's organizations, and other audiences. These presentations help to bring back memories of classic films, movie stars and TV entertainers. Photo and story by Marie and Pete Gallo Jr. ###

Seniors Enjoy Oktoberfest in Staten Island

Fifty members of the Leisure Club traveled to Staten Island to celebrate Oktoberfest at the LiGreci's Staaten on October 10, 2013. The trip was coordinated by Vice President Kathy Murray. She even arranged to have President Peter Gallo, Treasurer Dorothy Fitzin and herself have a photo taken with host and owner Mike Byrne.

The afternoon started with a luncheon which included two complimentary drinks, a salad, vegetable soup, choice between salmon, sauerbraten and chicken, a dessert, coffee and tea. The meal and service were excellent.

The group enjoyed an outstanding German/American meal and was entertained by the four piece GeeBee's Bavarian Show Band. Aside from playing music that encouraged all to dance; they played familiar songs for all to join in and sing-along to.

Comic Gary Delena, a very talented comedian, had his jokes coming one after another. He was on a roll with humor that best be described as "PG-13." His material was mostly about his family, his experience entertaining our military troops and life experiences. His performance was the perfect climax to a great afternoon out. Photo and story by Marie and Peter Gallo Jr. ###

AARP Members Learn More About Medicare

At the October 11, 2013 meeting of the Central Bergen Chapter #418, AARP the old statement, two is better than one" proved to be true. The program was presented by two individuals but with one common connection - Medicare.

The guest presenters were Ms. Miriam Paub, counselor for the Senior Health Insurance Program (SHIP). Mr. Tunde Akinrolabu, outreach specialist for the Senior Medicare Patrol (SMP) of New Jersey. He works for the Jewish Family and Vocational Servce of Middlesex County.

Ms. Paub discussed the SHIP program. This is a government funded program that provides free and confidential assistance to seniors. SHIP's goals are to help seniors understand their Medicare benefits; help them compare plans and policies and helps them to untangle claims problems. They answer questions about what Medicare covers; what is the patient's responsibility; what is the difference between a Medigap supplemental policy and an HMO; when you can switch from Medicare to an HMO and vice vera; what is long-term care coverage in nursing homes and what is the best prescription drug plan for your needs.

Mr. Akinrolabu explained that the SMP is a federally funded endeavor created to help Medicare and Medicaid beneficiaries prevent, detect and report heath care fraud, waste and abuse. He stressed that health care fraud is an enormous problem and that according to the FBI, health care fraud costs the taxpayers an estimated $60 billion a year. Although the vast majority of healthcare providers are honest, the activities of the remaining few result in wasted funds for the Medicare and Medicaid programs and a loss of quality of care for you.

Mr. Akinrolabu urged all seniors to because more wise health care consumers. He suggested that seniors should read their Medical Summary Notice — stamped "This is Not a Bill" — and look for charges attributed to a service that wasn't received, repetitive billing for the same service and billing for services not ordered by a doctor.

Both Ms. Paub and Mr Akinrolabu gave very informative presentations and were available after the meeting to answer individual personal questions. Story by Peter Gallo Jr. ###

Lodi Fire Prevention Program

On Friday, October 11, 2013, the Lodi Fire Prevention Bureau held an open house at the Kennedy Drive Fire House. Children could practice stop, drop and roll, exiting a window, put out a fire with a fire hose, meet Sparky the Fire Dog, face painting, handouts, etc. The HackensackUMC helicopter AirMed One landed at the neighboring ballfield and gave tours.

The event concluded with an extrication drill. Two victims sat in the front of a "totaled vehicle," with two support EMS behind them. They were covered with protective tarp, while rescue workers cut-out the windshield glass, using the "Jaws of Life" tool set (spreaders and cutters), took off the doors and roof. EMS secured the victims, then took them out of the vehicles.

Once cleared, the vehicle was set afire, and the Lodi Fire Department applied foam to extinguish the blaze. ###

Bus Crashes Into Truck

On Monday, October 7, 2013 at about 10:17 p.m. a NJ Transit Bus #163 traveling north along the Boulevard, crashed into a parked delivery truck across from the Hasbrouck Heights High School.

The deliveryman who was in the back of the van, was thrown back into the street, causing injuries requiring transport to the HUMC.

Responding units included the Hasbrouck Heights Police, Hasbrouck Heights Fire and EMS as well as Wood-Ridge and Moonachie EMS. ###

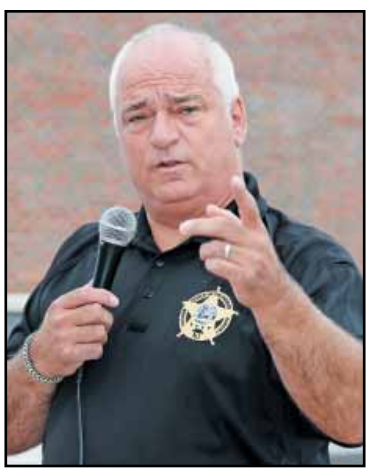
Pet Oxygen Masks Donated to LFFD

Liz and Peter Pezzillo, residents of Little Ferry, recently donated two sets of pet oxygen masks to the Little Ferry Fire Department and the CERT Team on behalf of Companion Animal Advocates (CAA). The masks come in three sizes for large, medium and small dogs/cats. These specially sized masks will enable first responders to deliver oxygen to pets in need and in some cases save their lives.

"People care as deeply about their pets as they do human members of their family," said Christine Devereaux, Vice President of Companion Animal Advocates. "Far too many pets die each year of smoke asphyxiation. While firemen attempt to get pets safely out of burning structures, they are not able to revive them unless they have the proper equipment. These masks work well because they are small, and are designed to fit over snouts. Even birds, hamsters or snakes can be placed inside the masks."

If you are interested in donating a set of oxygen masks please contact Christine at CAA at 201-706-7666, email Christine@CompanionAnimalAdvocates.org, or visit www.CompanionAnimalAdvocates.org

One of the goals of Companion Animal Advocates' humane education program is to make sure that every town in Bergen County is equipped with a kit so that pets are protected in case of an emergency. So far this year, CAA has donated more than 107 sets of pet oxygen masks throughout Bergen and Passaic Counties. Photo provided by CAA. ###



ERPD & Municipal Court Dedicate New Facility

The East Rutherford Police Department dedicated their new Public Safety Headquarters at 117 Stanley Street on Saturday, October 5, 2013.

The program began with the bagpiper Officer Matthew Bucceri and the presentation of Colors by the East Rutherford Police Department Honor Guard and the singing of the National Anthem by Becton Regional High School Student Ayah Suleiman. The Invocation was given by ERPD Chaplain Fr. ST Sutton.

Speakers included Mayor James Cassella, Police Commissioner Joel Brizzi, NJ Senator Paul A. Sarlo, BC Executive Kathleen Donovan, NJ State Police Superintendent Col. Joseph Rick Fuentes, BC Sheriff Michael Saudino, and ERPD Chief Larry Minda.

The event included the unveiling of the PBA Monument which lists the name of every sworn officer that has served East Rutherford since 1906.

The building Cornerstone was dedicated by Municipal Court Judge Hon. George Savino.

Work began on the building on December 1, 2010, and the East Rutherford Police Department and Municipal Court officially moved in at the beginning of this year.

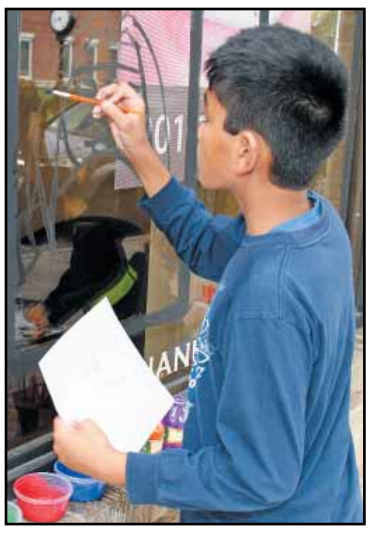
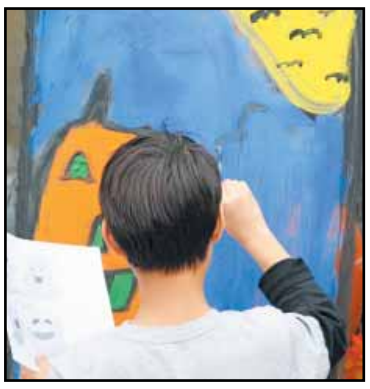
Police Headquarters was initially located within the Borough Hall at 1 Everett Place. In 1963, it was relocated to a 1,800 square foot facility on Grove Street. ###





Painting the Boulevard

Area residents could stroll The Boulevard in Hasbrouck Heights late October where local businesses, in conjunction with the three grammar school PTAs, sponsored the 20th Annual Halloween Window Painting Contest.

Nearly 400 3rd, 4th and 5th Grade students painted a Halloween themed illustration on a space provided by Boulevard businesses on Wednesday, October 16, 2013.

Graphics were judged upon originality and artistic expression. Winners from each grade received 1st, 2nd and 3rd Place Ribbons. All participants received ribbons.

Parents commented, “On behalf of Corpus Christi, Euclid and Lincoln Schools, we would like to thank all of the merchants who participated in our Annual Halloween Window Painting Contest.

This tradition is one that the children look forward to. It is wonderful to watch them as they create their masterpieces while bringing color and life to our Boulevard." This annual event is funded by the Hasbrouck Heights Chamber of Commerce and Bill O’Shea’s Florist. ###
